May 28th and 29th are fast approaching, which reminds us of the hours which have been spent in fashioning red crepe paper into poppies for you and I to wear on our coats on those days. Let us be anxious to meet the auxiliary members with their baskets of poppies. Let us feel it a privilege and an honor to be one of approximately twenty five million Americans to wear a poppy in honor of the heroic war dead. But there is another group of heroes. They are those who came back. They fought for right but were deprived of the right to a normal and vigorous life. They live in hospital beds, they hobble about on crutches or propel themselves by their hands in wheel chairs. They are manufacturers, they make their products through the labor of their own hands, namely the crepe paper poppies. Those who fashioned them cannot walk about the streets to see the product of their own toil. As a poppy is pinned on our coats, let's share what we have with those who gave and asked for nothing.

He Died Too Soon

Of the contributions which Louis Pasteur made to humanity and medical science, the greatest is the one whose value he did not live to see. He died in 1895, but pasteurization of milk—with its untold saving of lives—was not developed until later. Pasteur's research was prompted by a desire to protect the wines of French sailors who complained that on long voyages their wines turned vinegary, a sad state of affairs for a Frenchman.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"What's Your Opinion, Mister?"

Fellow from one of these public opinion polls was in Andy's Garden Tavern, querying Andy's patrons on everything from that "new look" to the next election.

And it occurred to me that there's nothing more typically American than collecting other folks' opinions, as well as giving out with one's own. And from where I sit, it's a mighty healthy habit.

So long as people can discuss both sides of a question that comes up—whether it concerns short skirts versus long, beer compared with cider, or the larger issues of party versus party—we're sure of the individual liberty that has made this country great.

For it isn't differences of opinion that matter. The important thing is tolerance for differences of opinion—whether they affect the right of an individual to vote, to speak his mind, or enjoy a glass of beer. They're all parts of the freedom that we cherish!

[illegible]mes Roche Named Chairman Security Loan Campaign Here

The appointment of James M. Roche, secretary of the Civic and Commerce association in Thief River Falls, as county chairman of the savings bonds division of the U. S. Treasury department, was announced today by Von E. Luscher, state chairman of the advisory committee.

Mr. Roche succeeds Paul A. Lundgren who served as Pennington county chairman from December 1941 through January 1946 during which time eight successful war loan drives were promoted.

In accepting the appointment, Mr. Roche announced Pennington county's sales goal for the Security Loan drive which began on April 15 and will continue through June 30. The goal for savings bond sales, series E, F and G, is $214,000 which includes a separate goal of $135,000 for E bonds. The recent action of the Treasury Department in raising the annual limit on purchases of E bonds by individuals from $5,000 to $10,000 maturity value will provide an impetus to reaching the goal.

With the assistance of Mr. Lundgren and other key bond volunteers, Mr. Roche is organizing committees to conduct the campaign.

"According to opinion polls, the desire for security is first in the hearts of Americans today. What they want is steady employment, reliable income, and a stable economy—not cycles of boom and bust. That is why the best anti-inflation and anti-depression insurance we can have it thrift. America's security is our security and the Security Loan Drive is designed to promote thrift," Mr. Roche stated.

For the period from April 12 to May 1, Pennington county ranked fifth in the state with purchases of Series E, F and G bonds aggregating $35,087 or 16.3 per cent of the county's quota, it was announced in Minneapolis Saturday.

Senior Class Play, "Lost Horizon" to Be Offering Friday

The senior class will present their play "Lost Horizon," Friday, May 14 at 8 p. m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium. The curtain opens on a scene in an exclusive cafe in which four young people are seated at a table discussing the expected arrival of a group of distinguished guests. Playing the roles of these young people are Norma Torgerson, Alan Cabot, Jean Sandberg and John Gullingsrud.

The expected guests are Alice Lind, Barbara Kays, Phillip Jensen, and Loren Borsheim. When they arrive they talk of a mysterious sheet of unpublished music, credited to Chopin. To prove this Rutherford, Loren Borsheim, tells the story told him by Conway, who had been to a Shangri-La, a far-away lamasary in Tibet.

The story unfolds as the curtain opens on the first act. A party of four travelers are brought into the lamasary from the wrecked plane in which they had been kidnapped. They are Conway, an English consul played by Paul Sponheim; Mallinson, the vice-consul, Allen Hanson; Miss Brinklow, a missionary, Jeanette Grinde; Hewitt Flom who plays the American, Bernard.

They are ushered into the lamasary by a Tibetan, Jerry Nelson and welcomed by Chang, a Chinese scholar, played by Gordon Odegaard. Soon they meet other members of this strangely assorted group; Helen Briac, an English girl, Arlene Williams, who claimed to be a student of Chopin; Lo Tsen, a Chinese girl, Joyce Williams, said to have been brought to Shangri-La in 1810. Two serving maids, Ri-Ling, Phyllis Steen and Lashi, Marjorie Swanson, flit in and out.

Conway meets and talks with the venerable High Lama, Allan Hitterdahl, who before he dies appoints Conway to take his place as ruler of Shangri-La. But Conway, torn between his desire to stay with Helen and his loyalty to his friend Mallinson, in a moment of anger leaves to undertake the perilous journey back to civilization.

The group first met in the prologue now reappear to finish the story as Conway had told it.

A large and efficient production staff help to make the play a success. Production committees are headed by Gerry Nelson, stage construction manager; Jane Breznay, advertising manager; Phillip Jensen, circulation chairman; and three property committees under the chairmanship of Maxine Swanson, Ardith Kaisler, and Patsy Long. Patricia Lane is assistant director and Joyce Roller is in charge of the music.

POPPY DAY SET BY LEGION AUXILIARY SATURDAY, MAY 29

Crepe Paper Poppies Are Produced by Disabled Vets, Mrs. Larson Says

Memorial poppies will be worn here on Poppy Day, May 29, in honor of the dead of both world wars, it was announced by the local unit of the American Legion auxiliary. The red flowers will come from Minneapolis where they were made by disabled veterans employed by the auxiliary.

"The poppies are crepe paper replicas of the wild poppies which grow in France and Belgium where so many of the battles of both wars were fought," explained Mrs. Rudy Larson, Poppy Day chairman.

"Each flower is made by hand by a disabled veterans, the paper petals carefully attached to the wire stem and shaped to resemble the blooms with which nature decorated the battle field graves. The work gives the disabled men something interesting to do during the long hours of hospitalization and convalescence. It occupies their hands and minds, helping them get well. It also enables them to earn money, which builds their morale and makes things easier for themselves and families."

Veterans who made the poppies earned the substantial total of $12,509 this year. The money received from the public thru Poppy Day sales have supplied veterans hospitals in Minnesota with many much needed pieces of equipment for the use and entertainment of the patients.

Alfalfa May Become Valuable Human Food

Alfalfa, for many years associated with the livestock phase of farming, may come into its own as a human food crop as science makes further strides in wringing the utmost values out of products of the soil.

Alfalfa some day may be a highly regarded source of human food, Dr. Waldo Semon of B. F. Goodrich company told the National Farm Chemurgic council. He pointed out that protein — a basic requirement in human nutrition — is present in high quality in alfalfa, and said that "when you consider also the minerals and vitamins in hay there is plenty of incentive for working out means of converting it into palatable human food."

As mechanization and scientific operation of farms increase, the threat of overproduction of crops arises, he stated. If crops are continually upgraded to yield much higher quality foods, or to yield superior industrial materials and even luxury items, the farmer need never face a problem of overproduction.

The speaker cited the farm wood lot as a prime example of crop upgrading, in that a few generations ago the timber was marketed merely as firewood, but now brings higher returns through its use in the paper, cellulose, rayon, plastics and "man-made lumber" industries.

Dried-Fruit Industry Limited to Seven Crops

The dried-fruit industry is largely confined to processing of seven crops—apricots, dates, figs, peaches, pears, prunes and raisins. Manufacture of other dried or evaporated fruits is for the most part a means of disposal of lower grades.

Drying of fruits has been most highly developed in California, because of its high fruit production and favorable climate. California produces practically all raisins, dried apricots, dates, figs, peaches and pears, much the larger proportion of all dried prunes and ranks first in dried apples. Apples and some prunes are dried in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Small quantities of various dried fruits are produced in Illinois, New York, Pennsylvania, Texas and Virginia. Sun-drying of fruits is practically confined to California.

Prunes and raisins together constitute about four-fifths of all dried fruit produced. Figs and dates have increased, while peaches and apples have declined relatively. Prewar imports averaged 29,000 tons annually, of which the great bulk was dates, with some figs and currants.

Built on Seven Hills

Lisbon, capital and largest city of Portugal, with a population of half a million, is built on seven hills and commands a view of the valley of the Tagus river. It has one of the finest harbors in Europe, formed by the mouth of the Tagus river, and does a brisk trade in cork and wines. Lisbon is a city of churches, palaces, museums and parks. Sections of the older quarters have preserved all the character of the past in their 18th century houses with windows of iron screens and latticed balconies. The lower part of the city is built on a plan conceived by the Marquis of Pombal after the disastrous earthquake of 1755. The entrance to the city from the harbor side is formed by Black Horse Square, above which rises the town, tier upon tier on its seven hills.

Holds Mysterious Ruins

Cambodia in French Indo-China is famous for the mysterious ruins of its old Khmer civilization. The remarkable and numerous buildings of Angkor of the Middle Ages, featuring careful stonework and intricate, highly artistic sculptures, were discovered in the jungles in 1860. The forest-and-mountain region of Laos, to the north, is even more remote. Most of the Laotians belong to the same racial stock as the Siamese. The men wear wide trousers and long jackets. Typical dress of the women, who coil their smooth black hair into a bun, is a wide striped skirt and soft scarf. French Indo-China has been France's most valuable overseas possession. Fertile in spots, it is one of the leading rice producers of the East. Big rubber, tea and coffee plantations have been developed. The country is larger than Texas and contains valuable resources in minerals and forest products.

Crude Petroleum Formed By Old Bacterial Action

Many attempts have been made to explain the manner in which petroleum is formed in the earth. Early research indicated that most petroleum originates in the remains of plants and animals which have been deposited on the ocean bottom and which then have been buried by layers of mud or sand. High temperatures and pressures originally were thought to contribute the energy required to convert this material into oil. Investigations about 10 years ago proved, however, that oil is formed at temperatures too low to permit this conversion.

Recently, it has been proposed that bacterial action or the energy from the high-speed particles released by radioactivity may play an important role in converting protoplasm, proteins, fats and other complex substances into the constituents of crude oils. Since radioactive conversion was first proposed about 20 years ago, research by the geology department at M. I. T. has shown that there may be sufficient radioactivity in the materials of oil fields to effect this conversion over a period of 10 million to 100 million years.

NATIVE OF ICELAND ADDRESSES BPWC

Veterans Farm Teacher at Goodridge Is Speaker

The Business and Professional Women's club heard Jon Metusalemsson talk on Iceland at their Tuesday dinner meeting. Metusalemsson is veterans agriculture instructor at Goodridge and a native of Iceland.

His listeners were surprised to learn that the total population of Iceland is less than one-fourth of the population of the city of Minneapolis.

He spoke of the average individual's daily life in Iceland, giving a background of statistics revealing the present industrial and economic situation. In speaking of rural living, Metusalemsson said:

"There is no electricity or running water in the rural areas of Iceland, and the average farmer has 5 cows, 7 or 8 horses, and a hundred sheep, with enough chickens for his own use."

The guest speaker described the Icelandic government and indicated the interest in national affairs by the fact that 98 percent of the population voted at the last election. Four parties were represented in the vote.

Mrs. Ellen Peterson introduced the speaker in the absence of program chairman, Mrs. Bertha Karwand.

The club's president, Mrs. Irene Forsberg, presided, and appointed a nominating committee to select a panel of officers to be presented at the annual election in June. On the committee are Violet Langevin, Mrs. Mae Connelly, and Mrs. Florence Anderson.

The June meeting will be the last in this season's activities.

Driving Golden Spike

The historic driving of the golden spike occurred at Promontory, Utah, on May 10, 1869, when the last rails of the Union Pacific and the Central Pacific (now the Southern Pacific) were laid and the tracks were joined to form the first railway line to the Pacific. A spike of California gold and a spike of Nevada silver were driven by distinguished officials. "When the last spike was driven, the blows of the sledge, as well as the speeches marking the occasion, were carried to the East by Telegraph. All over the country whistles were blown, bells were rung, guns were fired, processions were formed and speeches became the order of the day. Congratulations were showered upon officials of the successful companies. Editors joined in a paean of praise. In truth, the completion of the first transcontinental road marked an epoch!" The original Golden Spike now reposes in a bank vault in San Francisco.

Wild Turkey a Sly Bird

Despite a pompous appearance and habit of strutting his dignity before his mate the wild turkey is a shy fellow, seeking protection in dense woods and finding his food in the open wooded areas. Once numerous, they have long since been greatly depleted and today are carefully protected as game birds. It is from this wild species that the legendary domestic "gobbler" came into being. The wild turkey is a ground nesting bird laying from 8 to 17 eggs, cream colored with brownish spots.

U. S. Paper Production Centered in Six States

New York and Michigan led all other states in paper production before the war. Together with Maine, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, and Ohio, the six states produce nearly half of total U. S. production, but their share has declined substantially. On the other hand, relative increases have taken place in some southern and Pacific coast states.

Greatest increase in output has been in paperboard, which approximates half of total domestic production. Newsprint and book paper have had sharp relative declines. The large increase in paperboard output corresponds with increased production of sulphate pulp, its raw material. Per capita domestic consumption of paper and paperboard in 1941 was 363 pounds, five times as much as in 1899 and the highest in the world. The industry carries on extensive research to promote new uses for its products.

Prewar imports of paper average 2.7 million tons annually, nearly all newsprint. About nine-tenths normally come from Canada and Newfoundland.

Flax Aided Painting

The cultivation of flax dates back to the beginning of history. In the early period flax was grown primarily for fiber. While there appears to have been some knowledge of the so-called drying oils, it was not until about the twelfth century, when oil painting was discovered, that a real appreciation of linseed oil and its properties was realized. The flax crop was introduced into the United States about 1620. The history of the crop in this country is the history of the pioneer, especially during the latter part of the 19th and the early part of the 20th century. The increasingly wide usefulness of linseed oil and the fuller appreciation of its essentially exclusive qualities stimulated improvements in the machinery for expressing the oil from the seed. Linseed oil is highly important not only in the industries but also in art. The priceless paintings of the old masters have to a large extent been preserved because of the lasting properties of this oil.

Presidential Emblems

By custom going back to President Hayes, the President has prescribed and used a coat of arms and a seal, but not until 1916 did he prescribe a presidential flag. The flag then adopted by President Wilson had four stars only; this fact, among others, led President Roosevelt to consider a new design, when congress established the rank of five-star admirals and generals. As finally promulgated by President Truman on October 25, 1945, the new coat of arms (which is the basis of the seal and also appears on the flag) shows the eagle in full color instead of all-white, with the head turned to his own right (as in heraldry) and encircled by 48 stars. The number will change automatically upon a change in the number of states.

LOCAL DAIRYMEN PLEDGE PRODUCT PROMOTION HELP

Express Approval of Advertising Program for Dairy Products

Dairymen of this area voted to back their own "Say It With Sales" promotion program for dairy foods. The action was taken at the district dairy rally held at Thief River Falls, Tuesday. The meeting was sponsored by the Minesota Dairy Industry Committee, state branch of the American Dairy Association.

Urging dairy farmers to "keep the bloom in the dairy business," R. S. Ricksham, merchandising director of the ADA cited the opportunities for expansion of markets on butter, cheese, milk and other dairy foods by teh producers and their industry.

"The only thing certain about the future business outlook is its uncertainty," Ricksham declared. "A slack-off in purchase and consumer demand in luxury goods indicates that low anu medium income families are stretching their dollars to meet only essential needs."

Farmers, plant operators, board members, milk haulers, fieldmen and others present at the rally pledged their support in the fund drive for the American Dairy Association. During June a voluntary advertising set-aside of one cent per pound of butterfat will be made from milk checks at dairy plants to cover advertising, merchandising and research activities for the dairy farmers' own year around ADA business building program. Forty states are members of ADA.

The demonstration will be made up of eight varieties of apples, four varieties of crab apples, five varieties of plums, as well as four varieties of cherry plums, two of raspberries, and three of strawberries.

Lloyd Johnson's farm is located about two miles east of St. Hilaire on the north side of the road.

COUNCIL HEARS MANY REQUESTS FOR FUNDS AT SESSION TUESDAY

fifty-foot lot or $5.25 per lineal foot. Stewart was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for the project, and the city attorney was asked to prepare an ordinance amendment providing for including the area in Sewer District 4.

Appearing in behalf of the recreation board, Ole Engelstad called attention to several projects involving cash outlays in conection with providing facilities and equipment for the midget and intermediate baseball teams and girls' softball teams. The council voted to authorize the expenditure of $700.

Orvis Olen, appearing for the municipal band, stated that the council last fall had failed to vote a tax levy for the band fund, giving as the reason its preference to make a transfer for the purpose from the current expense fund. Olen said the fund is now exhausted and the band cannot operate without more funds. The council voted to make available $2,200 for the current year's operations.

Karl Gerstner, Jaycee president, asked that the council underwrite all or part of the cost of the fireworks display ordered for the Jaycee Sports Carnival here July 4 at a cost of $1,000. The council voted to contribute $500, slightly more than last year's allotment for the same purpose.

Also approved was the request of the Red Lake River Development association for an allotment of $300 to aid in financing the river project dedication program July 9 and 10, the total cost of the two-day program being estimated at $3,000.

Appearing in behalf of the local Ministerial association, Rev. D. T. Beadle and Rev. G. S. Thompson urged the council to give early consideration to the urgent need for erection of a chapel and vault in Greenwood cemetery for use in connection with funeral services during the winter months. No immediate action was taken at the meeting.

Nursing as a Vocation Offers Bright Future

With the demand for registered professional nurses reaching its highest levels, those contemplating nursing as a career are asking: "Is this demand only temporary?"

The answer, according to American Nurses' association, a professional organization of nurses, is that the demand for registered professional nurses will increase over the next decade and that the vocational opportunities now offered by the profession are greater than ever.

The general demand for nursing services has been on the increase in recent years, public health provisions under social security programs and veterans' programs are being expanded, and a vast increase of specialized services of nurses is already apparent.

Under the G.I. Bill of Rights, for instance, medical and surgical care is assured to all men and women who served in the armed forces during the war, regardless of whether the disability is due to military or to civilian life. Veterans become eligible for such are upon a statement of their inability to pay for medical care or hospitalization. Since the incidence of sickness increases with age, it is anticipated that the peak for nursing service under the G.I. bill may well be reached in the decade between 1960 and 1970.

Americans Can't Sleep

According to a poll, one-fifth of the people said they have trouble going to sleep at night while one-third say they find it hard to get up in the morning. The chances are that both those who have difficulty going to sleep and those who find it hard to get up suffer from the same cause—poor sleep equipment. Worn-out or faulty mattresses, bedsprings and pillows not only will make it difficult to get to sleep, but also rob the sleeper of the benefits of his hours spent in sleep. He awakens still tired after what should have been enough hours of sleep to become thoroughly rested.

These Electric Farms

Over half of the nation's 5.8 million farms now have electricity, compared with only a third in 1940 and a seventh in 1930.

First coal mined in the U. S. by a white man was near the James river in Virginia, in 1715.

Germans Favor Medical Study

More German university students want to take up medicine than any other profession, according to a American Medical association report. The number of registered medical students in the American zone is 10,714, considerably more than in any other zone. At present many universities do not admit first year medical students. Destruction of many buildings, institutes, clinics, lack of housing and shortage of textbooks are the chief difficulties. The percentage of women students is higher in the Russian zone than in western Germany. In Berlin women constitute 40 per cent of the total, with an absolute majority at the medical and philosophical faculties. In 1932 only 25 per cent of the students were women.

Editorials....

Western Germany, that portion that is occupied by the British, French and Americans, may have a government of its own by the end of the year, and that development should be just as welcome to us as it no doubt will be to the Germans themselves. While the people of this area have been operating under a form of economic self-government for some time, their political liberties have been very much restricted. The hope that western Germany will join with other European powers in checking the westward sweep of communism probably is one of the important considerations in this program. A United States of Europe consisting of Western Germany and Italy, with France, England, Holland, Belgium and Luxemberg, should be able to command respect, especially with the backing of Uncle Sam and a few atom bombs.

Russian diplomats startled the world this week by expressing a willingness to "talk things over" with Uncle Sam, and they probably scored a propoganda victory by their proposal. There is always the possibility of course that they actually have had a change of heart and are suddenly sincere. If that is the case then, as our state department has indicated, our government will be more than glad to meet with the Russians and other interested powers in trying to work out a solution to the many trying world problems. The machinery for such discussions has been set up within the structure of the United Nations. This is all within the realm of possibility. The probability, however, is that the Russians have had no change of heart and that this new, unorthadox approach is merely another attempt to create suspicion and add to the confusion.

Getting sick is always a bad deal and for a farmer getting sick in the rush season is an especially tough break. That's what Hans Harder thought when favorable planting conditions and a siege of bad health came along at the same time. Hans does good job of farming northeast of town and it wasn't pleasant for him to stay in bed when he should have been seeding oats and barley. Then yesterday, all of a sudden, his seeding was taken care of. Neighbors with fourteen tractors, and whatever other equipment was necessary, took over on the Harder farm and gave a practical demonstration of the good neighbor policy. Nothing new in such a story hereabouts. It happens right along. But it's always a good story that gives everybody a lift. Where there are good neighbors life is always a little more cheerful. A round of cheers to all good neighbors.

Tuesday is school election day in the village. There is nothing to indicate that this is going to be an exciting election. As far as we know there are no great issues to divide the community and no opposition group has revealed an intention to "run the rascals out." It probably will be a quiet affair unless something unforseen develops and that is not likely. Nevertheless we urge you to go to the polls and vote. It is always the right thing to do. It will keep you in practice for the heavier voting you will do later in the year. And it will enable you to raise an eyebrow at the lout who always forgets.

Looking Backward

1928—TWENTY YEARS AGO

The Robertson Lumber company took over the Thief River Falls and Goodridge yards of the Winton-Nichols Lumber company. Severn Brandon continued as manager here.—Not one gallon of fuel oil has been consumed in the municipal power plant during the past twelve weeks, the water turbines carrying the entire load.—M. C. Fueling Air Liners

The amount of time required for fueling large planes has long been a serious problem, affecting airline schedules and capacity of fields at busy major airports, just as it was during the war. A new system has been installed at the San Francisco airport. Under the new system a DC-3 airliner with a fuel capacity of 822 gallons can be filled completely in two minutes.

Salad Parade

Salads lead the health parade because in them you eat so many fruits and vegetables before they get a chance to lose their vitamins and minerals. All through the ages people have turned to salads because they craved things fresh from garden and orchard. Besides, certain foods are more attractive and appealing served in their raw state, or in salad form.

Salads may accompany the main course, and then they are served on a side plate, but alongside the main course. If you want to entertain in a special way, the answer is a salad platter or salad bowl. Use fruit or vegetables as your taste dictates.

Don't forget the party or dessert salads which are in a class by themselves. These are full of fruit and even whipped cream; the fairy princesses of the salad world. Serve them for special occasions as a topping to a meal or as a party dish.

Frozen Banana Salad.
(Serves 10 to 12)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 3-ounce packages of cream cheese
2 tablespoons crushed pineapple
½ cup maraschino cherries, cut in quarters
½ cup walnut meats, chopped
1 cup cream, whipped
3 ripe bananas
Crisp greens

Add lemon juice and salt to mayonnaise and stir in cheese. Add pineapple, cherries and nuts; fold in cream. Add bananas; cut in cubes. Turn into tray and place in automatic refrigerator. Freeze until firm, then serve sliced on crisp greens.

Here's a pretty salad that may be served either as a special salad or as an accompaniment:

Ginger Ale Pear Salad.
(Serves 6 to 8)
2 envelopes plain, unflavored gelatin
1 No. 2½ size can of pears
¼ cup maraschino cherry juice
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ cup lemon juice
1¼ cups ginger ale
Few drops red coloring
8 maraschino cherries

Soften gelatin in ½ cup of the cold pear juice drained from can. Bring to a boil ½ cup pear syrup and stir in softened gelatin until dissolved. Add maraschino cherry juice, sugar, lemon juice and ginger ale. If a darker color is desired, add a few drops of red coloring. Rinse a shallow pan in cold water; arrange pear halves, cut side up in bottom. Top each with a cherry. Pour gelatin mixture over pears carefully so as not to dislodge pears. Chill until firm. To serve, cut gelatin into squares with a sharp knife and place on lettuce. Serve with desired dressing.

When you're serving a heavy dinner, there's nothing better than a crisp salad just bursting with vegetables. For example, a chef's salad is about the best choice, or perhaps a cole slaw.

A true chef's salad is composed mainly of some of the salad greens

Tempting Breads

There is no aroma more appetite-provoking than that tantalizing one which comes from the oven in which bread is baking. And what is more of a treat than eating the bread itself?

Piping hot muffins add interest to the simplest supper; hot coffee cake is a delight to both early and late risers, while thick and thin slices alike — as long as they are of homemade bread—make superb sandwiches for school lunches or late snacks.

Many homemakers don't bother to make homemade bread because they think it is a time-consuming procedure. Actually, it's far simpler than mixing a cake or even cooking a vegetable, and the pleasure of it is so great, it's more than worth the little effort.

Orange Oatmeal bread is good when sliced thin for sandwiches. Moist and tender, it keeps its flavor easily and slices readily. The flavor actually improves when the bread is kept for a day before being cut.

Orange Oatmeal Loaf.
(Makes 4-by-7-inch loaf)
¾ cup evaporated milk
½ cup orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 cup quick-cooking oats
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
¼ cup sugar
½ cup chopped nuts
1 egg
½ cup molasses
2 tablespoons shortening, melted

Mix milk, orange juice and grated peel and add to oats. Let this mixture stand for an hour. Sift flour, salt, baking powder, soda and sugar. Add chopped nuts. Beat egg into oatmeal mixture. Add molasses and beat thoroughly. Stir in melted shortening. Add flour mixture and stir just to blend. Pour into a greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for about 50 minutes, or until done.

Pecan Wheat Muffins.
(Makes 12 to 18 muffins)
1 cup sifted whole wheat flour
¾ cup sifted white flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1 egg
¼ cup brown sugar
¾ cup evaporated milk
¾ cup water
2 tablespoons melted shortening
½ cup chopped pecans

Sift first four ingredients twice, returning bran in sifter to sifted mixture. Beat egg, add brown sugar, milk and water. Stir until mixture is dissolved, then add shortening. Stir liquid quickly into dry ingredients. With the last few stirs, add chopped nuts. Pour batter immediately into greased muffin tins. Bake in a hot (400-degree) oven about 20 minutes.

LYNN SAYS:
Flavor's the Thing In Sandwiches

For a tasty as well as a nourishing sandwich, spread sliced luncheon meat with cream cheese mixed with chives. This tastes very special on rye bread.

For a well-seasoned sandwich spread that you can keep in the refrigerator, cream butter and mix with one of the following: sweet pickle relish, horseradish, onion juice or mustard.

Water-Borne Commerce

Water-borne commerce on the Great Lakes and their connecting channels is greater than on any other inland waterway. It is conducted with large vessels, comparable in size to those in ocean service, and in many cases specially designed for the movement performed. By far the major portion of Great Lakes traffic consists of bulk movements of iron ore, coal and coke, fluxing stone, petroleum and products, and grain. These commodities aggregate close to seven-eighths of the total, the rest consisting of sand and gravel, iron and steel, and miscellaneous freight. Under stimulus of the war, domestic commerce on the lakes in 1944 approximated 180 million tons. Packaged freight on the Great Lakes amounts to less than 2 per cent of the total domestic freight movement on the lakes.

Stainless Steel

Stainless steel is a name which is broadly applied to a whole family of alloy steels possessing the ability to resist corrosion without the aid of a surface coating. Besides this advantage, some stainless steels are much harder than ordinary steel and other types are very much stronger. Some will resist strong acids. Others are valuable because they retain their strength at very high temperatures. Others will not tarnish under the most corrosive atmospheric conditions. One important type of stainless steel contains 18 per cent chromium and 8 per cent nickel. This steel has been widely used in building trains, buildings, food handling equipment and kitchenware.

First blind person to serve as a member of the U. S. Senate was Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma.

Prowler Track Men Edge Out G. Forks In No. Valley Loop

Coach Quentin Jones' well-balanced Prowler track team produced a minor surprise on Friday when they outpointed the Grand Forks Maroons, 53 to 49½, to win the North Valley Conference track and field championship in the tourney held in the Memorial stadium at Grand Forks. Following the Prowlers and the Maroons in the team standings were Devils Lake, 28½; Crookston, 27; Grafton, 22; and East Grand Forks, 15.

While the Grand Forks athletes outscored the Prowlers on first place points, having four firsts to the local's three, it was the better team strength of Coach Jones' squad that provided the blue-and-gold with their triumph. Scoring firsts for the Prowlers were captain Dick Davidson, in the 440-yard run, and Al Williamson in the high jump and the high hurdles.

Favored by near-ideal weather conditions, the athletes made a shambles of the conference records, shattering eleven of the previous marks. Records which withstood the onslaught were the 100-yard dash and 120-yard high hurdles, all the other marks being bettered.

Dick Davidson, in winning the 440-yard run, broke his old mark of 57.1; and Al Williamson's high jump of 5 feet, 5 inches, bettered Cliff Aase's old record of 5 feet, 1½ inches. Other records placed into the conference annuals were Cy DuCharme's low hurdle mark; Grafton's Gerald Goetz lowering the mile run record; Crookston's stocky Dave Pilkey breaking the 220-yard dash record; John Edwards, Grafton's half-mile star, beating Lloyd Hallada's old mark by more than two seconds; Grand Forks' John Bennett getting a record in the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, 10½ inches; Bradley Ford, of Grand Forks, surpassing Don Wheelhouse's old pole vault record; Grafton's Dennis Vogelad tossing the discus for a distance of 122 feet, 4 inches; and East Grand Forks' half-mile relay team, consisting of Schue, McCracken, Kavadas, and Thompson, pared the old record.

The Prowler's Al Williamson, with firsts in the high hurdles and high jump, and a second in the low hurdles, was the meet's individual high scorer, having fourteen points. Lloyd Hallada, Grand Forks broad jumping and shot-putting star, was greatly handicapped in the shot-put, the only event in which he competed, by a cast on his right foot. Hallada was injured in the Sioux Relays last week.

The summaries:

100-yard dash: won by Ron Thompson, Grand Forks; 2nd, Dave Pilkey, Crookston; 3rd, Eddie Fortin, Devils Lake; 4th, John Bennett, Grand Forks; 5th, Don Kavadas, Grand Forks. Time—10.2.

South Africa Diamonds

South African diamond fields are the most famous in the world. While diamonds formerly were mined in Arkansas, there are no mines now producing there. United States is the leading consumer of diamonds, securing most of them from South Africa and Brazil. These diamonds are 85 times harder than any other gem.

THIEF RIVER FALLS BALL TEAM OPENS PLAY AT PLUMMER

Four League Tilts Are Scheduled for Season Openers Sunday, May 16

The eight-team Northern Minnesota Baseball League will open play on its schedule on Sunday afternoon, May 16th. The defending champion Crookston Pirates, who are heavily favored to repeat as league champions, will meet the Winger nine on the Crookston diamond. The St. Hilaire Saints, last year's runners-up, will be host to the young Oklee team. Erskine will meet the Red Lake Falls club at Red Lake Falls; and Thief River Falls will travel to Plummer for a game against Ray Ste. Marie's Red Sox.

The league champion Crookston Pirates have been reorganized for this season, having a new team manager and new business staff. Vern Peltier, who guided the team to the league title last season and into the state tournament, resigned and is now with the Eldred team in the Red River Valley league.

Replacing Peltier as manager the Pirates have engaged Bill Lakics, a former member of the Superior Bue in the Northern League. Lakics, a resident of Crookston, was released by the Superior club last June because of an ankle injury, but it is reported that the ankle has mended and that he will be able to play for the Pirates, giving Crookston additional infield and pitching strength.

Representatives from Plummer, Oklee, St. Hilaire, Red Lake Falls, and Thief River Falls were in attendance at a league meeting held at Red Lake Falls on Monday night, and at which time a constitution and by-laws for the league was discussed and adopted.

Crookston, Winger, and Erskine failed to have representatives at the meeting, but it is expected that the league directors for those clubs will add their acknowledgment to the league constitution. The eligibility of various players was brought up for discussion, but, according to the league rules adopted, the matter of eligibility is left to the discretion of the league's arbitration board.

DISTRICT 31 H. S. TRACK AND FIELD MEET SATURDAY

Prowlers Will Defend Title in Tournament in Grand Forks Stadium

Coach Quentin Jones' Prowlers, recent winners of the North Valley Conference championship, are favored to successfully defend their 31st district track and field title at the tournament that will be held at Grand Forks' Memorial stadium on Saturday.

The well-balanced blue-and-gold squad, although conceding points to East Grand Forks' Cy DuCharme in the low hurdles and 220-yard dash, and to the Green Wave's Frank Goodrich in the shot put; and to Crookston's Dave Pilkey in the 100 and 220-yard sprints, will have too much all-round strength for East Grand Forks and Crookston, the two teams expected to provide the most opposition.

Depended upon to pile up points for the locals will be Dick Davidson in the 440-yard run; Al Williamson and Keith Rosengren in the hurdle events and the high jump; Al Cabot in the mile run; Bob Larson in the broad jump and shot-put; Palmer Ronholm, Harley Wagner, and Brian Walker in the discus; Jack Winter and Ralph Engelstad in the sprints and as members of the relay team.

District track records that are in jeopardy of broken on Saturday are Bill Ericson's 220-yard dash mark, which may be beaten by Dave Pilkey; the mile run mark of Crookston's John Lavely; the low hurdle record set by the Prowlers Johnny Hanson last year; and Frank Goodrich's shot-put mark may be bettered.

31st District Track and Field Records

Shrine Oriental Band to Perform in Minneapolis

The colorful Oriental band of Thief River Falls, numbering nearly 25 men, will perform at the convention of the Midwest Shrine Council to be held Friday and Saturday in the Minneapolis Auditorium. The council comprises an area including Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Western Iowa, Western Wisconsin, and the provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan in Canada.

Firemen Are Summoned on Sunday and Tuesday

The fire department was summoned Tuesday morning to the James Mullen residence at 210 LaBree av. S., where mops and other articles in a closet caught fire, apparently from spontaneous combustion. Damage was slight. A blaze Sunday in electric light poles next to the bulk oil storage tanks at the power house was extinguished after causing small damage.

Rapid Growth of Guernsey

America with characteristic energy has selected and imported from Guernsey island, over a period of years, 13,000 head of Guernsey cattle. From this relatively small number has developed a population of registered Guernseys now estimated at a half million. Registration of calves each year is more than 13 times the total number of cattle imported.

SOFTBALL SEASON TO OPEN MONDAY AT FAIR GROUNDS

Oens and Bridgemans Teams Will Tangle in First City Loop Tilt

The City Softball league will open play under the lights Monday night, May 17th, with the city champion Oen's meeting the Bridgeman's. The game is slated to begin at 8:30 P. M. The Oen's, with their ace pitcher Milt Reierson on the mound, is rated as the favorite to win their first game. The Bridgeman's team is composed of players from south of town, the former Rocksbury team, and manager Jim Engelstad reports that the club is anxious to cross bats with the city champions.

On Tuesday night, May 18th, the Poppler's Furniture nine will meet the Middle River team; and on Wednesday night Hilo Hanson's Hudson Motors team will play Gaynor Eide's Eagles team. The first round will be completed on Thursday night when Ardel Robinson's Northern Chevrolet squad plays the Viking team.

The softball diamond at the Fair Grounds has been rebuilt, and, with the addition of another light standard, should provide an ideal playing field. League president Fred Wengeler stated that the team managers, particularly the managers of the teams here in the city, should notify their players to appear at the Fair Grounds on Friday evening, bringing rakes and hoes, so that the final clean-up of the grounds can be made.

The week's schedule:
May 17th, Oen's vs. Bridgeman's.
May 18th, Poppler's Furn. vs. Middle River.
May 19th, Hudson Motors vs. Eagles.
May 20th, Northern Chev. vs. Viking.

LANGEVIN ATTENDS N. W. FIRE SCHOOL

20th Annual Event in St. Paul Attracts 500

In company with 513 other firemen, Fire Chief Roy Langevin attended the 20th annual Northwest Fire School May 3 to 5 at the state office building in St. Paul.

Governor Luther W. Youngdahl addressed the gathering, calling attention to the fact that in 1947 112 Minnesota persons lost their lives in fires, and that the property loss totaled $9,000,000. A group of nationally recognized authorities on firefighting also spoke at the school.

All types of fire extinguishers as well as various kinds of firefighting equipment were also demonstrated.

George Lockwood, chief of the Minneapolis fire department and chairman of the committee on firemen's training, discussed the possibility of putting the training work under the direction of the University of Minnesota, which would make the course eligible for federal aid.

A Job of Coaching

N. (for Noris) Quentin Jones has turned in another of his fine track-coaching jobs this spring, with his squad winning the North Valley Conference track championship and being the heavy favorites to repeat as the district titleholders in the tourney being held on Saturday. Building a championship track squad isn't anything unusual for Jones, for the likeable Prowler track mentor coached a number of district and regional track winners while he was at Park Rapids in the 1930's. Jones joined the local faculty in 1943 and a year later he had guided the Prowlers to a district track championship. Since that time the locals have been a "power" in the district, regional, and conference track meets.

This year, though, coach Jones was forced to call upon all of his track magic to keep the Prowlers on the top rung. By graduation he lost last year's co-captains, Les Vigness, the district and region's 100 and 220-yard champion, and Johnny Hanson the district and regional high and low hurdle winner. In addition, Morris "Mouse" Higinbotham, the district record-holder in the high jump and pole vault, moved out of town.

That meant that the Prowlers would have to develop boys who could pick up the points, about thirty-five points, that that trio was accustomed to pile up for the locals. That the Prowlers have been developing these boys is evident by the manner in which the squad has been performing. They trailed the Grand Forks Maroons in the Beaver Relays and the Sioux Relays, but last week in the conference meet, they pulled ahead of the powerful maroons, and this week, in the district, they should gain a comfortable victory.

Yes, Jones deserves a bow.

The League Opener

Manager Clarence Rasmussen will take his untested city baseball club to Plummer on Sunday afternoon for their opening game in the Northern Minnesota baseball league schedule. The cold weather, plus the fact that the Fair Grounds diamond is under reconstruction, has handicapped the local club in their workouts, and the result is that the team will take the field on Sunday without having engaged in a warm-up game.

Rasmussen plans on using Stan Cockrell at first base, Babe Paulson at second, Blackie Stephens at shotstop and himself at third. The outfield will probably find Phil LeGault, Swede Lund, and Nicky Carlson or Owen Korsmo as the starter. Don Perkins, a graduate of the Legion's junior team, will perhaps get the nod as the opening game pitcher. Al has been troubled by a sore arm the past ten days and he has been forced to ease off on his throwing. The catching for Sunday's game will be ably done by Berdeen Norness or Merle Carlson.

Prospects for a local win are quite dim, for the Plummer Red Sox will be able to put an all-veteran team on the field. Ray Ste. Marie, the Plummer manager, will play third base with Jesse DuChamp at short, Dean Schoenauer at second, and Gene Holman at first base. Leroy Westerlund will catch the side-arm slants of George Saunders; and Wally DuChamp, Gus Craft, and Otis Miller are billed to patrol the outfield. That's a pretty rugged lineup for the locals to bump up against in their first game.

Just like the World's Series

If you haven't witnessed the JayCees midget baseball program in progress, its worth your while to stop by at the East Side diamond when the teams are playing. The teams, and there are eight clubs in the midget league, are well-matched and the interest that the boys generate is pretty intense. There are a number of nifty ball players among the various teams, but what's most impressive is the poise and action of the pitchers. They all look like "big leaguers", for they have the proper stance, go into a wind-up, and have the "kick" and follow-through of the pro's. Pitchers that have been especially impressive have been Stan Rosengren, Wayne Kataska, Leroy Aasland, Roger Williamson, Bob Helgeland and Jack LaSalle.

The East Side diamond, trough should have a "skinned" infield for that would add to the confidence of the youngsters as they cover ground balls. And another diamond, probably at the Northrop, should be provided, for things are a bit congested at the East Side.

Note to Sportsmen.

Don't forget the date that you have with Ole Ness and John Anderson at the golf club north of the city this evening. The purpose of the gathering, and you should be there by seven or seven-thirty, is to make the preliminary preparations for the fish-rearing pond that is one of the sportsman's club's conservation projects. Make a memo for tonight at 7 o'clock.

STATE'S TRAFFIC DEATHS SOAR; 32 DIE IN 19 DAYS

State's Safety Record Suffers Setback with 39 April Fatalities

Thirty-three traffic fatilities in 19 days have given Minnesota's statewide traffic safety efforts the worst setback of the year.

The 33 deaths occurred from April 17 to May 5, with 22 of them all bunched in the last 14 days of April and 11 in the first 5 days of this month. They brought April's motorist and pedestrian fatilities to 39, as compared with 33 in April of 1947, the first month to show lost ground as compared with the previous year.

At the end of 1948's first quarter, January, February and March traffic deaths totalled 84, or 46 under the 130 total for the same three months of 1947. "The chances looked good for a splendid traffic safety record in our state's drive to "Save 400 Lives in 1948", said Ray Hannah of Stillwater, chairman of the Minnesota Editors' Safety Committee. "Then came this shocking toll of deaths in late April and early May—teaching us all perhaps that, whether as safety workers or just individual motorists and pedestrians, we can't take anything for granted in traffic and we can't afford to relax our vigilance for a minute."

Eleven of the April traffic deaths were pedestrians, most of whom brought death to themselves by their own failure to follow safe-walking rules.

Six last month were killed in collisions with railroad trains. One couple died near St. Cloud when their car stalled on railroad tracks; a Minneapolis car disregarded the "stop" and was hit by a train; at Taopi, Melrose and Stewartville grade crossings collisions took one life each.

At least nine April motorists died when they ran off the road because their cars went out of control travelling at excessive speeds. In all but one of this type of fatal crashes in April, the cars turned over killing at least one of the occupants. The other crashed into a tree with fatal impact.

More than 70 per cent of 1947 automobile accidents occured on dry pavement. Drive Carefully

WORLD MOVES TO IKE'S DOOR...All kinds of people have scratched their heads industriously in an effort to find any latent symbolism in this picture of a moving man carrying a globe into the New York home which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife will occupy when he assumes his duties as president of Columbia university. But, withal, it remains just a picture of a man carrying a globe into Ike's new abode.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

By Arthur Naftalin

This Friday will be an important day in the history of Minnesota Democratic - Farmer - Labor Party. The tempetuous struggle for control of the Party comes to a head at the 87 county conventions scheduled for that day.

Regular DFL'ers claim a smashing victory over the left-wing faction that has been promoting Henry Wallace's candidacy through a third party. But the left-wing has advised its followers, even though defeated in precinct caucuses, to attend the county conventions anyway.

The result may well be some heated skirmishes in a number of county conventions. With exception of Lake county, in all cases where precinct caucuses were held, the regular DFL'ers claim their forces scored a clear victory.

In the four-week period that remains before the state DFL convention in Brainerd on June 12, there may be some lively skirmishing over whether Minnesota's delegation to the national Democratic convention should support President Truman or be pledged to some other candidate.

There is growing interest in the candidacy of Supreme Court Justice William C. Douglas, whose birthplace happens to be in Otter Tail county, Minnesota. A Students for Douglas group at the University of Minnesota has been buton-holing delegates to the county convention urging them to support Douglas as a "native son."

At the present time, the best guess is that the state DFL convention will send on uninstructed delegation to Philadelphia.

The big convention fight at Brainerd will come over the seating of the Hennepin county delegation. If regular Democrat-Farmer-Laborites are in control, there is little question but what the regular Hennepin convention delegation, which will include Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis, will be seated. If, as the result of an upset, the Third Party group is in control, the Third Party delegation will be seated.

In any event, a likely development is the holding of a separate convention by which ever group does not control the Brainerd meeting. The Third Party leadership has served notice that, come what may, the folowers of Henry Wallace will not remain in the Democratic Party.

The interest in Harold Stassen's campaign for the Republican Presidential nomination shifts next to Oregon's preferential primary on May 21. Stassen chalk up another victory here, thus strengthening his bid for the nomination.

Observers are puzzled as to who won the Ohio primary, Stassen or Taft. Stassen took nine of the 23 contested seats, and his forces do not admit the result was a setback, but the Taft camp is equally insistent that the outcome was to its advantage.

In any case, Stassen's claim that he now has 40 certain votes in the convention, if taken at face value, indicates clearly that he has a firm hold on the No. 1 contender's spot. Stassen's bid is reenforced by the latest Gallup poll which shows him leading with 31 per cent of the popular vote to 29 per cent for Dewey, who is in second place.

The current fracas over the DFL's future has aroused renewed interest in the movement to reestablish the Presidential preferential primary in Minnesota. Several key legislative leaders are already pondering such action for the 1949 session.

The fight for party control at the precinct level also raised many questions about the effectiveness of the whole precinct-caucuses procedure. It is no secret that, in most sections of the state, the caucuses are disregarded altogether and that the procedure has not brought about more democratic control of the major parties.

Perhaps 1949 will be the year when a thorough, intensive overhauling of Minnesota's election laws will be accomplished. They are in miserable shape, and should have a complete overhauling.

SEEK AND YE SHALL FIND

Over a period of about a year nine bones believed to have been parts of mastodons 30,000 years or more ago, have been unearthed in a gravel pit east of Austin. One is a tooth; another seems to be the petrified tip of a huge tongue. Latest find is a tusk 59 inches long. Scattered all over the vacant house of a deceased doctor in St. Paul were found fruit jars crammed with currency in various denominations, totaling between $30,000 and $40,000.

LAMINATED RAFTERS
NORTHERN WOODWORK CO.
They are made for Round Roofed Barns, Machine Sheds and other buildings, any size, and run from foundation to peak in one solid piece. Laminated Rafters are strong because the grain of the wood runs parallel to the face at all points. They are made with moisture-proof glue, and sufficient pressure to absolutely weld the pieces in one solid unit. This gives strength without great weight. Thus, they are very easily put up and save you much costly labor. A special connector and bolt is used which gives the strength of six ordinary half-inch bolts! These and other features which we will be glad to explain to you make these the newest thing in rafters. See us for an estimate on the building you need.

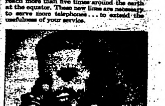
We're spending $400,000 each week on new telephone plant to improve service in Minnesota
TO KEEP SERVICE GOOD and to improve it, we are spending an average of $400,000 a week for new telephone construction in Minnesota.
This sum breaks all previous records for size. But it must be spent to put in the new switchboards, dial equipment, lines and buildings needed to provide steadily improving service.
And this year's program won't finish the job, by any means. Similar large scale construction, costing many millions of dollars, will have to be continued for several more years if we are to give you the kind of service you want—and as much of it as you want.

FIVE TIMES AROUND THE WORLD—The 137,000 miles of wire in new cable alone that is being placed in Minnesota this year would reach more than five times around the earth at the equator. These new lines are necessary to serve more telephones . . . to extend the usefulness of your service.



WHAT YOU PAY US each month to enjoy day to day use of the telephone covers the cost of providing that service—plus a few cents in earnings. But money to build new plant must come primarily from investors willing to put their savings in the telephone business. That's why reasonable earnings are all-important—if we are to attract the money to pay for vitally needed new construction.

Pursuant to Notice, duly published, providing for conducting a hearing in the matter of the application of Harold DeMars for a special permit to allow the operation of a retail grocery store in the building now located on Lots 21-24, Block 3, Red Lake Rapids Addition to the City of Thief River Falls, the City Council met in special session in the Council Chambers in the Auditorium and Municipal Building on April 19, 1948, the meeting being called to order at eight o'clock P. M. with Aldermen Hall, Bredeson, Fuller, Gjernes, Hellquist present and Alderman Stanbridge absent.

Alvin Anderson, residing at 102 Markley Avenue North appeared before the Council and called attention to the fact that there were no stop signs on Markley Avenue entering on to First Street and suggested that such signs be placed as a safety precaution, due to the proximity of the School Zone and the matter was taken under advisement by the City Council.

E. J. Harsen of the local Chapter of National Aeronautics Association was also present and detailed various items of improvements which were considered necessary in connection with the operation of the Municipal Airport. It was stated that an Engineer of the Department would be present soon and it was suggested that members of the Council meet with him at such time with the view of securing a certain amount of federal aid in making such improvements.

The Council then proceeded with the matter of the hearing in connection with operation of a grocery store on Crocker Avenue North by Harold DeMars. Objectors to the proposed operation were present and presented their arguments against the granting of the permit. Others favoring the operation were present and stated their approval, orally and by letter. Alderman Hall then introduced a motion that the application be approved and granted and that special permit be issued for the operation of such store to the applicant therefor. Alderman Hellquist seconded the motion and the same was thereupon by unanimous vote taken by roll call, duly passed and adopted.

Thereupon the meeting was declared adjourned.

ALFRED BREDESON,
President of the Council.

Attest: P. G. Pederson,
City Clerk.

Pursuant to legal notice, duly published, that the City Council would receive bids for the purchase of Two Hundred Fifty Thousand ($250,000) Dollars of the Negotiable interest bearing coupon, Electric Light and Power Plant Bonds, of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, being dated July 1st, 1948 and maturing serially three to twelve years from their date, the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, convened in the Council Chambers in the Auditorium and Municipal Building on April 30th, 1948. The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock P. M. Alderman Hall, Bredeson, Stanbridge, Gjernes and Hellquist were present. Alderman Fuller was absent.

No sealed bids were received for the purchase of the City's bonds. Alderman Hall then moved that the Council proceed on an auction basis to hear the various bidders present. Certified checks in the amount of 2% in accordance with Notice for Bids were filed by a representative of Allison-Williams Company, Minneapolis; Juran & Moody, St. Paul; Piper, Jaffray & Hopwood, Minneapolis, J. M. Dain & Company, Minneapolis and Kalman & Company, Minneapolis. Certified check was also filed by a representative of First National Bank, Minneapolis; First National Bank, St. Paul; N. W. National Bank, Minneapolis; C. S. Ashmun Company, Minneapolis and Shaughnessy & Company, Inc., St. Paul, also by Northern State Bank, Thief River Falls, representing Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, Chicago. Bidding began at an interest rate of 2½% and terminated with a final bid of par and 2% by Kalman & Company, Minneapolis, Minnesota; First National Bank of Minneapolis, and Associates and a stipulation that the legal expense to the City would not exceed the sum of $300.00, which would include the printing of the bonds.

Alderman Gjernes then introduced a resolution accepting the bid of Kalman & Company, Minneapolis, Minnesota; First National Bank, Minneapolis and Associates at their bid of Two Percent, the City agreeing to pay the sum of $300.00 and no more towards the expenses of legal opinion and the printing of the bonds and moved the adoption of such resolution. Alderman Hall seconded the motion and on the question of adoption of the same the following Aldermen voted Aye: Hall, Bredeson, Stanbridge, Gjernes, Hellquist. The following Aldermen voted Naye, None. The resolution was thereupon, by the President then presiding, declared passed and adopted.

The firm of Art Greenberg Sheet Metal Works advised that they would be unwilling to furnish a 20-year guarantee in connection with their proposal for repair of the Auditorium roof for the reason that it was not of the proper area, but that his company would furnish a company guarantee covering a period of 10 years. Alderman Gjernes moved that such 10 year Company guarantee be approved and accepted. The motion was seconded by Alderman Hall and the same was duly adopted by unanimous vote.

In connection with certain improvements required at the Municipal Airport of the City, the City Engineer presented an estimate of the cost of seeding, fertilizer, erosion control at $1742.90, plus extras for engineering of 10%, $174.30, or a total of $1917.20 and suggested that application could be made to the State of Minnesota for sharing the costs, whereby the City would receive aid to the extent of 66 2/3%. Alderman Hellquist introduced a resolution appropriating and setting aside the sum of $1920.00 for carrying out such improvements and directing the filing with the State of Minnesota of an application for authority for the expenditure of funds for such purpose and moved the adoption of such resolution. Alderman Gjernes seconded the motion and the resolution was by a roll call vote duly and unanimously passed and adopted.

In the matter of the application of Andrew Norby for a special permit to allow the remodeling and moving of a building for residential purposes, to be placed on Lots 23-24, Block 68 of the Original Townsite, and hearing thereon which had been duly advertised for this time, no objectors to such special permit were present to be heard and the application was found to be accompanied by waivers of objections by more than 75% of property owners within a radius of 300 feet of intended location. Alderman Stanbridge moved that such application be approved and granted and that special permit be issued therefor. The motion was seconded by Alderman Hall and the same was duly and unanimously passed and adopted.

Public contractors bonds in connection with current contracts were presented and were approved as to form and execution by the City Attorney: Art Greenberg Sheet Metal Works, with New Amsterdam Casualty Company of New York as surety in the amount of $1644.80 in connection with roofing job on City Auditorium; Minneapolis Bridge Construction Company, with Continental Casualty Company, Chicago, Illinois, as surety in the amount of $27,950 in connection with contract for engine foundation for electric utility and Nolland-Eby Company with National Surety Corporation of New York as surety in the amount of $34,855.50 in connection with contract for installation of Third Street Feeder Main. Alderman Hellquist moved that such surety be approved and accepted, which motion was seconded by Alderman Gjernes and the same was unanimously adopted.

Alderman Hellquist then moved that the meeting adjourn. The motion was seconded by Alderman Stanbridge, carried and the meeting was declared adjourned.

ALFRED BREDESON,
President of the Council.

BODIES OF INDIANS DISCOVERED NEAR R. L. RIVER OUTLET

Two Trappers Found after Disappearance November 8 Last Year

The badly decomposed bodies of two Red Lake Indian trappers, missing since Nov. 8, 1947 were found in the treacherous muck along the Red Lake river late Sunday, May 2, 176 days after they vanished while making a boat trip down the river, says the Bemidji Sentinel.

Peru Farver, superintendent of the Red Lake Indian Agency, said the bodies were discovered by a searching party about 4½ miles west of the outlet bridge on the south side of the stream less than 300 feet from the banks.

The superintendent stated the searching party was headed by John Neadeau, a relative of one of the missing men and Frank Defoe, both of Red Lake. The search came to a successful conclusion when the two men came across the feet of one victic sticking out of the mud while the knee of the second man was also slightly exposed. They were lying on their backs with hands folded on their chests as if they had stopped to rest, Farver said.

Indian Agency officials said death was apparently due to exposure and declared the finding of the bodies was little short of miraculous due to the fact that the very same area had been scoured scores of times since the men disappeared.

On the afternoon of Nov. 8 1947, Neadeau, Jourdian and Paul Mason, started down the river to return two trapper friends to the village before cold weather set in. When they failed to return on Sunday morning a large searching party aided by planes, set out to comb the area. Late the following day the lifeless body of Mason was found in the boat.

Although the two missing men had apparently been drowned less than 300 feet from the spot where the boat was found, searchers at that time were unable to find any trace of them.

Tuesday, May 4, the brother of one of the missing men decided to resume the search in a Bemidji plane piloted by Ralph Moberg.

Training Course for Practical Nurses to Open July 5 in St. Paul

A second class for the training of practical nurses will get under way July 5 at the Charles T. Miller Hospital in St. Paul Dr. Peter Ward, Administrative director, announced.

There will be places for 30 students in the new class and registration is to be closed about June 1. Miller Hospital's school of practical nursing was launched in January with 20 students enrolled. Because of the success of the venture the second class is being started.

Upon completion of the one year training period, students are eligible to be licensed practical nurses under a state law.

Applicants must be between 18 and 35 years of age. Women over 35 will be considered on a basis of individual aptitude and adjustment, according to Miss Thelma Dodds, superintendent of nursing, who has developed the course.

Two years of high school is a minimum requirement but the high school graduate will be given preference. Exceptions for the eighth grade graduates will be made on a basis of aptitude, age and experience of the individual.

Full maintenance, uniforms and books will be provided. Students live in an attractive residence where there are modern bedrooms and attractive recreational facilities. A recreational program for the students is also planned.

For further information about the July class write Miss Thelma Dodds, superintendent of nurses, Miller Hospital, St. Paul, Minnesota.

MOTHER NATURE KIDDING AGAIN

Two sets of twins within a year is the major accomplishment of a Guernsey cow on the William Grenz farm near Lake Benton—bulls the first time, heifers the second. Twenty customers of Bakke's coffee shop in Warren had a shower for his expectant-mother cat, with lunch and all the trimmings. Transplanted with some flowers last fall, a tomato plant produced regularly all winter in the Joseph Martin home at Worthington.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Joseph H. Ball

The very difficult and grim problems facing the United States as a result of the international situation were brought into sharp focus by a $3,199,100,000 appropriation bill for military aviation which the Senate Appropriations Committee reported out April 29, and which the Senate was sure to pass in a few days.

In order to get new aircraft for both the Air Force and the Navy air arm underway immediately, Congress put the aircraft procurement items for 1949 in a supplemental bill, adding to it the air items in the three billion dollar increased defense estimates the President recommended recently, and 822 millions to provide a 70-group Air Force.

Actually, the bill only appropriates $808,100,00 cash for the Air Force and $315,000,000 cash for the Navy's aid arm, but it authorizes contracts totaling $2,273,000,000. The contract authority is the same as an appropriation, except that the money is not spent immediately and Congress will make the cash appropriations as the contracts become payable, most of it in subsequent fiscal years.

The 39.5 billion dollar budget first submitted by the President included 11 billion for defense in fiscal 1949. The new program, already certain of passage, will increase the 1949 expenditures to more than 13 billion. But that is only the beginning. Because it takes time for contracts to be let and production to begin, the full impact of the new defense program will not be felt for one or two years.

Defense expenditures in fiscal 1950 will jump to more than 15 billions and in 1951 to around 20 billions under the new program. Exclusive of defense and foreign aid, the national budget for next year totals 24 billions. With ERP expenditures due to hit their peak in 1950 and with rumors of an arms lend-lease for western Europe to total 3.5 billions a year it is difficult to see how the federal budget can be held below 50 billions in a year or two. Unless there is some break, it is likely to go higher.

The impact of such expenditures on the national economy will be terrific. It is hard to see how we can avoid either financing or much higher taxes, and it may necessitate price controls, rationing and allocation—in short, the kind of regimentation and controls that go with a war economy. Some for of selective service is a sure part of the program.

In other words, in order to contain communist aggression and fight the "cold war" with Russia, the United States may go a long way toward adopting the very totalitarian controls which Russia advocates. It is not a pleasant prospect. But neither are the alternatives very pleasant.

1. We could adopt the Wallace appeasement policy toward Russia, which has proven unworkable and destructive of freedom time after time in the past two years.

2. We could abandon all our commitments abroad and prepare only to defend America. But that also would probably mean extreme regimentation here once Russia had overrun Europe.

3. We could fight a preventive war at once, while we have the atomic bomb and Russia presumably does not. The big problem would be whether our freedom would survive such a war and what we could do with the victory after we had won it.

It is the toughest dilemma the nation has ever faced.

New Minnesota Highway Map Being Distributed by Highway Department

Minnesota's new official state highway map, for the 1948 precentennial year, has incorporated several refinements designed to make it both more attractive and more serviceable to residents and out-of-state users of the state's highways. This year's theme is "Keep Minnesota Green".

Distribution of the map, published under provision of state law by the state department of highways, has gotten underway and is expected to completed in advance of the summer season of heavy travel.

The map itself has been brightened by the addition of green shading for all official state and federal forest areas, and Indian reservations are shown in yellow. Principal county roads which have been incorporated into the secondary system are shown in brown, which clearly delineates them but still does not confuse them with the state trunk routes, which are shown in black, the legend indicating various surface types. Location of forestry towers have been added and the state map now shows these along with parks, airports, roadside parking areas, and historic sites.

On the back of the map are the mileage table, showing distance between towns; the listing of all postoffices or populous communities and how to locate them on the map; and enlarged inset maps of Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul and all of the other twelve cities having more than 10,000 population.

VA Offers Advice to Holders of Insurance

The Veterans Administration today pointed out that the 18,486 World War II veterans in North Dakota and western Minnesota who have GI insurance can save themselves time, money and inconvenience by paying their premiums on an annual, semi-annual or quarterly basis rather than monthly.

Leo L. Haley, contact representative, said a three percent discount factor is used in computing premiums paid—on any basis other than monthly, and added that veterans can also rid themselves of the extra expense necessary in making frequent remittances. At the same time, he said, the less frequent payments will greatly reduce th danger of a policy lapse because of a veteran's failure to make timely remittances.

Any veteran can change his mode of premium payment on any premium due date, he added, and information can be obtained at the nearest VA office or by writing the Insurance Service, VA Branch Office No. 8, Fort Snelling, St. Paul 11, Minnesota.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Jeb Had the Folks in Stitches!

At the Friday Night Social, Jeb Crowell had the audience in stitches—doing a take-off on the blustering character who belittles everybody and everything that isn't from his own home town.

Well, we can laugh at that sort of character because from where I sit, Americans are just the opposite. We like to boast a bit perhaps, about the paint job on the new barn, or the missus' style of cooking—but we aren't intolerant of people who don't think or act exactly the same way we do.

In our town, for instance: Some folks like band concerts, others don't—some families serve beer with dinner, others, buttermilk—and as for politics, there's plenty of healthy disagreement.

But when it comes to denying folks the right to think or act as they choose... no, we're like you—we don't believe in it, whether it goes for serving beer, or speaking one's mind on public affairs.

More Beautiful to live with . . .
Come to our house
See how our old rugs and furniture have actually taken on new life.
We had them Duraclean
For economy and convenience . . . have your upholstery and floor coverings Duracleaned by experts, right in your home. Watch the unusual care with which these craftsmen beautify your furnishings.
Duraclean means your fabrics last longer because this modern, safe cleaning process avoids strong soaps and chemicals which so often harm the dyes or fabric. Longer life too, because there is no wear, no breaking of fibers caused by machine scrubbing.
This patent protected service is recommended by America's leading furniture and department stores.
What Makes Duraclean "Different"
Shampoo by absorption:
Embedded dirt and grit are first removed by "deep suction." Many cleaning methods leave enough dirt-laden soap in your rugs and upholstery to cause "matting" or "rapid resoiling." Duracleaning avoids this.
The mild aerated Duraclean foam loosens and absorbs sticky soil and stains, holding this grime in suspension above the sanitary until removed.
No inconvenience! Duracleaned fabrics are dry in just a few hours. Special ingredients revive wool fibers. Rug pile mounts and rises. Colors revive. Your fabrics are left clean, fresh, enlivened . . . your home is more beautiful to live with.
Duraproof—If you wish, you may at the same time have your floor coverings, upholstery, clothing or furs Duraproofed. You have 6 years protection against damage from moths and carpet beetles. Also protects against mildew. The amount cost is lower than ordinary home spraying. Also protects yourself. Have your fabrics Duraproofed today—before damage develops.

HAULERS WARNED OVERLOADS STILL CAN RUIN ROADS

Hoffman Reveals Easing of Restrictions on 1500 Miles of Trunk Routes

Just one grossly excessive overload, or four or five trucks or buses too heavy for the water-soaked supporting soil, can still ruin what looks like a good solid highway—and ruin it for a long time for every motorist who drives that road, State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann cautioned today as restrictions were eased on additional trunk mileages.

The commissioner's warning came in response to appeals, most of them premature, from virtually every type of heavy hauler urging the immediate lifting of axle weight limits on innumerable state routes which have had to be restricted to prevent severe damage or destruction during the so-called spring breakup period.

"The truck and bus operator's demands to be permitted to resume "business as usual" have almost invariably been based upon their personal observations that the roads look dry and solid, and since they did not show any outward indication of substantial damage or softening, their own conclusions that these highways "should now be opened to unrestricted legal loads."

Mr. Hoffmann disclosed that, out of the 7,638 miles of state trunk routes which had to be restricted this year, posted axle weight limitations now have been lifted completely on only about 100 miles. "Restrictions were scheduled by today to be eased by increasing posted load limits on approximately 1,500 miles of state trunk routes.

"Each trunk route is being kept under careful scrutiny by our district engineers in every part of the state, with a view to restoring the highways to maximum service as rapidly as this can be done without endangering the roads to undue damage," Commissioner Hoffmann said. "We do not want to keep any restriction on any road a day longer than is necessary to protect that road."

LUTHERANS PLAN WELFARE DRIVE

County Churches Last Year Donated $745.56

Lutheran churches in Pennington county gave a total of $745.56 to the Lutheran Welfare Society of Minnesota during 1947, Robert J. Lund of Thief River Falls, last year's county chairman, said that in 1946 the same churches gave a total of $353.65. He said the largest amount contributed by any one church in the county during 1947 was $438.26.

Lutheran Welfare Society will need $160,000 in contributions this year as compared with $140,000 actually received last year. $70,000 is expected from Lutherans in Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Duluth, and $90,000 is anticipated from Lutheran churches in the balance of the state.

"The reason for the increased financial need is the constantly increasing number of children coming to the Lutheran Welfare for help," says Harold J. Belgum, assistant executive secretary.

In 1947 the society placed 203 children for adoption. According to Mr. Belgum, this exceeds the adoption record of all other agencies in the state. A total of 641 children were given care in 1947 compared with 516 in 1946. 218 unwed mothers were sheltered and given counsel by Lutheran Welfare at the Lutheran Girls Home in 1947. In 1946 the number was 179.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Mrs. Bertha Young, who at 89 knits without glasses, laments that there isn't a thing left in Fairmont that was there when she settled there at six years of age in 1865. She attended the first school in the city, saw the Northfield bank robbery, and experienced many Indian scares. On the contrary the oldest old timer would find at least one Mankato feature the same thru the years—the Lincoln elm which shaded a big area of Lincoln Park for at least 250 years.

ALASKA WANTS IN...People of Alaska are serious about getting their territory accepted as the 49th state in the union. Here, Victor C. Rivers of the territorial senate of Alaska speaks to a gathering in the main street of Anchorage to present a forceful demand for statehood. Anchorage doesn't have the climate for an outdoor tea party, but citizens there have dug down into American history for their battle slogan: 'Taxation without representation.' Remember?

If such materials are dropped they must be removed immediately by the person or persons responsible for dropping them. NEWSPAPERS IN THE NEWS

For 65 years Martin Loferer of Afton has been a subscriber to the Stillwater Gazette. Any claimants to a longer paid-up record? Arnold Vodegel, a Deephaven Argus writer, valiantly fought a grass fire to save a farm home, and forgot to report it—the fire chief who was summoned from a neighboring village turned in the story.

STATE JOB OFFICE FILLS FARM JOBS

1000 Placements Made in State During April

Minnesota's newly created farm help recruitment service is primarily responsible for more than 1,000 agricultural placements made by the division of employment and security in April.

The state agency this year has appointed 266 employment security representatives in as many communities of the state, according to Victor Christgau, the division's director. Additional appointments are being made daily and from 80 to 100 more will be named.

The new farm help service, organization of which was started January 1, is designed to provide a handy point of contact for every farmer in the state who may need farm help and for persons who are looking for work on farms.

Most of the jobs filled in April were in the southern part of the state where spring work is well under way.

In addition to placement work, local representatives provide the agency with reports as to the farm help supply and demand, enabling the Division to maintain a currently accurate analysis, necessary in the orderly distribution of available workers.

Maintenance Engineers Study T. H. 59 Saturday

Charles Motl, chief maintenance engineer of the state highway department in St. Paul, and Lee R. Boyd of Crookston, district maintenance engineer, visited in this city Saturday in the course of an inspection tour of Highway 59 north of Thief River Falls. They indicated that improvements will be made on the highway from Newfolden to the junction with No. 32.

Cost of World War II

One of the great costs of World War II has been the accelerated deterioration of the nation's soils.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor of the Times.

Sometimes I wonder if it's just to make news, or if people can really be so blind, as it seems to me instead of Thief River Falls being a city we should be proud of, it's a city we are really disgusted with. First for instance, when we come to town Saturday afternoons, as usually the time, we farmers like to come to town for our trading etc., we must remember it's only two hours parking limit.

Then we of course have children, there are no city rest rooms, so we spend half or more of our time looking for a place to go. The Auditorium is locked, together with other places. Of course city people don't care, they are not far from their homes.

Then again they say or write, "We'll have the stores open until nine o'clock Friday evenings for convenience to the farmers." Please remember this, that is no convenience to the farmer. The truth is it's for the employees to get Saturday evening off. Well it really burns me up to think you can't tell the truth but have to drag the farmers into this. Would like to see the opinion of other farmers and farmers' wives too. I am a mother that doesn't like to see children taken into liquor joints. I think Thief River Falls should have a city rest room.

Sincerely,
Mrs J. E. Finn

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD
Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Should We "Make" Them do Things?

Children learn some things easily, without any effort at all, while other things are very hard.

A boy may be willing to spend an hour or more a day memorizing baseball statistics, but still begrudges ten minutes' work on his arithmetic homework.

A girl will be able to tell you the latest recordings of every band in the country, name each player, his instrument and still will not spend thirty minutes a day practising the piano.

These are examples of motivation, a state in which the child wants to do something so much that even long hours of labor seem worth while to him.

Unfortunately, these activities are not always considered to be desirable by a child's parents. They may be classified as "time-wasting" or "trash." Parents constantly ask, "How can I make my boy as interested in arithmetic as he is in baseball statistics?"

The best way to try is to make use of the expressed interest in baseball to help the child's arithmetic. If he has to learn to calculate percentage, what difference does it make if he learns it in terms of baseball or in more formal terms? Learning percentage is the important thing.

Trying to force a child to do things which are totally uninteresting to him is not very successful. But convincing a child that he can have fun, or better yet convincing him that he wants to do the unpleasant things is often successful. It takes a little more time and patience and a great deal of cleverness, but pays off eventually.

There is no question about the power of parents to enforce children to do things. Parents hold great power over the child, but choosing not to exercise the power will reduce the number of family fights, make your family a more agreeable group, and will build up your skill as a parent.

"Best Way to Market"

THAT'S what Fred Ulman, Left, Janesville (Minn.) Creamery Association operator, and A. A. Wilson, owner-patron, say about Land O'Lakes. "We get the highest possible returns," they agree, by sharing in proceeds and savings at three levels—manufacture, distribution and sales. Mr. Ulman appreciates how Land O'Lakes keeps tab on markets, relieves him of collecting. Mr. Wilson, 27 years a Land O'Lakes member, adds: "With Land O'Lakes, we farmers have a voice in managing our own organization. We get fair treatment—and we certainly get more money."

Air Service Expands

Radium Cancer Treatment Traced to Accidental Burn

An accidental burn years ago resulted in a discovery which led to the present day treatment of cancer with radium.

Henri Becquerel, a French physicist, was experimenting with radium which it was still quite new. Without thinking, he slipped a tube of pure radium in his waistcoat pocket and left it there for several hours. Eight days later he found an inflamed spot on his body at the point above which the radium had rested. Very excited, he rushed to the Curies, who had discovered radium, and informed them of this new development.

Pierre Curie, in order to make sure that it was actually the radium which produced the irritation, fastened some radium beside on his forearm where it remained for several hours. He, too, received a severe burn, which did not heal for six months. Convinced by this demonstration, Curie suggested to H. A. Danlos, a dermatologist at St. Louis hospital in Paris, that radium might be of value in treatment of malignant growths of the skin. Danlos experimented, and reported his new findings in 1904. Soon specialists throughout the world were experimenting with the idea until today radium is one of the accepted methods of treating cancer.

Forty years ago it required five men in the automobile industry to complete the amount of work in the manufacture of automobiles that one man is capable of producing today. This has been made possible through use of mass production techniques and mechanization.

Seek Special Coin for Minnesota Centennial

Four Minnesota Congressmen have urged the house banking and currency committee to approve issuance of 150,000 special 50-cent coins commemorating Minnesota's Territorial Centennial. The bill has passed the Senate but is opposed by the treasury department. If passed by Congress it is likely to be vetoed by the president. Last year President Truman vetoed a similar bill for a coin in honor of Wisconsin's statehood celebration.

Another bill authorizing issuance of a 3-cent postage stamp commemorating the Minnesota Territorial Centennial has been signed by the President.

BRIDGES TOPIC AT MEETING IN ST. PAUL FRIDAY

County Officials and Others to Confer with U. S. Army Engineers

A group of officials from Pennington and Red Lake counties who are interested in the flood control project now getting under way will confer in St. Paul Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Colonel Wilson of the St. Paul office of the corps of U. S. Army engineers, directing the work.

At the meeting, arrangements for which were made by Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffman, several matters affecting the channel improvement project will be discussed.

The chief problem involves the replacement of bridges on the sections of the Red Lake and Clearwater rivers scheduled for improvement. The original arrangement called for the federal government to replace the bridges on condition that the local units of government made cash contributions aggregating $33,200, but it has been indicated it may be necessary to modify the arrangement in some respects.

Of the eight bridges affected, three are in Pennington county, three in Red Lake, and one each in Clearwater and Polk.

The Red Lake-Clearwater river drainage and conservancy district will be represented at the St. Paul meeting by L. W. Rullen and Ole Melby, Oklee. Appearing for Pennington county will be Paul Roy, chairman of the county board; Paul A. Lundgren, county attorney; and J. A. Erickson, county engineer. The Red Lake county board also will be represented, while acting for the Civic and Commerce association will be James Roche, secretary, and Bill LaFave of the road committee. W. E. Dahlquist also will attend.

VFW POPPY SALE TO BE CONDUCTED SATURDAY MAY 22

Alvin C. Comstock and Mrs. Percy Engen Will Direct Sale in City

The 27th annual Buddy Poppy sale will be conducted Saturday, May 22, by members of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars post and auxiliary, assisted by the voluntary services of other citizens and school children. Alvin C. Comstock is chairman for the post and Mrs. Percy Engen for the auxiliary.

Boys and girls who wish to sell Buddy poppies are asked to be at the Memorial Room in the Auditorium at 8:30 a. m., Saturday, May 22. There will be treats for all selling poppies and prizes for those selling the most.

Sales of Buddy Poppies will enable the Veterans of Foreign Wars to continue its welfare work on behalf of the living veterans of the nation's wars and to care for the widows and orphans of the war dead.

All funds raised by the Buddy Poppy sale will be used solely—to rehabilitate disabled veterans, to aid others in their readjustment problems and to provide a normal, healthy home life for war orphans at the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan. Any veteran who served faithfully may receive these benefits. He need not be a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

More than seventy percent of the proceeds from the sale of Buddy Poppies remains in the community, to assist the local Post and Auxiliary to carry on their program of assistance to veterans and their dependents here. The balance goes to the disabled veterans who fashion the Buddy Poppies in hospitals and home workshops, to the VFW Rehabilitation Service which aids veterans in pressing their claims for disability and other benefits, and to the VFW National Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Benson and Mrs. C. C. Simpson attended the Grand Chapter of Order of Eastern Star, held in the Masonic temple in St. Paul on May 10, 11 and 12.

Co. F of National Guard Home Wednesday after 5 Days in South St. Paul

83 Local Members Are Released from Duty as Strike End Looms

With a settlement of the packinghouse workers strike expected momentarily, members of Company F of the National Guard, based in Thief River Falls, returned to this city Wednesday night after having assisted in keeping order in South St. Paul since last Saturday.

The local men returned by plane to Grand Forks and came by bus from there to Thief River Falls Wednesday evening, with the exception of a few guardmen who are driving back equipment from South St. Paul.

Eighty members of Company F, together with three officers under the command of Captain A. C. Tiedeman, left this city by bus Friday evening at 10 o'clock and arrived at the Swift & company plant in South St. Paul Saturday morning at 5:30, later moving over to the Armour & company plant.

Captain Tiedeman informed the Times Tuesday afternoon that the situation in South St. Paul was very quiet. He emphasized the fact that the guard units had not been called in as strike-breakers nor to interfere with legal picketing, but merely to prevent cases of violence such as broke out last week in South St. Paul and at the Cudahy plant in adjoining Newport.

While stationed in South St. Paul, Captain Tiedeman also had command of Company E of Bemidji and Headquarters company of Park Rapids.

Gov. Youngdahl Wednesday said settlement of the packinghouse strike is being held up by one issue.

"The only obstacle to a settlement still undetermined," he said, "is the question of which employees, if any, be denied employment because of conduct in the strike."

The governor made the statement after his return from Chicago. In Chicago he sought to aid in settlement of the strike of CIO United Packinghouse Workers union members against the big four packers.

"I feel that definite progress was made in getting before the parties a full explanation of the positions of each side," Gov. Youngdahl said, "and having a complete exploration of the issues preventing a settlement."

LOCAL EXCHANGE OF BELL COMPANY BEING EXPANDED

Switchboard Expansion Part of Project Costing Approximately $225,000

Switchboad facilities in the Thief River Falls exchange of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company are being substantially enlarged as part of an improvement program in this community that will involve the expenditure of approximately $225,000 during the current year, A. J. Rau, local manager, stated this week.

The present project in the central office was started April 1 and is scheduled to be completed July 3 by a crew of twelve workers from the Western Electric company under the direction of D. J. Clark of Minneapolis.

Three additional switchboard positions are being installed, providing for 320 additional numbers, in addition to which 14 more long distance circuits are being added, including four to Minneapolis and the remainder to towns in this section of the state.

The new facilities, Mr. Rau stated, will care for switchboard needs for the immediate future. The exchange is now handling about 13,600 local calls each day, while the number of long distance calls has increased from a daily average of 400 in 1947 to 600 this year. There are at present 26 operators on duty here, and this number will be increased to 30 before the end of the current year.

Let it not be said that 1948 passed us by without giving us a touch of summer.

City Health Officer Dr. O. F. Mellby is not satisfied with the progress that has been made in the Spring Clean-Up campaign. Most citizens have cooperated to the fullest extent as usual but there a few unsightly and unsanitary neighborhoods that are going to receive personal attention and soon. Whatever sewer and water connections are available the outdoor toilet must go, Doc says. Any that are necessary will be strictly and regularly inspected, especially those that are near the river. Doc says the war is over and there no longer is the excuse that materials are not available. There no longer is an excuse for being unsanitary.

The biggest offender in maintaining an unsanitary nuisance in the city of Thief River Falls is the City of Thief River Falls itself. That is the verdict of Dr. Mellby and a dozen other citizens, including several aldermen, who inspected the city dump and the roads leading to it during this past week. The condition that exists in and around the city's rat hatchery is a disgrace. Steps are being taken to correct the unsightly. The unsanitary will be with us longer. Let's not permit it to continue any longer than is necessary.

There is a lot of guessing, and it's anybody's guess, as to how sincere the Russians are in their talks of peace. For the time being they have quit being disagreeable. There has been a noticeable change in their talk following the Italian election, but can we believe them? It would be easier to trust them if their appeals for peace were made through regular channels, recognizing tthe organization of which they are a part that was formed for the specific purpose of maintaining peace. But instead of suggesting that the United Nations take action, they propose a deal with the United States. That in itself tends to discredit them. And in the suggestion that Russia and the United States get together in a deal, they do not approach the government of our country in the usual way. On the contrary, instead of recognizing our established government they recognize a candidate for the presidency of our country who seeks to be elected on an "America is always wrong" campaign. Stalin indicates that he would gladly get together with us on the "We Should Love Russia" program of Henry Wallace. This would appeal more to us if Stalin would spend as much time defending America in his country as Wallace spends defending Russia over here. Until then we will continue to be a mite suspicious.

It appears that the oleo interets are going to win their fight to secure repeal of the taxes that have been imposed upon their industry, and that is not good news for dairymen or the people of the dairy states. It is not good for the people of Minnesota, including the citizens of St. Paul and Minneapolis, who should have supported the dairy industry in this important battle. Our city cousins in this instance could have proven how big and understanding they are. Nevertheless there is no justification for anger because of the result. There are more consumers of food than there are producers, and maybe we of the dairy states have not done as good a job as we should have in selling our industry to the country. Some of the oleo taxes were unreasonable and this fact made it easier for the oleo interests to defeat all special taxes, including those for which there is justification. We have no patience with those of our representatives who now suggest that we should enact retaliatory laws. That is foolish talk. If we had strength enough in Congress to pass retaliatory measures then we would have had sterngth enough to save the laws that we want preserved. And even of we could pass such laws, that would not be the right answer, and in the end would do us more harm than good.

Famous Indian Wheel

The famous and mysterious Indian Medicine Wheel known as "Sun Ti Pi" now may be seen from the new highway between Lowell and Sheridan, Wyo. It is located upon the highest portion of Medicine mountain. From its elevation of over 12,000 feet, it may be seen for nearly 80 miles. It was mentioned by the first westward Mormon caravan, and the Lewis and Clark expedition reported it as an oddity of nature. It is a giant stone wheel with 28 distinct spokes, evenly spaced, and measures 75 feet in diameter. Its origin is unknown, but it is thought to have been laid down by the aborigines and used in some form of worship.

Major Iron Ores Divided Into Four General Types

Principal iron ores in the United States may be classified into four general types, namely, magnetite, hematite, brown ore or limonite, and siderite.

Magnetite in its pure state is the highest in percentage of iron. Hematite is found in the greatest quantity, and is next to magnetite in richness of iron content. Approximately 94 per cent of all ore mined is hematite. Limonite is hematite combined with water. It constitutes only a small percentage of all ore mined. Siderite is the lowest in iron content. It has other undesirable qualities, but where found in large enough quantities it has been used commercially. The geographical distribution of these ores is quite widespread over the United States, although their commercial importance in some states is doubtful.

The ore deposits of the Lake Superior region are noteworthy for magnitude, quality and convenient transportation. They are found over wide areas in the Vermillion, Mesabi, Gunflint and Cuyuna ranges in eastern Minnesota, the Gogebic and Menominee ranges in northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan, and the Marquette range in upper Michigan, all adjacent to Lake Michigan or Lake Superior. Other important deposits being worked are in Alabama, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Rivers of Turkey

There are a number of rivers in Turkey. The Tigris and the Euphrates rising in southeastern Anatolia flow across into Iraq and the Persian gulf. The longest Turkish river, the Kizil Irmak, is 600 miles, rising near Sivas. It flows into the Black sea near the town of Bafra. Yeshil Irmak also flows into the Black sea near Samsun, famous for its fine tobacco, which is bought in large quantities by American cigarette manufacturers. Sakarya is another famous Turkish river. Flowing into the Aegean sea are the Gedis Chay (Hermus) and Kuchuk and Buyuk Menderes. These are comparatively small rivers. None of the Turkish rivers is important for inland transportation. Logs and lumber, however, are widely transported on these streams. From the point of supplying electricity, however, their potential value is important.

Motor Vehicle Miles Show Sharp Increase

The sharp increase in motor vehicle miles driven in the United States last year was sufficient to send the 1946 total to an all-time high of 340 billion vehicle miles, according to report of National Conservation bureau.

The 1946 traffic volume was 3.6 per cent greater than the previous record year of 1941 and 63 per cent greater than the 1943 wartime volume. Monthly trends for 1947 indicate continuing increases and greater strains on United States street and highway facilities.

Increases in 1946 traffic deaths are not so foreboding. The final record of 1946 traffic deaths, released by National Safety council, shows that the traffic death total was held to 33,700, 16 per cent below the 1941 total. The death rate, after little movement since 1942, was forced below 10 fatalities per 100 million vehicle miles for the first time since national records became available. Compared, however, with actual totals for 1945, with no consideration of increased volume, the deaths in 1946 were 20 per cent higher — 33,700 against the 28,070 traffic deaths in 1945.

Highest Corn Yield

For the United States as a whole, in the past few years, average corn yield was a little over 30 bushels to the acre. Highest officially recognized yield in 1944 was credited to an Illinois farmer with 182 bushels an acre. Scattered around the corn belt were other marks ranging from 147 to 178. In South Carolina in 1889 a yield of 255 bushels an acre was achieved by one farmer. Russia reports that in one district the yield averaged 140 bushels to the acre.

Results of Sunday's games:

Winger, 1, at Crookston, 16.
Erskine, 12, at Red Lake Falls, 23.

Games this Sunday:
Thief River Falls at Erskine.
Crookston at St. Hilaire.
Plummer at Red Lake Falls.

In opening round games of the Northern Minnesota Baseball league on Sunday, the Crookston Pirates, the league champions, Plummer and Red Lake Falls recorded triumphs. The best-played and most exciting game of the day found the Plummer Red Sox, behind George Saunders five-hit pitching, and with Jesse and Wally DuChamp clouting out six of Plummer's twelve hits, defeating Thief River Falls, 6 to 2, on the Plummer diamond.

Red Lake Falls, with Bill Hallamack and Vern Messerole poling out homeruns, trounced Erskine, 23 to 12. And Crookston, with lefty Ken DuPuis on the mound, easily won over the Winger Tigers, 16 to 1.

Oklee's withdrawal from the league, due to lack of financial support, has pared the circuit to seven teams and will force one of the league teams to draw a bye. An attempt may be made to place another team in the league, but with the various leagues in operation it will be difficult to find an available team.

This week's schedule should provide the league fans with plenty of red-hot baseball for two of the games will find undefeated teams in action. Playing at St. Hilaire on Sunday will be Bill Lakie's Crookston team, and that game should be the "high lighter" for those two teams, the Saints and the Pirates, were the runners-up and league champions, respectively, and they have been given the same rating this year. The other game that should draw a large crowd is the Plummer vs. Red Lake Falls game at Red Lake Falls. Red Lake Falls has been strengthened considerably by the addition of veteran Bill Hallamack to their lineup, while Plummer will be entering the game buoyed up by their win over Thief River Falls.

In the third league game to be played on Sunday, Thief River Falls will travel to Erskine for a game.

Bauxite Ore Is Utilized As Source of Aluminum

Aluminum weighs 167 pounds per cubic foot, about 37 per cent of the weight of iron or steel. It can be alloyed with other metals, gaining many desirable properties. Important physical characteristics are the relatively high strength of its alloys in proportion to weight, resistance to corrosion and chemical action, and high electrical and heat conductivity. Commercial types contain from 94 per cent to 99.5 per cent aluminum.

The source most relied upon for aluminum is the ore, bauxite, ranging from 25 per cent to 30 per cent aluminum. Successive steps in production are the mining of bauxite, extraction of alumina therefrom and reduction of alumina to aluminum. Somewhat more than eight tons of raw material in all are required to produce one ton of aluminum.

Prior to World War I, the United States imported most of its bauxite, chiefly from Dutch Guiana. Imports enter chiefly via Mobile and New Orleans.

Weasel Is Destructive

The ground-dwelling weasel occasionally may hunt through the treetops with the nimbleness of a squirrel, searching for birds and their eggs. Barnyard fowl rarely will be attacked, says the New England Naturalist. Many poultrymen will disagree with this statement. One weasel is known to have "bled" more than 75 pullets in one night. Rodents are their preferred food, and the establishment of a weasel den results in a marked reduction of the rat and mouse population for half a mile in every direction, as well as the reduction in baby chicks and poultry. Primitive people valued the weasel pets highly and wore weasel skins as charms that would imbue them with the valorous spirits of the little carnivore.

Delemont, like other settlements of the French Jura section of Switzerland, specializes in watchmaking. In these mountains, the lonely winter evenings led to the early development of home crafts. Many of the modern industries for which Switzerland is noted are based on the old skills and the natural resources available in the waterpower, timber and dairy products of the Jura region. Besides fine clocks and watches, the Jura people contribute to world markets a variety of specialties, from cheese, chocolate and wine to fine metal work and delicate wood carving. The town of Delemont, which is the center of the French separatist movement, lies near the border of France in northwest Switzerland.

All league games are slated to begin at 6:30 P. M.

Tuesday, 6:15 P. M., Knox Tigers vs. Northrop Lions.

In the midget baseball games played this week, three of the four games were decided by the margin of one run, denoting the closeness of the league teams. Stan Rosengren and Don Johnson, of the Indians and Lions, respectively, hooked up in a pitcher's duel on Monday afternoon, with Rosengren coming out with a 5 to 4 win. Johnson had 15 strikeouts while Rosengren set down 13 batsman via the strikeout route. The Lions filled the bases with one away in the last half of the 7th inning, but a nifty double play snuffed out the rally and protected the Indian lead.

The combination of the St. Bernard's Broncos' defensive play, and the wildness of the three Northrop Yankee hurlers, who gave up 12 bases on balls, gave the league leaders a 11 to 5 win in Monday evening's game. Myron Hajostek and Peter Froehle bashed out doubles for the winners, while Marvin Jorde tagged one of Wayne Kataska's overhand shoots for a triple.

With Jack Quesnell sparking the Knox Bears with a pair of singles and a double, for a perfect day at bat, the Bears were fect day at bat, the Bears were ton Wildcats, 11 to 10, Tuesday afternoon.

Tuesday evening's game found the Knox Tigers edging out a win over the Washington Senators, 7 to 6.

State Police Push War On Rural Crime Front

Bigger and better-trained state police forces are pushing a new offensive against highway hijacking and other rural crime, the Council of State Governments reports.

State police in 37 states now have full police powers and are spending some 42 million dollars a year to curb crime outside cities as well as enforce highway traffic laws. The 11 states where state troopers still are confined to highway patrol duties exclusively are spending another 13 million dollars annually for that purpose alone.

Need for stricter law enforcement outside city limits plus increase of travel on rural highways has caused some state police departments to almost double their forces since the war. The expanded agencies are adopting vigorous new programs for training personnel in crime investigation and accident prevention and are buying new auto, radio and other equipment at a capacity rate.

Recovering from wartime manpower shortages, state police and highway patrol agencies in the 48 states have scored a 40 per cent personnel increase since 1944. Nearly 14,000 men now are employed by these agencies. Biggest state police force in the nation is Pennsylvania's, with 1,361 troopers and 129 civilian employees. The unit has full police authority.

First Air Clipper

The giant 52-passenger, 300-mile-an-hour Clippers that span the Atlantic non-stop today are a far cry from the frail 10-passenger craft that was coaxed across the water from Key West, Fla., to Havana, Cuba, at 85 miles an hour October 28, 1927. Original Key West-Havana schedules were operated with tiny wooden-winged Fokker F-7 and C-2 tri-motor aircraft, the first land planes to be operated on overwater routes. First delivered in October, 1928, the twin-engined Sikorsky S-38 carried eight passengers at 105 miles an hour. The S-38 was followed by the Sikorsky S-41, which carried 10 passengers and had a cruising speed of 100 miles an hour. Also added to the growing fleet at that time were twin-engine Commodores carrying 20 passengers at 101 miles an hour.

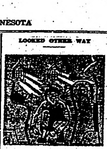
LOOKED OTHER WAY



"I didn't see you in church last Sunday."

"I know you didn't; I took up the collection."

Not as Planned

A fancy dress ball was in progress and the conversation was between two women sitting in the corner. "Mrs. Smythe looks rather upset, don't you think?" said the first.

"I should think she does," replied the other. "You see, she came as a Hawaiian beauty, with grass skirts and all—and they awarded her first prize in the humorous section as 'The Old Thatched Cottage.'"

Starting Young

Young George, whose father is a prolific writer of rural fiction, was having trouble with a composition.

"George," complained his teacher, "this is terrible. I've never seen so many misspelled words in one theme in all my life."

"Oh, those are not misspelled words," rejoined the adroit youngster. "I'm just learning how to be a dialect writer."

Hard on Her

A clergyman at a dinner had listened to a talkative young man who had much to say on Darwin and his "Origin of the Species."

"I can't see," he argued, "what difference it would make to me if my grandfather was an ape."

"No," commented the clergyman, "I can't see that it would. But it must have made a great difference to your grandmother."

Australia Doubles U. S. In Production of Wool

Some wool is produced in every state, but in most states it is a minor product of general farming. Australia has more than double the United States production, and Argentina in recent years also has somewhat surpassed this country in production.

The 17 western states produce approximately three-quarters of total domestic shorn wool, Texas, with about one-fifth of the total is by far the leading producer. Other large producers are Wyoming, Montana, California, Utah, Idaho, New Mexico, Ohio and Oregon. In recent years, Wyoming and Montana have ranked next to Texas, but both these states have lost ground in production, while Texas, California and Utah, among others, are on the increase. Nearly all pulled wool originates at meat-packing centers.

Wool is fiber obtained from the coat of sheep, and mohair comes from Angora goats. Wool ranked next to cotton in importance among U. S. textile fibers until 1938, when it was displaced by rayon.

Wool usually is classified for use into two principal types, apparel and carpet. Practically all American wool is apparel wool. Carpet wool comes principally from Asia, Africa and Argentina.

TAKING NO CHANCES

An Alabama farmer, after imbibing a prodigious quantity of moonshine whiskey, attempted to blow out a candle, whereupon his alcohol-saturated breath burst into flame.

Horribly shaken by the experience, the man begged his wife to bring him the family Bible, muttering: "Sarey, this has been a terrible lesson to me. I gotta swear off."

Rejoicing that her boozing mate had at last seen the error of his ways, the woman produced the desired volume. Placing his hand upon it, the farmer intoned: "Before heaven, I swear that never again will I blow on a lighted candle."

LAST ONE FATAL

"Did you participate in many engagements on the continent?" an inquisitive old lady asked the returned soldier.

"Only five," replied the ex-G.I. with becoming modesty.

"And you came through all of them unhurt?"

"Not exactly," he returned sadly. "I married the fifth."

Double Trouble

A long, lanky, hatless individual in a state of joyful inebriation came sailing merrily into the city hall, and dropped anchor before the window of the registrar of births and deaths.

"Good-mornin', gentlemen," he sang out: "I wanna register the birth (hic) of twins."

"Why do you say 'gentlemen'?" asked the man behind the window. "Can't you see I'm alone here?"

"Alone?" shouted the astonished father. "Only one of you? Then I'd better go home and take another look. Maybe it isn't (hic) twins after all."

Thrice-Blessed

A young husband did not like hash. His wife acquired a French cookery book, giving many recipes for using leftovers. The next evening one of the fancy mixtures in a covered dish appeared on the table.

The husband reached over and raised the cover, but the wife said: "Why don't you ask the blessing first, dear?"

Replied the husband: "I don't believe there is anything here that hasn't already been blessed."

Take It as You Like

One of the duties of a college administrative officer is to write letters of recommendation. Once one of these administrators was at a loss to know what to write concerning a doubtful applicant. A retired faculty member suggested that he write as follows:

"Dear Sir: When you come to know the applicant as we know him, you will come to appreciate him as we appreciate him."

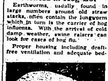
Hog Influenza May Cause Serious Loss

Prevention Should Be Practiced in Hog Lot

Earthworms, usually found in large numbers around old straw stacks, often contain the lungworm which in turn is the carrier of hog influenza. With the arrival of cold damp weather, swine raisers can look for cases of hog flu.

Proper housing including draft-free ventilation and adequate bedding are necessary if hog flu is to be controlled or prevented. They should be kept from undue exposure. Hogs need dry, warm quarters free from drafts.



A healthy, well-housed and fed hog will not be in danger of contracting flu.

As the disease is contagious, any sick animals should be separated if part of the drove comes down with the flu. Special care and nursing should be given to the brood sows.

By proper housing, feeding and management, little trouble should be met with in the prevention of flu if it is taken for granted that the hog drove has been bred for constitutional vigor. A strong hog well managed will never prove a disease problem.

Chemical Effective As Weed Eradicator

The chemical 2, 4-D (chemically dichlorophenoxyacetic), has proven effective in killing dandelions, plantains, and many other weeds with little difficulty or expense by spraying.

Detail work is being conducted at Mississippi state agricultural experiment station by Prof. O. A. Leonard and F. H. Herzer. Progress report indicates that the chemical acts as a plant hormone. When used in high concentrations, the plant dies under proper conditions.

Left, untreated bitterweed; right, bitterweed treated with 2, 4-D. This method of treatment has proven valuable in many ways.

The USDA reports that a solution of 2, 4-D containing as little as 1½ ounces of the chemical in 10 gallons of water will be deadly to many species of broad-leaved plants including dandelion, plantain, pennyword, Japanese honeysuckle, annual morning-glory, daisy, chickweed, winter cress, ragweed, pigweed, burdock, wild mustard and annual sow thistle.

Indian Leader Now World's Richest Man

Nizam of Hyderabad Spends a Mere $20 Monthly.

LONDON. — A frail-looking, bespectacled Moslem who lives in India in a room 10 feet square and spends about $20 a month is the richest man on earth.

Outside his window in the courtyard is a bullock wagon loaded with gold. It is dust-covered and derelict. Twenty years ago it was driven to the spot where it has remained ever since. No one has even bothered to unload the gold bars.

The richest man on earth is so wealthy that his viziers cannot compute his worth.

But they believe that his exalted highness, Rustam-I-Duran Arastu-I-Zaman, Lt. Gen. Muzaffar-Ul-Mulk, Nizam of Hyderabad, has an annual income of about 50 million dollars.

He has more jewels of note than are contained in all the other big collections in the world, combined.

Years ago he was estimated to be worth three billion dollars—or about three times as rich as the late Henry Ford. The Indian leader's wealth is much greater today.

Great Britain's richest man, Sir John Ellerman, is still under 40. He inherited vast shipping enterprises which have increased in value since his father died in 1933 leaving a will which listed 160 million dollars in assets.

Emil Georg Buehrle of Switzerland reputedly is worth 15 million dollars.

When asked how much money he had, Buehrle replied that a multimillionaire seldom could keep count after the first few million.

Youngster Sweats for 2 Hours in Unused Icebox

OMAHA.—A small pool of water under the drain of an unused icebox and a youngster's curiosity about it was credited with having saved 4-year-old Tommy McEvoy from suffocation.

The youngster spent two hours locked in the unused box before his brother, Jimmy, 11, saw the pool of water underneath and opened the door to investigate. Inside, Tommy was crouched, soaking wet with perspiration.

Tommy was hesitant to show his parents how he got in the box, Mrs. McEvoy said, and had to be reassured he wouldn't get trapped again.

After the demonstration, Mrs. McEvoy added, the icebox doors were knocked off.

Evaded Taxes 20 Years, Now Must Pay $605,000

SAN FRANCISCO.—Moses Goldman, 66, prominent Petaluma, Calif., merchant and civic leader, was assessed $605,000 for failing to file income-tax returns for 20 years.

Treasury agents called it "the most unusual case in history of the department."

Goldman was ordered held for sentencing after pleading guilty to evading payment of $135,135 in taxes for the last two years.

The treasury department then assessed Goldman $605,000 in back taxes and penalties for failure to file returns since 1927, and seized his $268,000 bank account in part payment.

Goldman's attorneys protested, saying that in effect Goldman had "worked his entire life for the government" and was now bankrupt.

In addition to the tax penalties, Goldman faces a one-year prison term and $10,000 fine on each of the two counts.

Pacific Coast Takes Lead In Wood Pulp Production

Wood pulp is produced from pulpwood by various mechanical and chemical processes.

The greatest production of wood pulp is in the Pacific coast region, with about one-fifth of the total. The Southeast produces approximately one-sixth of the total. The Northeast, which formerly produced more than two-thirds of all wood pulp, now produces less than one-fifth. Nearly half of all production is by the kraft process, use of which has expanded greatly during the last 30 years, largely due to development of processes for making kraft pulp from southern pine.

Nearly all wood pulp is consumed by the paper and paper-board industry. The rest goes into rayon, explosives and plastics. Imports formerly came from Sweden, Canada and Finland, and entered the United States principally through North Atlantic ports and Canadian border points.

Rail Value Increased

First railroad in the United States was opened in 1830, reports a Twentieth Century fund survey. By 1890 net capitalization of the railroads of the country amounted to 7½ billion dollars, while 40 years later it was 2½ times as large.

Size of Bible

The word "Bible," from the Latin, means a collection of many books. There are 1,189 chapters in the King James version of the Bible, which has 773,692 words and 3,566,480 letters. The word "and" can be found in the Bible more than 46,000 times.

Bake Tulip Bulbs

During the war tulip growers in Holland were required to plant half of their land to food. Because of their small food allowance, most of the tulip bulbs were eaten by the Dutch. In most cases the Dutch cooked and ate the bulbs in much the way we do baked potatoes.

Scientists Discover Two 'Lost' Elements

Atomic Barrage Produces the Missing Factors.

BERKELEY, CALIF. — Two radioactive elements that existed two billion years ago were reported rediscovered by cyclotronic bombardment.

Elements 85 and 87, the "missing links" in the periodic table of elements, have been created synthetically by cyclotron and atomic oven transmutation for the first time. The discoveries end a 75-year search for the key to one of the fundamental mysteries of science.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg and Dr. Albert Ghiorso of the University of California said the two "missing" elements, now called astatine and francium, existed in nature more than two billion years ago but decayed into other elements.

Research that went into the discovery of the missing elements, carried out independently by two groups of scientists, was reported in the current issue of Physical Review.

Seaborg said the cyclotron discovery accounted for the missing fourth series of heavy radioactive elements in the periodic table, which has been named the "neptunium" series since it has the longest period of radioactivity of any of the other elements in the series.

The other series contain elements in the uranium, thorium and actinium groupings—all found previously in nature or in the laboratory.

Seaborg said the inability of scientists to find elements 85 and 87 had been one of science's mysteries since the table of elements was established in 1870. The table lists elements in the order of their atomic "weight," determined by the number of protons in the nuclei.

He explained the neptunium was the "father" of the series and of the two elements. Like all radioactive elements, they decayed at a fixed rate which in the course of millions of years wiped them out of existence," he said.

Hunch Saves Baby; Tree Falls on Boy's Playpen

PHILADELPHIA. — A young father followed up a hunch—and it probably saved the life of his year-old son.

Benjamin Blank noticed several workmen sawing down a large maple tree near his house as he left for work. As he waved good-by to his only child, gurgling happily in his playpen, he suddenly became worried about the tree and asked a worker where it would fall.

"Right out there in the middle of the street, boss—that's the way we're sawing it," shot back the worker.

Blank walked some distance, then turned and hurried back, taking the child into the house.

Then the tree crashed, ripping off a part of Blank's porch and smashing the playpen into bits.

Cranberries

By W. J. Dryden

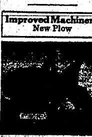
Cranberries

Originally called craneberries, cranberries were found growing wild in the marshes by the Pilgrims in 1620. Containing 13 important minerals and vitamins they are highly prized as a food article.

During late years they found their place in the industrial field. Cranberry wax added to other waxes will raise the melting point of these waxes.

Ursolic acid from the wax of cranberry skins has important therapeutic applications. The oil from the seeds is used in shampoos. Cranberry meal has become valued as a filler for plastics.

Improved Machinery New Plow



New type plow adjustable for deep plowing will find many uses.

A new plow designed by Oliver corporation, Chicago, has additional bases set a few inches below and behind, as well as to one side of the upper bases. The latter are adjusted to normal depth for conventional plowing, while the lower bases, by widening and deepening the cut, crumble the plowpan, or hard undersoil hither to left untouched, mixing it slightly with the lower portion of the top soil.

New Poultry Disease

A new disease, known as "Newcastle disease," is said to be prevalent in many parts of the world, causing severe losses in poultry. It has made its appearance in the United States. Veterinary association authorities say that the symptoms include sudden deaths, droopy appearance, ruffled feathers, coughing and sneezing, and sometimes nervous disorders such as curled toes or wing paralysis. So far death loss in the U. S. has been low.

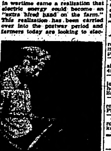
More Profits When Electricity Is Used

Extra Hired Hand One Of Adantages Offered

By W. J. DRYDEN

Out of the hardships of farming in wartime came a realization that electric energy could become an "extra hired hand on the farm." This realization has been carried over into the postwar period and farmers today are looking to electricity to lower production costs, reduce physical effort, to operate their farm more efficiently, boost output, increase their income and raise their standards of living.



Blades and tools sharpened by electrical power grinders result in big saving of time.

Electric lights to reduce fire hazards, increase the workable hours in a farm building; electric water systems to save time and essential water for crops and animals when needed; corn and hay driers to save crops; ultra-violet irradiation lamps to prevent meat spoilage and increase health of brooder chicks; electric power tools in the shop to save machinery and time; electric welders which make it possible to repair or make many items for the farm—these are only a few of the uses to which electricity may be put on the farm.

Protection from Diphtheria

Approximately two-thirds of all cases of diphtheria occur among school children, according to the Illinois department of public health. For this reason parents are urged to have their school-age children immunized against this disease. For best protection the immunization should be given when the child is six or eight months old, with an added "booster shot" when he enters school. Confining a child to the school room where he comes into close contact with other children increases the hazard of contagious diseases, especially those like diphtheria that affect the lungs. Unless school children are protected against diphtheria, they also may carry it home to their younger brothers and sisters.

Prowlers Walk Away with District Track Meet in Grand Forks

Piling up 80 points, and qualifying eleven for the regional tournament to be held on Friday, the Prowler trackmen made a successful defense of their 31st district track and field championship in the tourney held at Grand Forks on Saturday. Coach Quentin Jones' squad turned in another well-balanced performance to outdistance the runner-up East Grand Forks squad by 35 points. The Green Wave earned second place with 45 points, with the Crookston Pirates entranced in third place with 30 points. Warren scored 18 points, and the Red Lake Falls Eagles tallied 15 points.

In spite of intermittent squalls and rain, which twice interrupted the meet, six district records were broken. The Prowlers' Al Williamson and Harley Wagner accounted for new marks in the high jump and discus. Al won first place in the high jump event with a leap of 5 feet, 8 inches, bettering Morris Higinbotham's old record by ¾ of an inch. And Harley Wagner made a toss of 127 feet, 10 inches to win the discus throw and break Les Vigness' old record.

Other district records established were the mile run, with Red Lake Falls' George Wagner running the distance in 5:04.8; the 200-yard low hurdles which was won by East Grand Forks' all-round star, Cy DuCharme, in 24.2; the 220-yard dash with Crookston's Dave Pilkey breaking Bill Ericson's old mark by 2 of a second, running the furlong in 23.5; and the shot put, which found East Grand's Frank Goodrich bettering his old record by a foot and a half.

The Prowlers, in amassing their 80-point total, scored six first places and seven seconds, and gained points in every event except the 220-yard dash. Winning firsts for the locals were captain Dick Davidson, in the 440-yard run, Al Williamson in the high jump and high hurdles, Wes Olson in the 880-yard run, Harley Wagner in the discus, and half-mile relay.

Cy DuCharme of East Grand Forks, with first in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard low hurdles, and the broad jump, and running the anchor leg on the Green Wave relay team, was the meet's individual high point scorer; but he was hard-pressed by the prowlers Al Williamson, who in addition to his firsts in the high hurdles and high jump, earned a second in the low hurdles and an on the winning half-mile relay team.

The district track summaries:

May 27th, Oen's vs. Viking.

The city softball league began play on its schedule of games on Monday night, and the city champion Oen's with Milt Reierson in his usual form, defeated the Bridgeman's nine, 11 to 4. And in a high-scoring game Tuesday night, the green-jerseyed Poppler's Furniture team swamped the Middle River club, 23 to 10. Middle River's pitcher, George Hill, wasn't able to hurl because of being ill, and his lack was the chief factor in the lop-sided score.

The opening game was well-pitched, with Milt Reierson getting fourteen strikeouts, and with the Bridgeman's Owen Weckworth tossing a better game than the score would indicate. Monday's game was the first that the Bridgeman's had played under the lights, and the outfielders muffed a number of fly balls and misjudged several others.

Poppler's scored six runs in the 1st inning, four runs in the 2nd inning, and ten runs in the 3rd inning, to make a route of their game with Middle River. Numerous errors by the Middle River fielders aided the Poppler's in piling up their early lead. Art Kelland connected for a home-run for Middle River, while Glen Carlson and Jimm Welton hit for the circuit for the Poppler's.

PLUMMER RALLIES TO WHIP TRF BALL CLUB SUNDAY 6-2

Winning Team Scores Five Runs in Seventh Inning to Win Opener

A towering home run over the left field fence by Plummer's Wally DuChamp in the last half of the 7th with Ken Malwitz and Ray Ste. Marie on base, broke up a pitching duel between the locals' Harold Stroble and Red Six' George Saunders and gave Plummer a 6 to 2 win in the opening game of the Northern Minnesota baseball league played at Plummer on Sunday afternoon. The local nine will continue "on the road" next Sunday, traveling to Erskine for a league game.

Until the hectic 7th inning of Sunday's game at Plummer, the locals held a 2 to 1 lead and it appeared the manager Rasmussen's team, although playing without the services of Blackie Stephens and Swede Lund, who were with the National Guard in St. Paul, and with Rasmussen himself out of action with a torn fingernail on his right hand, were about to score and upset win over the Red Sox.

Stan Cockrell had opened the game by blasting Saunders' first pitch for a triple into left center. Phil LeGault was the first of Saunders' fourteen strikeout victims, but Berdeen. Nornes sliced a double into deep right field, scoring Cockrell and pushing the locals into the lead. Saunders whiffed Paulsen and Thompson to end the inning.

Plummer threatened to tally in the 3rd inning when with one away, Dean Schoenauer got a hit on a deep grounder to shortstop, Jess DuChamp, who connected for four hits off Stroble, drove a liner into left field with Schoenauer stopping at second. Malwitz flied out to LeGault and Ste. Marie sent a ground ball to Nornes at third and was out, third to first.

In the 4th, Paulsen, with one out, was given first base when hit by a pitched ball. Al Thompson's single down the right field foul line moved Babe around to third base, and Nickey Carlson's fly ball to center field permitted Paulsen to score after the catch.

Jesse DuChamp's double into left field, a passed ball, and Malwitz single into left field, scoring Jess, gave Plummer their first run in the 5th inning. And the Red Sox broke up the game in the 7th when Schoenauer doubled against the centerfield fence, with LeGault just making a one-handed stab at the ball. Jess DuChamp singled sharply past shortstop, with Schoenauer coming across the plate with the tying run.

Malwitz lofted a hit into right field, with DuChamp moving around to third base, and Ste. Marie's single to the left of shortstop, scored Jess with the winning run. Wally DuChamp, after fouling off two pitches, then poled out a long home run over the left field barier, accounting for three runs and boosting the Red Six' lead to 6 to 2. Stroble then fanned Holman and Westerlund, and fielded Christianson's ground ball and tossed to Cockrell at first base for the third out to end the Plummer rally.

The locals made a gesture for a score in the top half of the 9th when, after Nornes had poped out to Ste. Marie, Paulsen lined a double into left center. Thompson lofted a short fly to Schoenauer, and Nick Carlson was called out on strikes to end the game.

Saunders held the locals to but five hits, allowed but one base on balls, and collected fourteen strikeouts in side-arming his way to the 6 to 2 win. Stroble, after holding the Red Six in check for six innings, appeared to tire in the final two frames and lose his "stuff" with the result that the Plummer batters were getting a "big piece" of the ball when they came to bat.

The fielding high-light of the game, which was played on a diamond made soggy by rain, was a nifty double-play by the locals in the 8th inning. Nick Carlson scooped up Jess DuChamp's ground ball, tossed to Paulsen at second base to force Schoenauer, and Cockrell made a one-handed grab of Paulsen's relay throw to get Jess at first base for the double out.

Father of Grand Opera

Claudio Monteverdi is considered the father of grand opera. He was born in 1567 and died in 1643. Actually Jacobo Peri's Dafne reached the stage a decade before Monteverdi's first opera, but it is the work of the latter in combining orchestra and singers which set the style for all future operas to come. Only a few of Monteverdi's many operas have survived intact to this day, but these show that he was the first composer to demand and use a complete and varied orchestra instead of merely a clavecin reinforced by a few lutes and viols. Called by contemporaries the inventor of "a new and most admirable manner of composition for instruments and voices" and acclaimed as the "finest composer in the world," Monteverdi's influence quickly spread throughout Europe and England.

Proved Several Things

Sunday's Northern Minny league ball game at Plummer, and it was an exceptionally well-played opening game, proved several things. First, it proved that Harold Stroble can't pitch two games in one week without sacrificing much of his "stuff." Harold had hurled a game at Warren on Wednesday evening, playing in an Old Timers versus the Warren varsity, and he won that game by a 5 to 4 score. Against Plummer on Sunday, he got by pretty well for six innings, but in the seventh the Red Sox exploded for five straight hits, climaxed by Wally DuChamp's homerun.

Secondly, Sunday's game proved that Plummer, with big George Saunders mixing his shoulder-high side armed fast ball with his slow curve over the outside corner, and with the Plummer batters aiming for the fence in left field, will be a league contender. The addition of Jess and Wally DuChamp to the Red Sox roster has given Plummer considerable strength, particularly if the two contiue the brand of ball they exhibited against the locals on Sunday.

And third, Sunday's game proved that the local club will develop into one of the league's better teams. With manager Rasmussen, still the league's best third baseman, out of the game with a finger injury, and without the services of shortstop Blackie Stephens and left-fielder Swede Lund, both of whom were with the National Guard in South St. Paul, the locals, for six innings, appeared to be the winners. But the boys aren't disheartened by the loss, and they'll be ready for the Red Sox when they meet them here on July 11th.

Manager Rasmussen stated that he plans to start young Don Perkins against Erskine on Sunday. Ras didn't think that it would be wise to send the junior legion graduate against Plummer last Sunday, feeling that an opening game, and against a veteran club like the Red Sox, would have been unfair to Perk. And he was right.

In addition to losing the game Sunday, the locals lost their outfielder, Phil Le Gault, for several weeks. Phil, in making a desperate try to catch Dean Schoenauer's double against the fence in centerfield in the 7th inning, sprained his right wrist.

Big Stories and Big Fish

The walleyed pike fishing season opened on Saturday and the city's anglers are reporting their success or the reason for its unsuccess. Laurel "Bud" Schuster has a valid claim to biggest walleyed brought into town for his 10¼ pound pike was on exhibit at the Sportsman's Store for a couple of days. Bud was with that group of local fishermen who headquartered at Roy Jeame's camp on the Rainy River near Wheeler's Point, and Bud made his catch using a spinner and minnow, off the Point. The story is that Bud was asleep when the walleyed struck and that the pike hooked itself without any assistance from Bud.

It appears that most of the city's anglers were at the Lake of the Woods, either at Morris Point or Wheeer's Point, and it's agreed that the fishing was fair to good, limit catches were the rule rather than the exception, and to prove that Bud Schuster wasn't the only "big fish" fisherman, Paul Roy was successful in hooking and boating an 8½ pound walleye. And Ames P. I. Pederson had a pike that weighed 6½ pounds.

The reports from Waskish are erratic for several fisherman have stated that the pike fishing there on Saturday was the slowest they had experience for that locality. Others report that they had their usual Waskish luck and filled their string in a comparatively short while, with their chief complaint being against the wind and rain.

City Golfers to play Crookston

Rus Embury and Vic Jung are busy completing arrangements for a group, and they want all the local club members they can get, to travel to Crookston for an inter-club match. Several years ago inter-club matches were a regular feature of the season, but with gas and tire rationing the matches were discontinued. Russ and Vic are attempting to revive the matches.

Saints vs. Pirates

With the local club out of town, the city's baseball fans can be expected to make the short trip to St. Hilaire to witness the game between the Saints and the Pirates, and to give their vocal support to manager Myles Jackson's team as they battle the Northern Minny league champions. It will be Woody Almquist against the left handed slants of Ken DuPuis.

DRIVE IN YOUR OWN LANE, IS WARNING

Crowding Center Line Causes Many Accidents

More than a score of people have been killed and many times that many injured in the state already this year because the driver got "just a little bit over" or hugged "just a little too close" to the center line of the roadway, the Minnesota Editors' Safety committee warned this week, on the basis of accident records of the state department of highways.

"One of the most deadly of driving habits is the subconscious tendency of so many motorists to 'take just a little of the other fellow's driving lane'", said Ray Hannah, editor of the Stillwater Post-Messenger and chairman of the MEA safety group. "And when two drivers, both victims of this same habit, meet on the highway there is generally a double tragedy.

"There seems to be an erroneous public impression whenever we read of two or three or four people being killed in a two-car collision. We think of one of the cars being clear over on the wrong side of the road and the two cars hitting head on. Actually", he pointed out, "the Highway department's accident records show that cars meeting in side-swipe collisions accounted for 2,522 serious accidents last year as against 603 accidents which were actually headon collisions.

"Of the 2,522 side-swipes — caused by one or both drivers crowding that centerline margin of safety just a little too close—21 were fatal. Each fatal accident spelled death for one or several people, and 733 caused personal injuries to from one to a half dozen occupants. Of the 603 actual headon collisions 30 resulted in single or multiple fatalities and 300 in non-fatal personal injuries."

Supporting Mr. Hannah's contention, records of the state Highway department show that 23 traffic deaths so far this year, and several times that number of serious injuries have occurred as a result of one or both vehicles being over the centerline frequently "just a little bit".

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

By Arthur Naftajin

Four weeks from next Monday the big Republican show will open in Philadelphia. The period remaining before the national GOP convention will, of course, see even increased activity, creating by convention time an unprecedented peak of political excitment.

Minnesota's Harold Stassen appears likely to enter the GOP conclave as the No. 1 contender. The state's 25-man delegation will certainly be in the continuous limelight as the big contest proceeds.

How long the convention will last is anybody's guess, but present indications are that it may drag through many days before one candidate gets a majority.

Friday's Presidential primary election in Oregon now commands the current attention. Governor Thomas Dewey is reported to have made great headway in his long tour of the state. Stassen supporters became so worried, they insisted that Stassen be rushed back to stem a possible Dewey tide.

Political observers were amused by the sparring between Stassen and Dewey over the former's challenge to debate. Dewey's managers did not want him to debate in public from a platfom, because they felt that Dewey's short stature might place him in an unfavorable light alongside Stassen's larger and more commanding physical size.

But, when Dewey's camp offered to make it a radio debate, the Stassen side declined. The feeling was that Dewey's well-trained voice would give him advantage over Stassen.

The Minnesota Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party is staging a statewide search for talent. With only three weeks remaining before the state DFL convention in Brainerd June 12, there are many open spots for state and Congressional office on the Party's ticket.

The DFL district conventions, which customarily endorse candidates for the Congressional seats, will meet next Sunday, May 23 and they will indicate how many likely candidates there may be in the offing. In a few instances, notably the Third and the Fourth, there may be some lively scraps for the endorsement.

The one spot that is well-covered is the Senatorial seat where Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey has recently announced his candidacy. The big question to be settled by the convention will be selection of a running-mate for governor. To date there has not been extensive discussion of DFL gubernatorial possibilities.

The state DFL convention will not lack excitement. At the very outset there will be a battle royal over the seating of contested delegations. Hennepin county will have two full delegations of 148 persons each, both claiming the right to be seated. It appears most likely, however, that these contests will be resolved in the favor of regular delegations as opposed to those favoring a Third Party.

But the big convention fight is likely to come over the question of whether the delegation to the national Democratic convention should be instructed to support the renomination of President Truman or whether it should be uninstructed.

There is some sentiment for the candidacy of William O. Douglas, the supreme court justice, but it is highy unlikely that the convention would declare for Douglas. A more likely outcome is an uninstructed delegation.

The heavy firing in the Minnesota elections is not likely to begin for several months. With the primary set for September it is unlikely that there will be any real cannonading until late in July, until after both national conventions are out of the way.

On the Republican side, there will be continuing uncertainty as to strategy until it is clear what Stassen's future holds. If he is the Presidential nominee, then it will be full steam ahead behind his candidacy. If he fails to get the nomination, a whole new arrangement may result with Stassen entering the state picture.

Stassen would presumably be available either to step into the GOP Senatorial primary or into the Governorship race with Governor Luther Youngdahl moving over into the Senatorial situation. Such talk is, however, played down in GOP circles; the strategy is to concentrate full attention on the Presidency.

A rumor out of Washington has it that trouble is brewing within the Wallace Third Party leadership. The Communist Party is reported as ready to drop Wallace because he has become increasingly more independent and increasingly more sensitive to the charge that the Communists are running his campaign.

Bikini Natives Moved

Ujelang island, which the [illegible] Bikini migrants are reported to have chosen in preference to other sites, is the farthest west of the formerly Japanese-mandated Marshall group. A low coral atoll, enclosing an oval lagoon about [illegible] miles long, it is about the same size as Rongerik. Both Rongerik and Ujelang have less than half as much land as Bikini. Bikini, Rongerik and Ujelang all lie in the northern, less favored half of the Marshalls. In 1870 Ujelang was completely washed over by a great sea wave. The survivors migrated to another spot and the island was temporarily uninhabited.

Know Your Vegetables

Cabbage, tomatoes and green peppers rate high in vitamin C (ascorbic acid) among fresh summer vegetables. Fortunately for the housewife who buys vegetables at the market, these three vegetables hold their vitamin C well, even at room temperature when most other vegetables lose it rapidly. Recently the Ohio experiment station made vitamin C tests of 14 common fresh vegetables after keeping them 48 hours in air at room temperature—that is, as they are kept on display counters in the ordinary grocery store. They found that cabbage held 84 per cent of its original vitamin C; tomatoes 88 per cent, and green peppers 80 per cent. All other vegetables lost a much larger percentage of their vitamin C.

Always a Pleasure...

Mr. and Mrs. are rightly proud of the fine string of fish taken from one of Minnesota's beautiful wooded lakes and when they return to camp and that "tired, let-down feeling" comes, it's always a pleasure to enjoy a refreshing glass of wholesome, sparkling clear beer.

For beer is the kind of beverage Americans like. It belongs to pleasant living, to good fellowship, to sensible moderation. And our right to enjoy it, this too, belongs to our own American heritage of personal freedom.

Beer belongs... enjoy it

To a little girl just learning to telephone...

If you're on a party line you'll want to use the phone the way Mother and Dad and Big Brother do, won't you?

Well, honey, it's like this: You won't talk too long, will you? Or call all the kids one after another? Or get panicky if you hear someone talking when you start to make a call? (Just hang up, that's all.) And you won't forget to hang up when you are through talking either, will you?

Oh, you'll make a fine party-liner.

Agricultural Extension Start

The agricultural extension service in its present form officially came into being in 1914. In that year congress passed and Pres. Woodrow Wilson signed the Smith-Lever act which set up the extension service. The start of the teaching and work which has grown into the present extension system took place about the time the American republic was being born. In 1785 the Philadelphia society was organized to aid agriculture and spread information of interest and value to farm families. Similar movements continued through all the phases of national growth. Farmers' institutes were started and had become well established by 1890, with many states providing money for them. These institutes tried to bring to farmers at meetings the results of experimental work in agriculture and home economics. From these institutes grew the Boys' Corn clubs, which later became the 4-H clubs.

NEW POLL SHOWS SHARP INCREASE IN STASSEN LEAD

Gallup Poll Reveals Minnesota Candidate Well Ahead of Dewey

With voters disposed to watch the presidential poll more than in other years, new interest was aroused among Minnesotans this week in the race Harold S. Stassen is making for the Republican nomination for president by announcement of a new Gallup poll which showed a further big increase in voters' preferences over Governor Dewey, his nearest rival.

Voters are more inclined than usual this year to consider how candidates are going to fare in other states throughout the country before making up their minds, political observers have noted, and the new poll should influence the decision of many voters.

The new poll shows a decided change in the preferences of Republican voters since the last poll of this kind reported on April 25th. Standing of the two leading candidates then and today was given as follows:

	April 25	Now
STASSEN	31%	37%
DEWEY	29%	24%

Stassen's strength has increased rapidly in recent months, stimulated by his successes in winning the Wisconsin and Nebraska primaries and tests in other states. He has gone up from 15 % to 37% in the Gallup poll since March, while Dewey's strength has declined from 37% to 24%. Almost a year ago, in July, Dewey's percentage was 50% in the Gallup poll, and Stassen had 15%.

The Gallup poll just issued showed other candidates trailing far behind Stassen and Dewey. Taft had, 8 %; Vandenberg, 13 %, and Mac Arthur, 12%.

THEN THEY JOINED HANDS...On May 28 the U.S. government will issue this commemorative 'Four Chaplains' stamp. This is the story behind it: The troopship S.S. Dorchester was torpedoed and sunk in the North Atlantic in February, 1943. On board were four chaplains of three faiths: Protestant ministers George L. Fox and Clark V. Poling, Father John P. Washington and Rabbi Alexander G. Goode. When the ship was hit each of the four gave his lifebelt to nearby men without them. Then they joined hands and prayed to the one God they all served for the safety of the men struggling to leave the ship. The four chaplains died together. Statements of the survivors of the sinking include these words: 'This is the picture engraved on our minds and hearts as the S.S. Dorchester disappeared beneath the waves.'

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Joseph H. Ball

The southern Democrats, who are a very resourceful crew, have discovered and are using a new tactic in their fight over so-called civil rights legislation. It looks like a very successful tactic, and one which may end any chance of passage of anti-lynch or anti-poll tax legislation at this session.

What it amounts to is that the southerners are taking the offensive on the issue, instead of always being on the defensive. It happened first during Senate consideration of a joint resolution approving a compact among a dozen southern states to establish and support regional colleges and universities, particularly in the technical and professional fields.

The bill had breezed through the House without any trouble, and was reported favorably by the Senate Judiciary Committee. Its proponents thought it would take about half an hour of the Senate's time. It took four days of debate and then was killed when it was sent back to committee by a vote of 38 to 37.

What happened was that, first, Senator John Cooper of Kentucky in a fine and lucid talk, convinced that Congressional approval of the compact was unnecessary because it did not encroach in any way on federal powers or preprogatives. Since recent Supreme Court decisions require states to offer equal educational facilities to Negros and whites, it became fairly apparent that what the southern states planned to do was develop regional colleges for negroes.

Had Congress approved the compact by passing the resolution, it would have been in effect an indirect endorsement of segregation in public schools. Once that became clear to a majority of the Senate, the resolution approving the compact was defeated.

But the southerners, if they had not had that purpose in mind in the beginning, became aware during the debate that they hit on a new and potent tactic in their fight on the civil rights bill they oppose so bitterly. The tactic is simply for the southerners to take the offensive wherever possible in raising the issue, thereby taking up so much time of the Senate in debate that it will be impossible to find the time to fight through any of the bills they really want to stop.

Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia, who is one of the ablest of the southern group, tipped off the new tactics when he announced that he would offer an amendment to the selective service bill to require the armed services to respect the wishes of draftees who signify in writing that they do not want to serve in mixed white and negro outfits.

The amendment, of course, will be defeated, as it was in the Armed Sevices Committee. But it will consume time. A fairly reasonable argument can be made for it on the grounds that individuals are entitled to freedom to choose their associates, but it would be administratively unworkable even if it were sound. The Army cannot take the time and paper wok required to check both the wishes of the individual soldier and the character of the unit he is going into every time replacements are sent out.

There is often more to parliamentary scraps than meets the eye.

2-4-D IS NOT ONLY WEEDS CHEMICAL

Other Kinds Effective Also, Says County Agent

While 2-4-D is an important chemical for use in controlling farm weeds, it is not the only one on the market. County Agent Frank A. Hobbs said today. Among others which can be used effectively to control weeds are borax, ammonium sulfamate and the dinitros, commonly sold under the names Sinox and Dow's Selective.

According to R. S. Dunham, agronomist at the University of Minnesota, each of these chemicals is most effective when applied to the particular weeds most susceptible to its action.

Ammonium sulfamate, sold under the trade name "Ammate" has been found effective against certain woody plants such as poison ivy, wild rose, wild cherry and similar species. One and one-half to 2 pounds per gallon of water are recommended as a foliage spray for these plants.

The selective dinitros are used against some of the annual weeds with rougher leaves. The mustards, wild buckwheat and pigweed are susceptible to this group of chemicals.

Dunham suggests that use of 2-4-D to control dandelions, plantains, chickweeds and other broad-leaved species of weeds in lawns. It will control susceptible weeds in grass pastures and meadows and along highways. The use of 2-4-D to control susceptible weeds in oats, barley, wheat and rye is also suggested by Dunham. Control is cheap and does not reduce yields materially.

URGES CARE WHEN SCHOOL BUS STOPS

Many Cars Don't Stop For Buses, Is Report

As the school year nears its end and driving conditions on rural roads improve, an increasing number of motorists have been reported by the state highway patrol, school patrol officers school bus drivers and even parents of school bus riders who have witnessed individual violations of the law.

The state highway department and local officers this week reiterated the warning that the state law requires all vehicles, whether approaching from behind the school bus or from the opposite direction come to a complete stop if the school bus has stopped to take on or discharge passengers. They are forbidden to pass the bus from either direction as long as the "Stop" warning sign on the bus is displayed. The only exception to the law are in built-up areas of cities and villages.

Law enforcement officials appeal to motorists to "carefully and strictly obey the school bus stop law during the few days remaining of the school year, and get the habit of obeying it for the protection of children's lives next year and in the years to come."

School Notes

Participation in extra curricular activities aids in making one's career a success, and in late life the same kind of participation in the community makes the latter a better place in which to live, stressed Alvin Christofferson, Thief River Falls, Chief speaker at the Goodridge high school honor banquet Thursday.

"There is no such thing as a country hick any longer, as country boys and girls now learn to associate with other people," Christofferson added. He plugged for conservation and urged music for the school.

The major award winners and their points totals are Ronald Bucholz, 12½; Lloyd Wiseth, 12½; Mary Jane Hanson, 12½; Freda Habedank, 13; Goldie Habedank, 14½; Lorna Salveson, 16½; Marlys Geving, 17; Alvina Askeland 18; and Marion Olson, 21½.

Recommendations for the next school year were made by Nonte Jarvi, principal.

Wallace Payne member of the student council listed numerous new activities for the year.

Supt. George Netteland in congratulating the award winners stated that the race wasn't always to the swift, but to the most industrious. H. A. South, board director spoke briefly. Marion Olson was toastmistress.

The banquet was served by the ladies aid of the First Lutheran church under the direction of Mrs. Axel Sund.

Stassen's leaps and bounds throughout the country are re-echoed by the high school students here as in a poll Friday he gained 38 votes, Truman received 10 votes, Wallace 7, Dewey 1 and Taft 2.

The poll was conducted by Nonte Jarvi, social studies instructor, who polled the class last December on the same race.

In December the best Stassen could do was muster 22 votes, just two ahead of Truman. In the same poll Eisenhower tallied six votes, Taft 5 and Wallace 3 and MacArthur 2.

The week-end's hard rains caused closing of the school Monday. Only three and one-half days of school due to weather conditions have been missed all year.

State board examinations will begin Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Coach Jamison of Fisher high school is another coach in the area who is interested in promoting soccer football, reports Nonte Jarvi, local mentor, who has been plugging for the sport since his arrival here in September.

The chances are good that one of next year's meetings of the Lake Agassiz Schoolmen's club will be held in Goodridge. At this year's final meeting of the club at Crookston, Nonte Jarvi invited the group here, feeling certain that a church group would serve the meal.

B. B. Hammer and Gunnar Gunstenson of Thief River Falls were callers last week at the O. O. Bjorgan home.

Rev. S. S. Gjerde, traveling evangelist of Minneapolis spent Monday at the Bjorgan home. Rev. Gjerde was a former classmate of both Rev. and Mrs. Bjorgan and they hadn't met for 38 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hassel and Lloyd visited in Rindal Sunday.

At the final meeting of the Do As You Please club, Nonte Jarvi spoke on the Minnesota Centennial which will be celebrated during the coming school year, and the possibility of organizing junior historians at the school next fall. He stressed that the historians could well plan and develop a centennial program here.

Placing the Thermostat

The thermostat should be placed where it will maintain, as nearly as possible, the average temperature of the house or space to be controlled. The best location is usually on an inside wall of the living room or dining room where there will be a free circulation of air over the instrument. It should not be exposed to hot or cold drafts, warm air registers, radiators, fireplaces, lamps or direct rays of the sun. Nor should the thermostat be mounted on an outside wall or walls containing hot or cold water pipes or ducts or the chimney. The bottom of the thermostat should be located so that it is about four or five feet above the floor.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Take Your Choice, Neighbor!

The missus—who writes our Woman's Column in the Clarion under the name of "Nancy Gale"—gets letters about recipes, advice on etiquette, home management, etc.

One letter she got last week was about a recipe she published for Welsh Rarebit—made with tart cheese, Worcestershire, and a cup of sparkling tangy beer. "Turned out great," says her correspondent. "But you didn't mention what beverage to serve with it. Should I serve beer? Cider? Iced tea?"

The missus' answer was simply: "Any beverage your guests prefer. You don't have to serve cider—any more than you have to serve beer ...but it's often courteous to let guests have a choice."

From where I sit, that simple answer applies to more items than Welsh Rarebit. In a world where everyone has different tastes and ideas—we should recognize those differences—and never deny the right of choice to anyone!

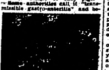
NEW-TYPE DISEASE KILLS YOUNG PIGS

Swine raisers and veterinarians are on the alert this year for fresh outbreaks of a deadly new intestinal disease of baby pigs.

Some authorities call it "transmissible gastro-enteritis" and believe it is caused by a virus. The disease affects swine of all ages, but rarely causes death except among pigs under 10 days old. On some farms last season, it killed practically all of the spring pigs.



The danger age for baby pig disease.

Typical symptoms include scouring, vomiting, and rapid loss of weight — followed by death in very young pigs, and slow recovery in older swine.

These symptoms are similar to those of several other common diseases of swine. The disease must be differentiated, for instance, from other types of bowel infection such as white scours. It must be distinguished also from pig typhoid, navel infection, uremia poisoning, hypoglycemia, three-day pig disease, toxemias and other digestive upsets.

Veterinarians say this is the only known disease that causes such a high death rate in very young pigs, and at the same time affects also the sows and shoats on the farm.

Fortunately, "transmissible gastro-enteritis" can usually be eliminated from the premises if farmers do a thorough job of cleaning and disinfecting after an outbreak. There is no known medical treatment, but an accurate veterinary diagnosis is highly important. If some other disease is the primary cause of trouble, the pigs can be treated and heavy death losses may be prevented.

Man is making progress in his quest for information about the mountain ranges, peaks and valleys hidden under the oceans, says National Geographic society. On the heels of an expedition to the Mid-Atlantic ridge comes word that coast and geodetic survey scientists have chartered a volcanic range under Bering sea waters and an 11,300 foot peak rising from the deep floor of the north Pacific ocean. To Rebuild Capital

Agana, capital of Guam, is being rebuilt as a model community to hold half of Guam's 23,000 people. Prewar Agana had a governor's palace built in Spanish days, a cathedral, an electric power plant and homes of coral limestone and wood planking. There were banks, movies, restaurants, drugstores, a dime store — in fact, everything to be found in a United States town of similar size. Ever since Guam was ceded by Spain to the United States in 1898, the naval station commandant has been the island's governor. The naval government, interrupted in December, 1941, was formally restored in 1946.

NORTHERN WOODWORK CO.
They are made for Round Roofed Barns, Machine Sheds and other buildings, any size, and run from foundation to peak in one solid piece. Laminated Rafters are strong because the grain of the wood runs parallel to the face at all points. They are made with moisture-proof glue and sufficient pressure to absolutely weld the pieces in one solid unit. This gives strength without great weight. Thus, they are very easily put up and save you much costly labor. A special connector and bolt is used which gives the strength of six ordinary half-inch bolts! These and other features which we will be glad to explain to you make these the newest thing in rafters. See us for an estimate on the building you need.

The Red Poppy speaks to you an understanding American! I am not just a crepe paper flower. I am not just a crushed bud of paper fashioned by the tired hands of those thousands who marched away at the call of the country returning home broken in body and spirit and with the thread of economic success in life broken. I am the symbol of their sacrifice made daily behind hospital walls. I am not just a flower offered by the Legion Auxiliary. I am the throbbing symbol of sacrifice required of all good citizens in binding up the wounds of a nation's disabled.

In rememberance of America heroic dead and in helpfulness to her living disabled and dependents wear me, on Poppy Day.

CONSTITUTION OF STATE OUT OF DATE

Gives Authority to State Banks to Issue Currency

Got any Minnesota dollars? Better look up in the attic or in old Aunt Hattie's carpet bag before you answer, because up to about the time of the war between the states, Minnesota banks printed their own money.

In fact, most of the folding money in circulation in the country was issued by state banks.

Skeptical? Take a look at Minnesota's constitution, article 9, section 13. You'll find the provisions there for regulating such currency, the type and amount of security needed by the state bank issuing it.

But the federal government entered the money picture in 1863, chartering national banks to issue money on a country-wide basis; thus eliminating the great variety in American greenbacks. And to insure the outlawing of state currencies, a federal tax of ten per cent was imposed on all state-issued bank notes.

Obsolete and superseded provisions, such as this one, still part of Minnesota's 91 year old constitution, have indicated the need for constitutional revision. The last session of the legislature, with that in mind, established a Constitutional Commission to study and recommend changes in the document. The Commission, through its committees, is now studying each section of the constitution and will makes its formal report to the legislature and state officials by next October 1.

Mrs. Ripley, our president opened the meeting. The audience sang, "I think when I read the sweet story."

Rev. P. Alfred Peterson, our representative of this district in the temperance work led in afterwards.

Miss Mary Frances Cook introduced the contest. Those taking part were Barbara Bjorkman, Betty Owen, Ardean Dyrud and Roger and Gaylen Ose.

While waiting for the judges decision Betty Ose played "Robins Return" and we sang hymns. An offering was received to give the children a treat afterwards.

Mrs. Berve, Mrs. Westacott and Miss Overum were the judges. Ardean Dyrud of Steiner school won first prize which consisted of a beautiful silver medal. Mrs. Lanska has had charge of this department and we want to thank her for her untiring efforts on behalf of these children. The winner goes to the district contest at Warren.

Terminating Termites
Annual damage from termites in the United States is estimated to exceed 50 million dollars, yet the installation of a permanent termite control system should not be more than 2 per cent of the cost of a house. In sections of the South, more than 90 per cent of houses show termite infestation.

Excellent Rendition of "Lost Horizon" Is Given Friday Evening

In presenting their class play, "Lost Horizon", the Lincoln high school senior class Friday evening handled a difficult vehicle with exceptional skill, judging by the reaction of the audience that witnessed the production.

The high school auditorium was not crowded to capacity, largely due to the fact that a heavy shower fell just before the play was scheduled to begin, thus discouraging some prospective attendants.

The play, directed by Miss Helen Movius, opened with a prologue and closed with an epilogue in which roles were taken by Norma Torgerson, Jean Sandberg, Alan Cabot, John Gullingsrud, Barbara Kays, Alice Lind, Phillip Jensen, Loren Borsheim and James Roy.

Included in the able cast of characters of the play itself were Gordon Odegaard, Paul Sponheim, Allen Hanson, Jeanette Grinde, Hewitt Flom, Arlene Williams, Joyce Williams, Allen Hitterdal, Marjorie Swanson, Phyllis Steen and Gerry Nelson.

TWIN WANTED

A little man came into the office of a psychiatrist.

"Come in," boomed the doctor. "What seems to be the trouble?"

"I was wondering," the little man offered timidly, "if you couldn't split my personality for me."

The doctor looked puzzled. "Split your personality? Why, goodness me, my man, why would you want that done?"

Tears tumbled down the little man's face. "Oh, doctor," he wailed, "I'm so lonesome!"

Such Humiliation!

Professor Wright, who was a stickler on correct English and proper spelling, was sitting in his living room, reading quietly. Suddenly the door burst open and his excited wife rushed in flourishing a piece of paper. She handed the paper to the professor, who opened it and read:

"I am running away from home and I am taking the money you hid in the dresser drawer and have gone to the south maybe to Mexiko Your son."

"Oh the shame of it!" shrieked the professor. "To think that a son of mine could be guilty of using such horrible grammar. He even misspelled Mexico."

Early Game

A shop foreman found certain off-duty chores accumulating till his daylight afterwork hours were not enough to complete them. So he posted a bulletin one morning asking his employes to start work at six o'clock for a few days, to accommodate him.

"You play ball with me and I'll play ball with you," he added.

One of the sleepy-eyed workmen read the sign, pondered a minute, then wrote below.

"O.K., I guess. But six a.m. is no time to play ball."

The Whistle Blows

Endeavoring to rest after an exceeding hard day, poor father was being bedeviled by an endless stream of unanswerable questions from little Willie.

"What do you do down at the office?" the youngster finally asked.

"Nothing!" shouted father.

It looked like the kid had been put off for a while, but not for long. For after a thoughtful pause, Willie inquired, "Pop, how do you know when you're through?"

Oxidation and Corrosion Are Major Oil Problems

There are two fundamental and important considerations for all engine oils—how the performance of an oil can be predicted and when is the oil worn out.

Foremost among the problems in lubricating oil are oxidation and corrosion. More or less rapid oxidation of lubricating oil now occurs at the temperatures at which modern engines are operated. This results in formation of gums and sludges which are in themselves a major problem.

Research at University of Nebraska indicates that as oxidation progresses in oil, difficulties arise because of gradual lowering of the temperature at which corrosion products of oxidation form.

Pressure, foreign solids, dilution products of incomplete combustion and metallic catalysts are all involved in the "wearing out" of lubricating oil. The tests indicate a wide variation existing in the oxidation characteristics of oils now on the market.

In the final analysis it is the appearance and condition of the engine which counts rather than that of the crankcase oil. The problem of oil deterioration is complex and is not likely to be reduced to fundamentals without extensive research.

Scientists Continue Study Of Life on Mars Problem

The problem of life on Mars is one step nearer solution. The discovery of carbondioxide on Mars, in quantities very much the same as that on earth, has been made at Yerkes observatory, University of Chicago, and McDonald observatory, University of Texas.

The percentage of carbondioxide in the atmosphere of Mars was measured at McDonald observatory with the new Kuiper-designed infrared spectrometer, one of the most powerful tools for astronomical research. Two new carbondioxide bands were photographed with the instrument.

The results indicate a very modest quantity of carbondioxide in the spectrum of Mars. The earth's atmosphere contains 1/3000 carbondioxide. The radiations from Mars, by which the measurements were made, have wave lengths three times as great as that of visible light.

The poisonous gases, such as methane and ammonia, which would make life impossible are absent on Mars. The bulk of the atmosphere, according to astronomers, might be made up of nitrogen, which does not have bands in the observable part of the spectrum.

Women in the Soviet

More than 25,000 Soviet women have scientific degrees. More than 33,000 work in scientific laboratories or research institutes, according to Soviet reports. About 100,000 Soviet women are physicians, 250,000 engineers and 760,000 teachers. Thirty years ago out of 2,300,000 women gainfully employed, 1,300,000 were domestic servants in urban localities and 750,000 were farm laborers in the rural areas. There were scarcely any women engineers or scientists. With more than half of the enrollment at institutions of higher learning consisting of women, the number of women with a college education is growing.

VIKING

A silver wedding reception was held at the Zion Lutheran church Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Barr. They plan to move to Alexandria this month so the reception held a double purpose.

Earl Erickson and Lauers Peterson were the ushers. Patricia Ann Barr of Alexandria and John Wm. Johnson of Radium preceded their grandparents, the honored guests to their places to the strains of Lohengrin wedding march played by Beverly Gustafson. Egbert Malberg, presiding in a fitting task welcomed the guests. Emil Shern led in scripture and prayer. The men's quartette rendered two lovely numbers. Rev. Thompson sang "My Prayers" and he also gave a talk well chosen for the evening.

Mrs. Carl Krohn read an original poem which she had composed about the Barr's courtship days. Mrs. Egbert Malberg gave a few remarks in behalf of the ladies aid.

The gift, a sum of money from friends and neighbors was presented by Mr. Malberg, after which Mr. W. W. Barr responded with thanks and appreciation. The program closed with singing the Doxology.

The honored guests and immediate family were ushered to the church parlors where the family was seated at an attractively decorated table. The center piece was a three tiered decorated wedding cake, a gift of the ladies aid and also the corsage which Mrs. Barr wore. Place cards, nut baskets, tall candles and silver hearts were other forms of decoration. At this time the children presented their parents with a beautiful set of silverware. The other guests were served a buffet style lunch. The remainder of the evening was spent socially and congratulating and extending the Barrs best wishes and happiness in their new home.

Those from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barr and Paddy and Phillip Barr of Alexandria, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Johnson and John William of Radium, Mr. and Mrs. John Sindelon of Graceton, Minn., Mrs. George Magoris of Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamrich and June of Radium, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Carlson of Angus, Mr. and Mrs. Chas Rud and family of Radium, Mr. and Mrs. Winton Knutson and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Aaness of Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Peters and Maynard and Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Anderson spent Sunday at the Lake of the Woods fishing.

Poppy Day May 29

When you buy your Poppy on Saturday, May 29, think of the brave American boys who lie beneath the waving poppies in the war cemeteries. Think of the disabled veterans you are helping by the coin you drop into the poppy workers box.

Especially do we want to remember the young lad who left college to serve his country. He didn't come back to finish college but gave his life so that we at home may have ours to live and then that neighbors kid the one who was always so active. He is spending his days in a veterans hospital.

Think of these things and you will understand the true significance of the Poppy.

PENNINGTON RANKS 4TH IN BOND SALES IN SECURITY DRIVE

Sales Total $58,912 Thru May 8 or 27.5 Pct. of Quota of $214,000

Security Loans of U. S. Savings bonds in Pennington county totaled $58,912 for the period April 12 through May 8, it was announced by James Beche, county chairman of the savings bonds division of the treasury department.

This represents 27.5 per cent of the sales goal of $214,000 for the drive which ends June 30, and places Pennington county fourth among the state's 87 counties.

Total sales for Minnesota for the same period were $10,123,782 of which E bonds accounted for $6,779,818, it was reported by Darrell D. Dandy, state director of the bond division.

All Minnesota counties except one have now been organized for the campaign with personal solicitation planned in many quarters before the drive is completed on June 30. The full effect of the efforts of county organizations is already being felt in sales trends and the activities of volunteer solicitors are expected to be a deciding f[illegible] in meeting sales objectives.

Winnipeg Police Band to Appear at Greenbush

The Northern Minnesota Sheep Day to be held at Greenbush on June 12 is featuring the noted Winnipeg Police Pipe Band and Highland Girl Dancers. They will perform at mid-day and in the evening.

IT WAS ALL IN THE FAMILY

A baby daughter took up residence at the Edgar Severson home near Northfield, May 3. Which is hardly unusual except that May 3 is Mrs. Severson's birthday, and also the birthday of both her father and mother. When Mrs. Bessie Allen arrived in Rochester from New Ferry, Cheshire, England, she was greeted by three brothers whom she had not seen in 41 years, since they left the homeland in 1907. When the Al J. Heymans left Sleepy Eye for a west coast trip they thought the children would be better off with relatives than at home alone. Young Tommy, thinking it wouldn't do any harm to check up at home—and found the kitchen flooded; sink drain closed, faucets dripping.

POLICE CHIEF GLEN AHRE —

Cites City Ordinances

This is the fifth in a series of condensed interpretations of local ordinances published at the request of G. E. Ahre, Sup't. of police, for the information and guidance of all concerned.

ORDINANCE NO. 202—Regulating the use of highways within the city of Thief River Falls, and imposing penalties for the violation thereof: (continued)

Driving under the influence of liquor or narcotics. No person shall drive any vehicle on any street or highway within the city while under the influence of narcotics or liquors, and no person shall consume liquor while an occupant of a vehicle upon any street in the city.

Emergency vehicles. When the warning device of an emergency vehicle is sounded, all vehicles upon the streets of the city shall draw to the right side of the street and permit such vehicles to pass. No vehicle of any kind shall precede fire apparatus to a fire using the street that it is using. No vehicle shall follow fire apparatus at less than 500 feet nor be parked within the block where fire apparatus has stopped in answer to a fire alarm.

Pedestrians. At non-controlled intersections, motor vehicles shall yield the right-of-way to pedestrians by changing their rate of speed or stopping if necessary when such pedestrians are in the intersection, but no vehicle shall pass another vehicle that has slowed down at a crosswalk for a pedestrian to pass. At any other point than a crosswalk, pedestrians shall yield the right-of-way to motor vehicles. No person shall stand on a street in a roadway for the purpose of soliciting rides. Pedestrians walking upon a street or roadway shall walk near the left side of the roadway, giving way to oncoming traffic.

Stopping after accident. The driver of any motor vehicle involved in any accident resulting in injury or death to any person or damage to property shall immediately stop such vehicle at the scene of such accident and give his name, address, and the registration number of his vehicle and exhibit his Driver's license or Chauffeur's license to the person struck or the driver or occupant of any vehicle collided with. If the person sustaining injury or damage is incapable of receiving such information, than the vehicle operator shall immediately communicate this information to a police officer or the police department and receive from them the name and address of such officer to whom the information was communicated.

Moving Violating Vehicles. Whenever any police officer finds a vehicle standing or parked upon a highway or street in violation of the provision of this ordinance, he is authorized to move it to a position permitted under the section of this ordinance relating to parked vehicles.

Curb, gasoline pump and air hose. The use of any portion of any highway adjacent to the curb or sidewalk in this city (which highway has been designated as a "thru street" or "thru highway" or which is included in the congested zone) for the purpose of distributing gasoline, oils, or for the purpose of distributing compressed air by means of pumps, tanks, hose or other incidental equipment is prohibited.

Penalty. Any person convicted of violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $100.00 or by imprisonment in the city or county jail for a period not to exceed three months.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Know Your Own Power

From the results of investigation by psychologists of the attitude that children take toward discipline, we find that children often feel that the punishment given to them is "harder" than their parents think it to be.

Many of us have had the experience of being nudged by a playful horse. If the horse is just a little too playful and nudges a little too hard, we find that he is being rough, not playful any longer.

Children have the same experience with discipline. Really most children do not object too seriously to major spankings for a good cause. But they do resent the frequent little slaps, shoves, cuffs, spanks and other so-called "mild" corporal punishment that parents inflict. Almost always these things feel much more painful than an adult appreciates. Perhaps you can get a clearer picture if you keep in mind the nudging horse.

These frequent and mild punishments also are indignities of the worst kind, because the child cannot fight back. His parents are able to best him physically, and in addition have very powerful means of making him "mind" by taking away his property, privileges or other things.

Often this type of "mild" discipline becomes habitual. It is all too easy to get a child to start moving by a slap or push. There is no argument with the contention that it works. It does, indeed, but only for the moment. If continued over a long period of time such treatment builds up more and more resentment, calling for more and more severe punishment.

This vicious circle can be avoided by being very careful to keep from using such annoying types of punishment. Substitute more positive, constructive methods such as reasoning, isolation, or ignoring the child's poor response. These things are more difficult to carry out because they require the parents to think and to react in a considered manner rather than in an automatic, dictatorial manner.

Before making late plantings of vegetables rework the soil. This will kill many weed seedlings that may be germinating. Information on gardening consult Extension Bulletin 174, "The Home Vegetable Garden." Get a copy at the county extension office.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

LINCOLN HIGH GRADUATION IS THIS EVENING

127 Seniors to Receive Diplomas and 14 to Get Teacher Certificates

Attired in academic cap and gown, 127 Lincoln high school seniors will receive diplomas at commencement exercises in the school auditorium this evening at 8 o'clock. Fourteen teacher training department graduates also will receive certificates.

The processional march will be played by the Lincoln school band, directed by Orel B. Vangen, followed by the salutatory by Jean Sandberg and two selections by the high school chorus directed by Mr. Vangen.

Rev. Elmer S. Hjortland, widely known pastor of Central Lutheran church in Minneapolis, will deliver the commencement address, followed by two selections by the high school girls sextet and the valedictory by Paul Sponheim.

W. G. Claffy, principal, will present the class to Dr. A. E. Jacobson, president of the board of education, who will confer the diplomas. Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted will confer teachers certificates and scholarships, while the Legion and Legion auxiliary citizen awards will be presented respectively by Willis Wright and Mrs Bruce Biddick.

Members of the graduating class made their first appearance in somber cap and gown Sunday evening when baccalaureate services were conducted in the high school auditorium by Rev G. S. Thompson. He addressed the young people on the theme, "Setting Religion Right-side-up".

He stated that in spite of the alleged growing complexity of modern life, there are still three main factors in man's universe, making up a triangle with you on one side, other people on another and with God at the base.

True religion, he said, consists in having faith in a God that is beyond us, and he pointed out that faith is not a technique for getting around difficulties.

RED CROSS VOTES FUNDS FOR WATER SAFETY PROGRAM

Also Votes to Purchase Equipment for Testing Hearing of Children

The advisory board of the Pennington county chapter of the American Red Cross at a meeting Friday evening authorized the expenditure of $350 for its water safety program this year. The funds will be used to aid in financing the services of lifeguards at the Tindolph park swimming pool. The appropriation compares with $150 voted last year for the same purpose.

The board also voted to purchase at a cost of $238.50 a portable audiometer, designed for use in early detection of hearing deficiencies. The equipment will be utilized in testing school children of Thief River Falls as well as thruout Pennington county.

Appointments approved at the session include those of Fred Protz as chairman of the water safety committee; Ben Frolland, disaster relief; and R. S. Eidevik, home service.

Community Church to Dedicate Additional Pews Sunday Morning

On Sunday morning at 11:00 a. m. as a part of the regular morning worship service the new pews recently added at the Community Methodist Church will be formally dedicated. The pews which are located in the rear of the church, are given as memorials to members of the congregation who have passed away in recent years. The pews which are constructed of oak and elm were made by the Northern Woodwork company of this city.

The pews are given in memory of Lt John W. Hess, two pews; Lt. K. Burns Mathewson, Ward Mathewson, Mrs. Andrew Bottelson and Mrs. Wm. Korstad

Thief River Falls Man in Line for Appointment By Governor Youngdahl

The probability that for the first time in history a Thief River Falls man would be appointed a judge of the 14th judicial district loomed strong following announcement Monday of the outcome of a poll of members of the district bar association.

The poll, taken at the request of Governor L. W. Youngdahl to learn the sentiment of the attorneys relative to a successor to Judge Oscar R. Knutson of Warren, recently appointed to the state supreme court, resulted in Attorney Paul A. Lundgren of this city receiving 24 votes, while the two other candidates, W. O. Braggans and A. A. Trost, both of Warren, received respectively eight and seven votes.

The recommendations of the bar association have been sent in to Governor Youngdahl, who, however, has been away from his office in St Paul and has not had an opportunity to make an appointment. The man selected will serve only until after the fall election, unless he is a successful candidate at that time.

Spokesmen for the bar group stated that in the last two instances the lawyers' choice has been the man ultimately chosen by the governor.

ENRAGED MAN KILLS 2 WOMEN EAST OF ARGYLE

Clarence Lindstrom Murders His Mother and Grandmother Monday

Two elderly women were battered to death in their Wright township farm home about ten miles east of Argyle Monday night.

Dead are Mrs. Aaron Lindstrom, 65 years of age and her mother, Mrs Maria Hegstrom, 89 years of age. Their faces were bludgeoned beyond recognition. Mrytle Lindstrom, 35 years of age, another occupant of the house, escaped although she too was beaten. She could not tell a coherent story.

Clarence Lindstrom, 40 year old son of Mrs. Lindstrom, voluntarily admitted that he did the rash deed when he drove up to Sheriff Toftner's residence at the county jail in Warren shortly after six o'clock Tuesday morning.

He called Sheriff Toftner out into the jail office and said "Take me to Fergus Falls. I just killed a couple of guys." Toftner first thought the man had been in an accident, as he noticed blood dripping from his battered hands. His speech was incoherent, Toftner said, so he edged him over to a cell block where he invited him to take a rest.

Toftner then drove out to the Lindstrom farm near the old Apple store. He found the bodies outside near the kitchen door, the faces covered with rag rugs, just as Clarence had related. He went inside the house and saw a gory mess. He then communicated with Dr. M. J. Bechtel, Warren, county coroner, who later joined him in the investigation.

Toftener said Lindstrom was

Popplers Furniture Team Wins Second Tilt

League Standings

	Won	Lost	Pct
Poppler's Furniture	2	0	1.000
Oen's	1	0	1.000
Northern Chevrolet	1	0	1.000
Eagles	1	0	1.000
Middle River	1	1	.500
Viking	0	1	.000
Bridgeman's	0	2	.000
Hudson Motors	0	2	.000

Eagles, 14; Hudson Motors, 12.
Northern Chevrolet, 20; Viking, 8.
Middle River, 18; Hudson Motors, 10.
Poppler's Furniture, 21; Bridgeman's, 3.

This week's schedule:
Thursday, Oen's vs. Viking.
Friday, Poppler's Furniture vs. Hudson Motors.
Monday, Eagles vs. Bridgeman's.
Wednesday, Viking vs. Middle River.

Manager Glenn Carlson's Poppler's Furniture team scored their second successive city softball league win on Tuesday night, and it marked the second time, too, that the team had piled up more than twenty runs a game. The Poppler's flashing their new red uniforms, scored a one-sided 21 to 3 triumph over the Bridgeman's team, and are now priming their play for their "climax" game with Oen's on June 7th.

The Eagles surprised the Hudson motors last Wednesday night when, after trailing by an 8 to 0 score, they took advantage of some erratic fielding, and with pair of base-clearing blows, they pulled out with a 14 to 12 win. The Eagles' pitcher, Parnham, had a delivery reminiscent of Bill Gray's snap-ball style, and like Bill, he was troubled by lack of control.

The Northern Chevrolet team, the league's "dark horse" club, hammered out a 20 to 8 victory over Viking last Thursday night. Gordy Kaushagen, one of the league's better hurlers, held the Viking batters well in hand.

Middle River's George Hill, after missing the first game because of illness, pitched Joe Kiel's northerners to an 18 to 10 win over the Hudson Motors on Monday night. And again it was erratic play by the Hudson Motors fielders that contributed numerous scores to their opponents.

PLUMMER WINS 2D AT RED LAKE FALLS

Now Hold First Place in Baseball League

The Plummer Red Sox took over the top rung in the Northern Minnesota baseball league on Sunday by scoring a 9 to 5 win over Red Lake Falls. The game, played at Red Lake Falls, gave the Red Sox a record of two wins and no losses.

Two big innings, the 3rd and 5th, found Plummer scoring their nine runs and pulling away for a 9 to 1 lead at the end of the 5th frame. Red Lake Falls, with Bill Hallamack, Pete Burns, and Pinky Kraft doing the bulk of the hitting, crashed through the Plummer defense for a run in the 5th inning and three runs in the 6th inning; and in the 9th inning George Saunders was forced off the mound by a lame arm. Otis Miller finished the hurling chore for Plummer and he set down Messerole, Hallamack, and Burns to end the game.

Erskine will play the Red Sox in a league game at Plummer on Sunday.

Final Services for Isaac Isaacson, 74, at Bethlehem Church

Final rites were conducted in the Bethlehem Lutheran church in Marshall county on May 24, for Isaac Isaacson, who passed away at a local hospital last Thursday. Rev. Walter M. Pedersen officiated and interment was made in the Bethlehem cemetery.

Mr. Isaacson, who was 74 years when he died, is survived by two brothers, Ole of this city and John of Willmar; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Ackerman of Edmonton, Canada; a grandson, Herman Rude; and four great grandchildren. His wife, parents, a daughter, a son, and a brother and sister preceded him in death.

The deceased, born June 13, 1873, in Norway, came to the United States in 1880 with his parents, settling near Crookston. He was married Dec. 15, 1894 at Crookston to Johanna Isaacson, moving the following year to a farm at Sarah Lake, near Erskine. In 1898 he moved to Ada, where he served as section foreman for the railroad and later farmed east of that city. He began farming northeast of this city in 1911, and four years ago took up residence here. He was a member of the school board and town board of Agder Twp. for several years, and was also a member of the Bethlehem Lutheran church.

MARSHALL CO. MAN SLAYS HIS MOTHER AND GRANDMOTHER

incoherent and could not say who his victims were.

"I just went wild," he told the sheriff.

Lindstrom's sister fled when the attack began, the sheriff said. She was treated at a Warren hospital.

She was unable to relate what had occurred.

Authorities said she had been a patient at one of the state mental hospitals.

The sheriff quoted Lindstrom as saying he became angry early Monday evening, but could give no reason for his anger.

"Lindstrom told me he began hitting the two women," the sheriff said.

"He said he then became wild and didn't know what he was doing, except that he kept beating the women for some time. He said the beating took place between 9 p. m. and midnight.

Dr. Bechtel stated that an inquest will be held shortly. It is also possible that a Marshall county grand jury will be called into session in order to prefer the charges against the admitted slayer, said Sheriff Toftner.

Surviving Mrs. Lindstrom are four other children, Sophie Riswald, Alice Lindstrom and Emil Lindstrom of Minneapolis and Mrs. Ruth Dahl of San Francisco, Calif. Two sisters, both being daughters of Mrs. Hegstrom also survive. They are Mrs. Edwin Swanson who lives northeast of Warren and Mrs. Louis Dimmen, who lives about 11 miles west of Thief River Falls.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

LEGION JUNIORS WIN AND LOSE IN 1ST 2 BALL GAMES

Locals Defeat Argyle 18 to 5, but Lose to Warren Wednesday 2-1

Coach Babe Paulsen's junior Legion baseball team recorded a win and a loss as they opened their season's schedule this week. Playing at Argyle on Monday evening the locals racked up an 18 to 5, and in a well-played six-inning game at Warren on Wednesday evening, the locals were edged, 2 to 1.

In the Argyle game the locals solved the delivery of Jim Erickson for ten hits, with Pinky Adolphson, Dennis Lund, and *Cal Bradley getting two hits a*piece. Don Stadum started on the mound for coach Paulsen's team, and the right-hander held the Argyle batters well in hand. In the 6th inning, Lawrence Perkins took up the hurling job, and Shorty proved that he is capable of pitching junior legion ball.

Playing at Warren on Wednesday evening, the locals' Don Stadum and Warren's Dick Palmer hooked up in a duel, and it was an unearned run in the last half of the 6th inning that provided Warren with their game-winning margin. Dennis Lund gave the locals a 1 to 0 lead in the 1st inning when he blasted a homerun over the left field fence, 280 feet from home plate. Warren shoved a run across the plate in the 4th inning to deadlock the game at 1-all, and in the last half of the 6th (the final inning) Warren moved a man around to third base with two out. On a ground ball the play was made at the plate and a dropped ball allowed the Ponies to score the winning run.

The two games were the first of a twelve-game schedule arranged for the locals. And attempt is being made to book a home-and-home series with the Grand Forks juniors.

The schedule:
June 3rd, Oslo, here.
June 5th, Warren, here.
June 7th, Alvarado, there.
June 10th, Stephen, here.
June 14th, Stephen, there.
June 17th, Warren, here.
June 21st, Argyle, here.

Real progress finally is being made in making the Fair Grounds a recreation park. A lighted kittenball diamond south of the entrance is well patronized. In the infield in front of the grandstand the baseball diamond is being rebuilt and the improved facilities should encourage both better ball and attendance. With this start it is reasonable to expect further development of the Fair Grounds as a community park and play center, making it useful thruout the summer months. By the planting of trees and shrubbery the purposes of both utility and beauty would be served.

An additional appropriation for the improvement of the Red Lake and Clearwater river channels now seems assured. Both houses of Congress have approved at least $900,000. The Senate upped the House figure to $1,200,000 and so the differences will have to be ironed out in conference but the final figure will not be less than the smaller amount. And with an additional $900,000 the engineers estimate that a big stretch of the Clearwater can be improved as well as a second section of the Red Lake. Every effort is being made to get all of the preliminaries out of the way so that there will be no delays in letting new contracts. On the section that has been let and which is now under construction satisfactory progress is reported. If unforseen trouble does not cause delays it is expected that the work will proceed at the rate of about a mile a month. At this rate there should be quite a difference in the river above Highlanding by the end of the summer.

Governor Youngdahl's action in calling out the National Guard to maintain order in South St. Paul was not popular in the ranks of organized labor and has come in for the usual criticism. There would have been more justification for criticism however if he had further delayed taking this action. The best interests of organized labor would not have served if further violence and disorder would have been permitted. Governor Floyd Olson, who certainly has never been accused of being an enemy of the working man, was forced to take similar action under similar circumstances. It was not a pleasant duty for either governor to perform. No fair observer would say that either Governor Olson or Governor Youngdahl used the power of their office to break a strike. They both used the power of their office to maintain law and order, which was their sworn duty. And who would have it otherwise?

TRF Baseball Club Defeats Erskine in Lopsided Tilt 20-4

The city team boosted their Northern Minnesota baseball league standing to the 500 mark on Sunday by trouncing the Erskine nine, 20 to 4, in a game played at Erskine. The locals' freshman hurler, Don Perkins, pitched himself into and out of several difficult situations, getting twelve strikeouts in going the route, allowing but seven hits, three of which were of the scratch variety, and giving up six bases on balls.

On offense the locals poled out fourteen hits off the slants of Duane DeFrang, Byron Dorr and Al Thompson, who divided the pitching duties for Erskine, and manager Rasmussen's boys took advantage of the numerous misplays committed by the Erskine fielders.

The local nine is slated to play an exhibition game this week, traveling to Warroad for a game against the Lakers on Memorial Day. The game will be one of the first to be played in Warroad's new ball park.

Sunday's hectic game found the local nine racking up enough runs to win the game in the first inning. Leadoff man Babe Paulsen reached second base when the Erskine centerfielder muffed a fly ball. Cockrell was out, pitch to first; but Blackie Stephens pasted a single into left field, with Paulsen stopping at third base. Swede Lund's ground ball went thru the first baseman, scoring Paulsen and Stephens, with Swede stopping at second base.

Nicky Carlson struck out, but catcher Harapet dropped the ball and instead of making the play to first base he threw to third in an attempt to catch Lund on a steal with the result that both men were safe, Carlson on first and Lund on third. Nornes long fly to right-center scored Lund; and Harold Stroble's double into centerfield plated Carlson with the fourth tally. Catcher Harapet, after fielding Jacobson's topped ball in front of the plate, made an overthrow of first base, with Stroble scoring from second base on the error. Perkins grounded out to end the inning.

Bases on balls to Vanderwaal and tranby, and Al Carlson infield singled, the first three men to face Perkins in Erskine's half of the first inning, filled the bases. But lanky Don whiffed Denny Berger and Chris Lebakken, and Thompson popped to Cockrell to snuff out the Erskine threat.

The locals drove DeFrang off the mound in the 4th inning when an error, Paulsen's double and Cockrell's single accounted for two runs. Byron Dorr took up the hurling chore and the locals greeted him with a pair of ground singles, plus and error and a bases on balls, to score four more runs. And in the 8th inning Dorr was chased when four hits, three bases on balls, and three errors gave the locals seven runs Al Thompson finished the inning and the game for Erskine.

Erskine, after picking up a run in the 3rd inning on singles by Mel Tranby and Art Carlson, with Stephens bobble of Thompson's ground ball permitting Tranby to score; tallied three times in the 8th frame. Carlson drew a walk, Berger doubled down the right field foul line Al Ness popped out to Stroble, but Thompson blasted a double into centerfield, scoring Carlson and Berger, and Ken Harapet's sharp single into left field sent Thompson across with Erskine's fourth run.

The local infield chalked up another three-man double play, with Babe Paulsen grabbing Tranby's ground ball in the 9th inning, flipping the ball to Stephens covering second to force Moran, and Blackie's relay to Cockrell nipping Tranby.

Games this Sunday:

Erskine at Plummer
Red Lake Falls at Crookston

Manager Myles Jackson's St. Hilaire team provided the Northern Minnesota baseball league with an upset on Sunday when, on the St. Hilaire diamond, they defeated the league champion Crookston Pirates, 14 to 11, in a bitterly-contested game.

The Pirates, apparently confident of victory over the Saints, started right-hander Swanson on the mound, but some loose play by the Crookston infield, plus a couple of hits, gave St. Hilaire a 4 to 1 lead in the 3rd inning. The Pirate manager, Bill Lakies, then waved the Crookston's star left-hander, Ken DuPuis, to the mound, but St. Hilaire found his southpaw slants to their liking.

Don Johnson, the Saints stocky shortstop, proved especially destructive at the plate, getting a long homerun and a pair of doubles; and catcher Arlo Jacobson also connected with one of DuPuis' pitches for a double off the gymnasium wall in left field.

Woody Almquist, on the mound for St. Hilaire, was troubled by lack of control, and in the 7th inning manager Jackson sent Harlan Olson to the rubber. Olson after hurling the 7th and 8th innings in fine style returned to first base in the 9th inning when Almquist again assumed the hurling job

Plummer's 9 to 5 win over Red Lake Falls, coupled with St. Hilaire's defeat of Crookston, moved the Red Sox into first place in the league standings And Plummer is favored to protect that league lead this week as they meet, the hapless Erskine nine at Plummer on Sunday

Thief River Falls moved up into a three-way tie for third place by walloping the Erskine team, 20 to 4, at Erskine. Don Perkins, the Thieves' hurler and a graduate of the last season's junior legion nine, tuned in a creditable performance, getting twelve strikeouts while allowing seven hits

The week's most important game will find Red Lake Falls playing Crookston at Crookston, and it is rumored that Bill Hallamack, Red Lake's veteran shortstop and pitcher, will be available for pitching duties against the Pirates

Reports having been circulated that McIntosh, recently organized a baseball team, will request entrance into the league, replacing Oklee. To date no action on this request has been taken by the league directors, but indications are that the league will be in favor of McIntosh's entry.

ROSEAU TRACK MEN SCORE UPSET WIN IN REGION 8 MEET

Score 37 Points at Meet in Bemidji Last Friday; Prowlers Second with 25

Revealing surprising strength in the jumping events, a "dark horse" Roseau high school squad won the eighth regional track and field championship at Bemidji on Friday by piling up 37 points to gain a 12-point margin over the runner-up Prowlers, who earned second place with 25 points. Park Rapids and Bemidji shared third place with 21½ points, while Ada scored 19½ points for fourth place.

Vernon Sunset, with seconds in the broad jump and high jump and a tie for third place in the pole vault; Jim Oveson, with a tie for first in the pole vault and a second in the high hurdles, and Joel Meade's first in the 440-yard run and a second in the low hurdles, accounted for the bulk of the points that gave coach Oscar Almquist's nine-man Roseau squad the regional title.

Al Williamson paced the Prowlers to their second place in the team standings, with the rangy junior leaping five feet, nine inches to tie the regional record in the high jump and gain a first place. Al also sped over the high hurdles in 16.4 to win another first place for the blue - and - gold. Captain Dick Davidson, the North Valley and District 440-yard champion, showed the effects of his pre-regional campaign by failing to place in his "pet" event. Jack Winter picked up some of the slack caused by Dick's collapse by running a strong second to winner Joel Meade.

The tournament's most dramatic event occurred during the running of the 200-yard low hurdles. East Grand Forks' all-round star, Cy DuCharme, after tying the regional record in the morning trials, appeared to be on the way to a record-breaking performance in the finals, skimming over the hurdles and gaining a substantial lead; but as he crossed the seventh hurdle he tipped the upright and fell sprawling to the track. The plucky Green Wave, although badly shaken by fall, scrambled to his feet and managed to salvage a third place in the event

Keeping Score

.... With BUCK OLSON

Like a Tonic

That 14 to 11 win that the St. Hilaire Saints scored over the league champion Crookston Pirates in that rambunctious game at St Hilaire last Sunday has had a tonic-like effect on the Northern Minny league. The cocky Crookston club, with Ken DuPuis pitching, and managed by Bill Lakies, had been doped to go through the season undefeated, so that St Hilaire win on Sunday can be rated an upset, but a warmly-welcomed one.

The Saints win, perhaps, gave a measure of satisfaction to Vern Peltier, last year's Crookston manager. Peltier, who has done much for Crookston baseball, and who deserved much of the credit for last season's pennant-winning club was ousted as the Pirate manager this year during a rumpus over the team's business policy. Peltier was immediately picked up by the Eldred club in the Red River Valley league

Now that the St Hilaire batters have proved that Ken DuPuis' left-handed assortment of stuff can be hit, and hard, the rest of the hitters in the league will be honing their Louisville Sluggers and sharpening their batting eyes in preparation for their encounter with the Pirates.

Incidentally, the league shortstops are really rolling up the base hits and their batting averages if the first two weeks of play are any criterion. Red Lake's Bill Hallamack had a homerun, a triple, and pair of doubles in the opener against Erskine, and he followed with three hits in five trips to the plate against Plummer on Sunday. The Red Sox' Jesse DuChamp had four for five against Thief River Falls a week ago, and came back with three for four at Red Lake Falls on Sunday. And St. Hilaire's Donny Johnson, in his first game of the year against Crookston on Sunday, poled out a homerun, a pair of doubles and a single for an .800 average.

Same Old Story

After two weeks of play in the City Softball league it appears that it will be the "same old story"—Oen's and the Poppler's The Poppler's, as usual, are off to their "morning glory" start, amassing a total of 44 runs in their first two games. The Poppler's though, with Blackie Stephens on first, Wally Tunberg on second, Nicky Carlson at short, Jimmy LaFave at third base, Merle Carlson catching, Bob Carlson pitching, and Jimmy Welton, Phil LeGault, and Stan Cockrell ready for outfield play, will be a well-balanced and rough outfit for Oen's when the two teams meet on June 7th.

Oen's "masterminds," Gordy Relerson and Harold Stroble, are busy scurrying around for reinforcements for their team. As it now stands, their chief reliance is in Milt Relerson's pitching and the hitting of Babe Paulsen and Jimmy Anderson, and that combination may be enough to carry the Oen's to a win over the Poppler's.

In Quest of Lake Trout

Roy Oen, Paul and Doc Mellby left yesterday morning for Crow lake and a lake trout fishing expedition. They should have a run of god luck for Oscar Ellingson, oJel Nyquist, Doc Kaisler, Frank Steineke, and Einar Swanson returned on Friday with reports of fine fishing, the party having filled their limits quite early. Einar collected the "big fish" pool, having a ten-pounder on his string, and in addition he caught an 8 and a pair of seven-pounders. The group reported having their best luck while still fishing, using minnows with a plain hook or a prescott spinner. Trolling with spoons proved unsuccessful.

The party experienced some anxious moments when Swanson, fishing off a rock ledge, lost his footing and slipped into the icy water. Einar was successful in swimming a short distance and finding a crevice where he could crawl out of the water. Meanwhile he thought that he had lost his rod and reel, for he had been forced to throw that aside, but as he climbed ashore he noticed that the line was entangled around his foot. The happy ending was concluded with the recovery of his fishing outfit.

Needed Assistance

Only eight local golfers reported for that inter-club match with Crookston at Crookston on Sunday, and the result was that Crookston was forced to "loan" several of their players to the local squad. That assistance was of considerable benefit, for with their aid the locals were able to rack up a win. Taking only the scores of the bona fide local golfers into consideration, Crookston edged out a ½ point victory.

In the feature match, though, with Hans Chommie and Xic Jung playing Ernotte Hiller and Jim Ten Eyck, Chommie and Jung were the winners. Vic had the day's low gross score.

HOLIDAY TRAFFIC SPELLS NEW TOLL OF DEAD, INJURED

216 Seriously Injured in Memorial Day Week-end Accidents Last Year

"Someone you know will be killed or injured over the Memorial Day weekend," the Minnesota highway department predicts in a pre-holiday warning and safety appeal to motorists and pedestrians in every community of the state.

"Keep your name off the list of dead and injured that the newspapers will sadly tally up when the summer's first three-day holiday is over."

Highway traffic safety men base their grim prediction upon the traffic accident records for the past two Memorial Days.

A year ago, from May 29 to June 1, only three persons were killed in Minnesota, but 216 were seriously injured in 391 reportable Memorial Day holiday and weekend traffic accidents. Memorial Day and weekend fatalities for 1946, however, claimed ten people killed outright or fatally injured in just seven traffic mishaps. Several hundred others were injured and property damage to cars cost owners thousands of dollars.

What should pleasure bound people look out for, from the time they start out today or tonight until they are back at their homes and jobs on June 1? Again the accident records of 1946 and 1947 Memorial Days sound significant warnings:

Three of the thirteen dead were pedestrians who failed to follow the rules of safe walking; three were killed in two-car collisions; three more died as a result of running off the road; three were killed by collisions with railroad trains, and one was fatally injured on a bicycle.

Of the motorist dead, five were drivers of the cars invol were drivers of the cars involved. In rural areas, where the exodus to lake regions made traffic unusually heavy and dangerous; only two were killed in urban areas.

SOMETHING FOWL ABOUT ALL THIS

An Austra-White hen on the Charles Schewe farm near Sleepy Eye produced a whole omelette at one setting; double yolk egg with another complete egg, shell and all, in one of the yolks. Dressing chickens in his Red Lake Falls locker plant, Leo St. Michel came upon a really big-heated bird—the out-size organ weighed nearly half a pound.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

By Arthur Naftalin

Will 1948 see the reemergence in Minnesota of a Third Party, returning the state to the situation that prevailed during the Thirties when the Farmer-Laborites completed with Democrats and Republicans

In the wind now are reports that the left-wing of the Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party will gather its forces after the state DFL convention, scheduled for June 12 in Brainerd, and launch the new party.

Even the most ardent advocates of a Third Party do not envisage any success in '48, but the supporters of the idea believe that they can attract sufficient following to ruin whatever prospects the DFL may have during the forthcoming campaign. Thus, they believe, they will be in a position to agitate for concessions from the DFL. As it stands now, the left-wing stands to be wholly isolated after the Brainerd convention.

The Third Party people would like to lay claim to the Farmer-Labor label. Their strategy is designed to make it appear as if the current struggle within the DFL is a fight between Democrats vs. Farmer-Laborites ites, and that the contest should end in a severing of the fusion.

Actually, the fight is not a Democats vs. Farmer-Laborites contest. A substantial section of the right-wing leadership is drawn from the old Farmer-Labor groups, which long ago began rejecting the infiltration and influence of Communists in the Farmer-Labor ranks.

The DFL, firmly in the control of anti-left-wing elements, will obviously hold tight to the full Party name. Thus, the left-wing will have to seek out some new label for its adventure into Third Party politics.

In the showdown it is unlikely that a Third Party would make much of an impression in 1948. It would have only one well-known figure to run this year. He is former Elmer A. Benson, and he has so far indicated no intention of seeking office this year.

The left-wing is also considering the possibility of a ticket to be headed by Eighth District Congressman John Blatnik, running him for either governor or senator. But Blatnik, too, has indicated no intention of abandoning his present position.

On the other hand, the regular DFL has a dramatic spearhead in Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis as its candidate for United States Senate. Progressive aspirants for office naturally want to be identified with the Humphrey slate, and, to the extent that it is possible for the progressives to enter a winning ticket, the odds will be on the regular DFL.

Congressman Blatnik is facing a crucial situation in the forthcoming elections. He has sought to avoid public involvement in the struggle between the DFL and the left-wing, but Baltnik has been increasingly identified with the left-wing forces. His refusal to take a position in the recent caucuses and county convention has aroused the ire of the regular forces.

The power of the right-wing sweep in the DFL caucuses was demonstrated in the Eighth District, which has been regarded as a left-wing stronghold. For the first time in many pears, the Eighth District will be lined up against the left-wing, with the powerful unions, including the Steelworkers, definitely on the right-wing side.

In a situation such as this Blatnik is on a difficult spot. It appears unlikely that he can escape the dilemma. He will have to choose between the left and right wing groups, and the longer he delays his decision the more unlikely it becomes that the regular DFL will reembrace him with enthusiasm.

A Minnesota man is among those being considered by President Truman for appointment as Secretary of Agriculture to succeed Clinton Anderson, who is a candidate for election to the United States Senate. The Minnesotan is M. W. (Bill) Thatcher, general manager of the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association.

Thatcher, who is also president of the National Federation of Grain Cooperatives, has been in the forefront of farm cooperative work for many years, serving with the Grain Terminal since its founding in 1927.

Thatcher's appointment to this top agricultural past is regarded as a strategic move that would help Truman rebuild his support among midwest farmers. It would also be interpreted as a move to off-set Stassen in his home state, if Stassen should get the Presidential nomination.

This, incidentally, is the first public word that Thatcher is being considered for the post.

It's Leap Year, Girls!
First girl in our town to "get her man" on Leap Year was the Cuppers' daughter, Jane, who wed Bill Webster's boy last Saturday.
When I asked Bill Jr. if it was true that Janey really did the proposing, Bill said: No, but she made it plain she'd make an ideal wife. Instead of looking for diversion or excitement every evening, she was content to chat beside the fire.
"I could plainly see," says Bill, "that we'd really have a happy home life—which is just exactly what I want from marriage."
I know it's usual for older folks to shake their heads over the younger generation. (It's gone on for hundreds of years, now.)
But from where I sit, young people of marrying age today are every bit as commendable as their elders were—in their temperance (a glass of beer for instance), tolerance, and common sense. So to Jane and Bill—the best of luck!

In his acceptance speech, Mr. Ekdahl explained that this trip is a delayed honeymoon. When he got married he promised his bride that they would go to Sweden, the land of their birth, for a wedding trip. Before they left World War I broke out and they had to call it off. After the war was over business and personal matters prevented them from taking the trip, and by the time they were ready to go World War II was in progress and they were again delayed. This time Victor has all the plans made. He has tickets for himself and wife for stateroom No. 501 on the steamship Gripsholm, of the Swedish American Line, sailing from New York on June 15.

The Ekdahls have sold their property in Newfolden, will have an auction sale of personal property this week, and will be leaving the first part of June for Chicago, where they will visit relatives for a few days before leaving for New York. Shape Doesn't Count

Work conducted by University of Illinois shows that there is no appreciable difference in the value of round kernel seed corn compared to flat kernel corn, so long as both are of equal quality. At one time there was a general belief that odd shaped kernels near the tips and butts of a seed ear were not as good for planting. Present methods of sorting and grading seed corn have removed this objection.

TRUE FUNCTIONAL DESIGN
True Functional Design is beauty with a purpose. For example, the STREAM-THRU fenders of the Kaiser or the Frazer are a style feature others have attempted to copy. But the real reason for the design has been overlooked. The true function is to provide more usable space without increasing over-all width. Only the Kaiser and the Frazer have more usable space. MORE SEAT WIDTH! . . . MORE HEAD ROOM! . . . MORE LUGGAGE SPACE! The Kaiser and the Frazer aren't the same old girls in a new dress—they're new from the road up! Best of all these modern cars from Willow Run are yours at no increase in price!

Pigeon and Its Brain

Tests conducted at Pennsylvania State college showed that certain portions of the brain of the homing pigeon play no part in the homing instinct. Also, a pigeon with only one functional eye can navigate, and hearing is not necessary for homing of the birds. The pecten, a structure inside the eyeball, appears to be the chief organ concerned with navigation by pigeons.

Dry Grass Is Best

Pasture grasses are not as nutritious in periods of heavy rainfall as they are during moderately dry periods because they lose some of their nutrients through action of the water. Another reason for reduced grazing value of pastures in rainy weather is that grasses that are "bogged down" are not as accessible to livestock as grasses on firm ground.

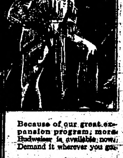
ANDERSON'S JEWELERS



Hush! We're Brewing Budweiser!
Great, rock foundations that not even an earthquake could budge! Walls like those of a fortress! Why this precaution? Because even slight vibration causes fermentation to speed up. So, the massive walls of the cellars where Budweiser is fermented and lagered (aged) shelter the brew from the clatter and rumble of outside traffic. It matures naturally . . . thoroughly . . . leisurely. This is only one step in the most expensive brewing process known. As a result, Budweiser comes to you, as always, mellow . . . full-flavored with a distinctive taste . . . fully aged . . . sprightly with natural carbonation.
MAKE THIS TEST! DRINK Budweiser FOR FIVE DAYS. On the sixth day try to drink a sweet beer. You'll want the distinctive taste of Budweiser thereafter.
Because of our great expansion program, more Budweiser is available now. Demand it wherever you go.

To Men of the High School CLASS OF '48

THERE's a big day coming soon — the day when you get your diploma. By enlisting in the Army or Air Force after graduation you can take full advantage of one of the finest opportunities ever offered a young man.

CHOOSE YOUR FIELD OF SPECIAL TRAINING BEFORE YOU ENLIST!

If you are 18 to 34 (17 with parents' consent) and a high school graduate, you can select your course of training in the Army or the Air Force before enlisting.

Under the Army Technical School Plan you can specify two different courses that appeal to you in each of two fields. The Army will check to make sure there is an opening in one of the four courses you have selected, and a place will be reserved for you in that course. Then you enlist for 3, 4 or 5 years, and after passing the physical and mental examinations and completing basic training you will be guaranteed training in your chosen field.

Air Force offers a similar opportunity in its Aviation Career Plan, giving you a pre-enlistment choice of 3 among more than 40 USAF Specialist Schools. There is no better way to get a start in the great and growing field of aviation.

Either plan gives you good pay, excellent training and a splendid chance for advancement in a real career. You can get full information, including lists of available Specialist Schools and Technical Courses, at your nearest Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

To Men with 2 Years or More of College WIN YOUR WINGS with the Aviation Cadets

If you are single, 20 to 26½ years old, physically sound, and have completed at least 2 years of college or the equivalent, you may be qualified for pilot training as an Aviation Cadet. Get full details now. Next class starts July 1, 1948.

STATE RAILROADS TAKE HIGH RANK IN BOND PURCHASES

Soo Line Ranks Fourth in Nation for Savings Bonds Bought by Workers

The Duluth South Shore and Atlantic Railway Company has the best record of employee participation in the payroll savings plan for the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds in comparison with 223 railroads in the nation.

The Soo Line railroad ranked next to DSS&A in Minnesota and fourth in the nation with 51.9 per cent, led by the Boston & Main railroad with 53.8 per cent and the Des Moines Union Railway with 54.4 per cent.

H. C. Grout, president of the Soo Line, and P. L. Solether, trustee of DSS&A both attributed the bond buying records in their respective companies first to the thrift habits of the individual employees and second, to the untiring efforts of Fred J. Hallen, auditor and bond officer for both. During and since the war, Mr. Hallen has consistently promoted the advantages of payroll savings for bonds as an easy, automatic path to individual security.

WEEKLY NATURAL HISTORY LESSON

April 30 is the earliest Pete Cardle, Brainerd nurseryman, ever found blossoms on his strawberry plants. A Marshall florist is named Bud Rose. A single tulip stalk in Miss Isabella Watson's Northfield garden bore three blossoms. A. C. Wessale, Waconia editor, found on one giant stem an inch and a half wide seven dandelion blossoms measuring 4½ inches across. Belgrade was threatened with a prairie fire when the film of the movie Sea of Grass caught fire in the projection booth. It was a real bee-line drive when Coach Robertson swallowed a bee while exhorting his Lake Park baseball team to victory.

High Farm Income

Employment, income and production, the three important indicators, currently reflect a high level of business activity. The past year has set a record for farm income in the country as a whole. In the first five months of 1947 farm cash income ran about 25 per cent higher than in the same months of 1946. This increase primarily reflects prices which average about 30 per cent higher than a year ago. Income from meat animals is up by more than 80 per cent; dairy products are bringing in about 40 per cent more than in 1946 on the basis of market prices; poultry and eggs are about 10 per cent higher and crop income totals about 10 per cent over last year. The key question in the farm outlook is how long will these high cash incomes continue. The answer to this question depends on what will happen to prices from now on.

Short Daily Naps

Napping was once thought to be a sign of laziness, but now is recognized as an aid to efficiency in industry, the home and the business office. In tests, workers took a short nap, completely relaxed on a comfortable bed, at the first sign of fatigue. It was found that they went back to work refreshed, more alert and able to work longer with full efficiency than when suffering from the effects of cumulative fatigue.

Memorial Day MAY 30TH

THIS IS A HOLIDAY . . . BUT . . . LET'S REMEMBER THE REASON WHY

MEMORIAL DAY . . . a day off from work; a day for a drive in the car; a day for the season's first family picnic . . . a day unofficially marking the beginning of summer, the season of straw hats and screen porches. But let's remember that Memorial Day is a day of tribute to the men and women who gave so much that we might have so much — let's remember that it's because of them that it's possible for us to enjoy the American way of life.

Because Memorial Day falls on Sunday, this bank will observe Monday, May 31, as a legal holiday.

QUITS CABINET TO RUN FOR SENATE. . . Clinton P. Anderson, who has become almost a household word among U.S. farm families as the secretary of agriculture, has resigned that cabinet post to run for the U.S. senate in New Mexico. President Truman formally accepted his resignation and Anderson started to pack his things to leave the office for good. During his tenure as secretary of agriculture farmers of the nation experienced their greatest period of prosperity in history.

BRANDT CHARGES FRAUD IN OLEO USE

L.O'L. Head Testifies at Washington Hearing

The extent of the fraud oleomargarine manufacturers are passing upon the American people in claiming to be interested in providing consumers with a low cost spread for bread was disclosed today by John Brandt, president of Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc.

Brandt, who was one of the witnesses to testify before Senate finance committee in Washington against the bill to repeal federal taxes on oleo, said that facts brought to light recently uncovered the real motive of the oleomargarine interests in their $6,000,000 fight.

He cited a survey taken in cities located in states where there are no restrictions in the sale of colored oleomargarine except the 10 cents per pound federal tax. This survey, he said, showed that oleo was being sold in colored and uncolored form with a price differential on the colored product ranging as high as 27 cents a pound.

"This is real proof," he said, "of the fact that the oleomargarine people want the color tax removed so that they can charge much more for their product when there are no restrictions on its imitating butter."

Brandt cited another survey taken in 20 restaurants in each of a number of cities. It was discovered that from one to 17 of the restaurants were serving oleomargarine as butter. That practice, he said, will be multiplied many times if the tax law is repealed.

He said that the amendment proposed by the butter people to reduce the 22 cents per pound import tax protection now given oleomargarine manufacturers down to the 7 cents per pound duty on imported butter was met with furious opposition from the oleo interests. That showed, Brandt said, that it isn't the consumer they are interested in.

Rewards Skillful Player

Poker rewards a skillful player more than any other card game, according to Encyclopedia Britannica. Patience, rather than a "poker face," is a prime quality of the successful poker player, enabling him to drop out time after time until a good hand comes along. Even more important is the good player's insistence on receiving proper "odds" for every bet he makes.

What archeologists believe to be the first public library in the world was discovered during excavations at Nineveh and consisted of small clay tablets containing some 10,000 works and documents, cataloged and arranged.

Bristol a Printing Center

In the printing world Bristol, England, long has held an established position. Iron-ware, zinc and lead shots are other things which came to be made in Bristol for the first time and there are thrilling stories told about them. Engineering, however, is the premier industry. Of the city's total population of 435,000, more than 40,000 are associated with this industry. Among the projects which occupy local manufacturers are immense orders from all parts of the world. Concrete blockmaking machinery for New Zealand, electric and plastic goods for India, radios for Finland and plastics for Singapore are some of the more important export items.

HEADS APPOINTED FOR MARSHALL CO. X-RAY COMMITTEE

150 at Meeting to Plan Tuberculosis Survey to Be Made in County

Mrs. Loyal Johnson of Middle River and Carl A. Johnson of Warren were elected co-chairmen of the Marshall county X-ray survey committee at the organization meeting held on Tuesday evening, May 18 at the City Auditorium in Warren. About 150 persons representing all parts of Marshall county attended the session.

"The purpose of the survey is to wipe out tuberculosis in Marshall county", said Dr. C. H. Holmstrom, who acted as temporary chairman of the meeting. Sofus Bertness, chairman of the county board, expressed support of the survey.

Dr. Baldwin Borreson, superintendent of Oakland Park sanitorium at Thief River Falls, in discussing the tuberculosis problem in Marshall county said, "We do not speak of tuberculosis control any longer, but rather in terms of eradication."

Dr. Hilbert Mark, director of the division of tuberculosis, Minnesota department of health, was the main speaker of the evening.

"We the people now have an outstanding opportunity to help in the fight against tuberculosis," the health department speaker declared. "By having an X-ray to find out if our lungs are healthy, we help ourselves and our community.

"Most of us will learn that there is no evidence of tuberculosis or other pathology. But if an abnormal condition is present, we help ourselves by receiving treatment. If we have TB, we help others by taking precautions to avoid spreading the germ."

These Icy Steps

There's many a slip 'twixt the front door and the front gate when there is ice on the steps and walk. A special study of hospitalized home accidents made by National Safety council showed 4 per cent were caused by ice on walk or steps. Remove snow promptly before it packs down. Use salt and elbow grease to get rid of ice.

The Wrong Book

"Tell me, Jones," asked a sympathetic friend, "how is it that your wife dresses so magnificently and you always appear out at the elbows?"

"Well, I'll tell you," was the patient, long-suffering reply; "Molly dresses according to latest showings in the Ladies Home Journal while I dress according to the figures in the Jones Manufacturing company ledgers."

HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCK

PREPARED BY AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR ANIMAL HEALTH

TIPS FOR BETTER CARE OF CALVES

In view of today's high prices of meat and feed, livestock raisers are probably more concerned than ever before with the need for raising healthy, fast-growing, vigorous calves.

Health precautions can save many more calves.

Every calf lost due to mismanagement or disease, before it gets into full production or reaches market age and weight, is a terrific financial loss and a waste of feed.

Steps to assure the best possible calf crop begin with the proper care and feeding of the pregnant cow. Good quality hay, balanced with minerals, vitamins and proteins, is especially important. Dehydrated hay contains plenty of Vitamin A, for instance, but little Vitamin D. In providing minerals, it should be kept in mind that not only calcium and phosphorus, but also supplemental iron, copper and cobalt are necessary in some localities. The local veterinarian can usually advise as to which mineral deficiencies exist in any one area.

Clean maternity stalls are important, too, to give calves a healthy start and reduce the danger of joint ill, scours, and pneumonia. These same troubles can be caused also by failure to properly disinfect the navels of new calves and keep the calves away from contaminated premises.

Calf pails should be cleaned thoroughly; milk is an excellent place for germs to grow and multiply. If possible, the colostrum (first milk after birth) should be saved and fed to the calves. Colostrum contains needed vitamins and helps build resistance to infection.

Besides following sound management and feeding practices, the calf raiser should be alert for signs of disease, and take prompt steps if they appear.

A compact electric unit that roasts two hotdogs in their own juices is a new accessory for the automobile. It operates off the car's battery.

Many Big Families

Rats may raise six or more litters a year, with from 6 to 22 in a litter.

Agriculture In the News

DDT in Paint

By W. J. Dryden

A wall paint blended with DDT under a new process has proved an effective "insect control" as long as 16 months after a single application. This paint, "Superior 365," contains 200 milligrams of DDT for each square foot of painted surface and has proven effective against 132 varieties of insects.

Tests have shown that seven seconds contact, on DDT paint, for flies first paralyzes and then kills the insects in 30 minutes. The paint is harmless to humans, and is especially effective in milk houses as well as other farm buildings.

Superphosphate Needed

Five to six tons of animal manure reinforced with one-half bag of superphosphate per ton of manure produces as much increase in yield as does 10 to 12 tons per acre without the superphosphate.

The superphosphate can be scattered over the top of the load of manure before it goes to the field. Or it can be applied in the barn or sheds. When used in barns or sheds, it helps to keep down odors as well as reduce nitrogen loss.

Another refrigerator accessory is a rubber tray that produces ice sticks that will slide into the smallest vacuum bottle.

Use Dehydrated Clover

The ability of dehydrated clover and perennial grass mixture to improve the shank and skin color of broilers makes it a desirable substitute for the commonly used suncured alfalfa leaf meal in broiler rations, according to University of Delaware. Not only is the color of the shanks and skin better in the grass-fed broilers, but all other factors measured including growth, feed efficiency, fleshing, feathering, mortality and comb color were proven equal or superior to those fed alfalfa.

White House History

The White House, which was begun in 1792 and first occupied in 1800 while still unfinished, is the oldest federal building in Washington. It is of European Renaissance style; rebuilt, 1815-17, after its destruction by the British, according to the original plans and by the original architect, James Hoban.

Keep Hands Warm

A liberal application of machine oil will do much to protect the hands from the cold.

Ancient Grand Canal

China's Grand canal, reported breached by Nationalist forces to unleash floods against Communist advance in the northern plains province of Hopeh, is known to the Chinese as "Move-Goods river." The canal generally is regarded as the longest and in sections the oldest artificial waterway in modern use. Meandering southward for more than a thousand miles from Peiping to Hanchow, it crosses the great Hwang (Yellow) and the Yangtze rivers. In the 13th century, world-traveler Marco Polo described it as a "wide and deep channel dug between stream and stream, between lake and lake, forming as it were a greater river on which large vessels can ply." To the people living along its banks, the Grand canal is more than a traffic and transport lane. It is, even in peacetime, foe or friend, depending on whether its waters bring flood and devastation or fertility and life.

So Helpful!

She came into the railway express office with a very heavy parcel and said to the manager:

"They tell me you wrap packages for shipment here."

All the employes were busy. It was the rush hour. So the manager graciously wrapped the package himself and tied it carefully. As he finished, he asked:

"Do you want it sent prepaid or collect?"

"Oh, I'm not sending it express," she exclaimed. "I'm going to mail it!"

Just A Mascot

A little runt of a man, with a height scarcely exceeding five feet, recently married a widow, over six feet tall and of extremely generous girth.

"How do you like married life?" a friend asked the diminutive groom, shortly after he returned from the honeymoon.

The little man sadly shook his head.

"It wouldn't be so bad," he replied, "if people wouldn't persist in calling me 'the widow's mite'."

Saving the Table

Placing a clean piece of inner tube over the edge of the table or cabinet when the food grinder is placed on it will save scratches.

Irrigate From Wells

During the past quarter century, the pumping of ground water has become a major activity of irrigated agriculture. Arizona and California have led the general U. S. increase in use of these pumped wells. Pinal county, Arizona, for example, more than doubled its number of wells during the 1930-1940 period; Madera county, California, did the same, and Fresno county, California, increased the number of its pumped wells from 2,300 in 1930 to 9,000 in 1940.

Indians After Water

Lack of water drove a primitive Indian people from their homes in what is now southern Arizona to a region in what is now the state of New Mexico. The mass migration took place some 5,000 years ago. A campsite of the ancient Cochise Indians has been discovered near the small community of Reserve, N. M.

And Plumbers Were Born

The famous Roman aqueducts and related water supply systems are historic. About 330 B. C., the Romans began to bring water from the hills to the city by open stone ducts, and by the time of Frontinus in 90 A. D. there were available in Rome 332 gallons of water per day per person, or about 332 million gallons of water a day delivered by nine aqueducts. Rome, too, gave plumbers their name. Most of the mains and piping in the houses were of lead. In Latin, lead is "plumbum," and since the early pipe fitters were primarily lead workers, the name "plumber" was evolved.

Driving Out Stains

When using boiling water to remove fruit, coffee or tea stains, hold the tea kettle high. The added force given to boiling water by pouring from a height of two or three feet makes it more effective in driving out stains.

Cocktail Eggs Popular

In making cocktail eggs the eggs are twice candled, then given an injection of eight kinds of spices along with butter flavoring and salt. They then are hard boiled and the shell removed. The shelled eggs are placed in a pickle of vinegar, sugar and spices. After marinating, the eggs are colored with vegetable dyes before packing in a spicy curing solution which can be used as a base for salad dressing.

A portable electric ventilator has been devised to provide fresh air for workers in confined places.

Money for Advertising

America's No. 1 advertising medium is the newspaper. The amount of money spent on newspaper advertising is almost as high as the amount spent on radio and magazine advertising combined. World Book encyclopedia says that a survey disclosed that 648 million dollars was spent on newspaper advertising in one year, while 685 million dollars was spent on radio and magazine advertising.

A new electric washer is equipped with a wringer that gives the operator split-second control of the rolls.

How Time Is Spent

A recent survey shows that the average farm homemaker spends more than three hours each day preparing and clearing away meals. Almost an hour and a half is spent in cleaning and caring for the house, 47 minutes in laundry and 48 minutes doing mending and sewing work.

U. OF M. REGENTS APPOINT FIVE MEN TO POSTS ON STAFF

Name Pirsig Law School Dean; Michigan U Coach to Direct Basketball

Acting to reinforce the University of Minnesota academic staff hard-hit by the retirement this year of several key figures, Regents of the University in their May meeting approved five major appointments including one dean and a new basketball coach.

Appointed to succeed Everett Fraser, retiring dean of the law school, is Maynard E. Pirsig, University professor of law. Pirsig received his bachelor of law degree from the University of Minnesota in 1925. Appointed instructor in January, 1926, he was named associate professor in 1930 and professor of law in 1933.

James Gray, author and literary editor of the Chicago Daily News, was made a professor in the department of English, his appointment to become effective July 1. During the first two and one-half or three years of his professorship Gray will devote full time to writing a book on the history of the University which will be published by the University of Minnesota Press as a part of the school's centennial celebration in 1951.

E. William Ziebarth, educational director of radio station WCCO, was named chairman of the speech department succeeding Frank M. Rarig Sr., who will retire June 30. The 38-year old educator, who received his doctor of philosophy degree from the University last March, has served in various capacities on the University staff since 1936, and will take up his duties in September with the rank of associate professor.

Named to succeed Darrel H. Davis, retiring professor and chairman of the department of geography, is Jan O. M. Broek, formerly of the University of Utrecht, Holland. Broek, whose appointment becomes effective in September, was born in Utrecht in 1904, and received his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Utrecht in 1932.

Another major appointment was that of Osborne Cowles, basketball coach at the University of Michigan, to succeed David MacMillan, who resigned as head basketball coach at the end of the last cage season. Cowles is a graduate of Carleton college, Northfield, where he was a four-letter man in football and basketball and a three-letter man in baseball.

With less than 7 per cent of the world's population, the United States has 81 per cent of the world's passenger automobiles and 87 per cent of all trucks.

Feed Salt to Hogs

Experiments conducted at Purdue university proved definitely that for economical reasons, hogs should never be allowed to go hungry for salt. Block or loose salt or a simple mineral mixture should be provided.

The experiments showed that hogs supplied with a plentiful amount of salt averaged 250 pounds after 83 days, while those without salt only averaged 174 pounds in that time. The feeding of one pound of salt saved $6.37 in feed.

Wool in the Wars

Wars in the world's history always have increased the demand for wool. Because of wool's durability, it has been used for centuries in soldiers' uniforms. Between 1854 and 1871, the Crimean and Franco-Prussian wars took place in Europe. The Civil war occurred about the same time. The making of wool clothing by machines was developed as a result of the demand for uniforms. World Wars I and II brought greater demands for wool. Wool remained as the basic uniform material for soldiers. Army supply officers have said that wool was an important factor in the winning of World War II. The United States and her allies had most of the world's supply of wool.

Increase Meat Tenderness

Aging the freshly slaughtered carcass for a week or 10 days in a chill room increases the natural tenderness of the meat, according to the department of agriculture. Longer aging often is used, but it permits development of stale odors because of the growth of mold on the surface of the meat. Aging longer than 10 days appears unnecessary for beef that is to be further tenderized by freezing.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

What "Matters" to You?

Very often we hear parents of small children say "I don't care how dirty Johnny gets, just so he keeps quiet when he is in the house," or another will state "Noise doesn't matter to me, but I don't allow the children to play where they will get dirty," and still another will say "They can make all the noise they want and get as dirty as they like, that doesn't matter; but they had better not fight!"

These parents are very eager to do a good job of raising their children. They do not realize how much it means to a child to be sent out to play with the feeling that he will be punished if he is noisy or gets dirty. These rules are minor affairs to an adult, but are temendously important to a child.

Children rebel against such regulations, and most often are punished for their rebellion. The unfortunate part about this whole situation is that the actions which are objected to most often are things which really do not matter to the parent at all. The average parent would say without hesitation that he would rather have his child dirty and happy than clean and unhappy. But without thinking he imposes the prohibitions which give trouble.

It is interesting to note that many of these matters about which parents bicker with children are the same things about which their paents fussed to them. So much so that they often take refuge in such a statement, "I had to do this..." or "I couldn't do that." How many times do children hear such things?

It is important to avoid such trivial things when we are trying to stay on good terms with we want our family living to be smooth and pleasant, why put these psychological burrs under your child? Reasonableness pays off in healthy, happy children. Try not to let little things "matter" too much.

NORTHERN PIKE TO BE TAKEN JUNE 15

Fishermen Are Warned Season Is Not Yet Open

Reports to the game and fish division for the first couple weeks of the fishing season indicate that a few northern pike are being hooked while fishing for walleyes and other fish. Fishermen are reminded that the season for pike and bass is not yet opened. They must be released as carefully as possible and returned to the water.

Under orders issued last December, the season for pickerel or northern pike will not be open until June 15 and the regular bass season will open on June 20. However, the season is open for walleyes, trout, sunfish, crappies, sand pike, rock and white bass, catfish and rough fishes.

"It is true," Commissioner Chester S. Wilson says, "that some of the northerns will be injured by spoon and plug baits, but the number killed or seriously injured will be small in comparison with the number saved by keeping the season closed an additional month."

Wilson stated that the decision to shorten the season during the winter by closing from January 1 to February 15 and delay the opening from May 15 to June 15 in the spring was vitally necessary to build up the stock or northerns in most Minnesota lakes.

ELECTRIC CO-OP OK'S AMENDMENTS

Special Meeting Held in Red Lake Falls Last Week

At a special meeting called for the purpose in the Red Lake Falls Community hall Tuesday evening of last week, the three proposed amendments to the bylaws of the Red Lake Electric Co-operative, Inc., carried by votes that were almost unanimous says the Red Lake Falls Gazette.

The proposal to increase the limit of indebtedness to $3,000,000 received 283 yes votes and only 16 no. The capital credits amendment won 211 to 3 while the proposal to choose directors by districts instead of at large, won out 224 to 7. Some 250 votes were cast, approximately half of them by mail as there were some 125 member stockholders at the meeting.

President Millard Dailey presided and explained that the special meeting had been called because of the failure of the proposals to receive a majority of all votes cast for directors at the regular annual meeting in April altho they did receive heavy majorities of all who voted on the questions.

NEW HOSPITAL TO OPEN ON BORDER

Former Thief River Falls Woman Is Superintendent

International Falls citizens saw the culmination of a five-year drive for modern health facilities today when their new $350,000 Falls Memorial hospital opened for public inspection last week-end.

The institution is expected to be ready to receive patients in about a week.

The hospital was financed by a three-way program which included a $125,000 contribution from the city, $125,000 from the Minnesota and Ontario Paper Co., and the remainder by public subscription and donations from organizations.

A majority of the 62 rooms in the three-story fireproof structure were furnished by community groups, labor unions and ex-service men's organizations.

Marie Jarshaw, former head of St. Luke's hospital, Thief River Falls, is superintendent of the hospital.

Evangelical Lutheran Church Plans Biennial Convention June 8-13

Representatives of the 2,750 congregations affiliated with the Evangelical Lutheran Church will meet June 8-13 at Central Lutheran Church in Minneapolis for the eighteenth biennial convention of the church.

Delegates attending the sessions will decide several important issues affecting the life of the church. One major decision will be whether The Evangelical Lutheran Church will affiliate with the World Council of Churches.

Other major issues to be decided by the convention include: a proposed financial appeal to be conducted in 1949 for the educational institutions of the church; a recommendation to increase the synodical budget to $1,800,000; a proposal to divide the Eastern and Pacific Coast districts, increasing the districts from nine to eleven; the election of three professors to Luther Theological Seminary, St. Paul; and the election of the general offices of the church.

Prior to and during the convention, three auxiliaries of the church will also hold conventions. The Lutheran Brotherhood convention will be held June 5-7 at the Curtis Hotel. STATE LEGION TO CONVENE AUG. 7-11

Minneapolis Will Be Scene of Convention

The Minnesota American Legion convention at Minneapolis has been set for August 7 thru president of the Minneapolis American Legion Convention Corp., announced this week.

Host to the delegates from Minnesota's more than 1,100 Legion posts and auxiliary units will be the 80 Minneapolis posts and units.

A huge 40 and 8 torchlight parade will open the five-day convention on August 7, Fuller explained. On Sunday, August 8 following a memorial parade the members of the Legion and Auxiliary will conduct a mass memorial service in honor of the veterans who died in World wars I and II.

A mammoth Legion parade with many colorful floats is being planned for Tuesday, August 10. Fifty musical units are expected to compete for cash prizes.

Advance registrations indicate that attendance at the 1948 convention will exceed the state Legion meeting held in Minneapolis in 1939, Fuller predicted. He urged Legionnaires to send in their registrations immediately to Minneapolis convention headquarters to insure hotel accomodations.

5,947 Drivers Forfeit Licenses Since Jan. 1

Revocation of 502 driver's licenses and suspension of an additional 1,206 during the month of April brought to 5,947 the number of motorists who have lost their Minnesota driving permits because of law violations during the first four months of 1948. This is nearly a thousand more than during the same period of 1947.

By the end of April driving tests and examinations for new driver's license applicants had been given to 12,770 candidates for driving permits. Of this number, 0,880 were unable to pass the test on their first examination, with a substantially larger percentage failing on the road tests than on the written examinations.

EVIDENCES OF DOG DAZE

Workmen lighted the fuse on 75 pounds of dynamite in a Clarkfield drainage ditch, hustled out of range, watched in dismay as dynamite, dirt, and a stray Shepherd dog soared skyward. They tenderly laid the bleeding unconscious dog on the greensward for burial by his master, but later the master called to assure the workmen the dog had come home as good as new. The barking of their black Laborador probably saved the Leo Walter family from suffocation when fire broke out in the business quarters below their New Ulm apartment.

IN THE MERRY MONTH OF MAY

The first wedding performed in Bear River was on May 8, 1907 uniting Mr. and Mrs. Miles A. Nelson. Birthdays of their oldest son, their first granddaughter, and two nephews are also in May. Delayed by muddy roads the Melvin Kreun auto was overtaken by the stork near Luverne and father, mother, and baby daughter, checked into the hospital together.

SPACE-SAVING MILK BOTTLES

Streamlined milk bottles were introduced to public usage last week by Bridgeman Creameries. Many refrigerators can store twice as much milk, using the new square bottle.

GARDEN VALLEY PHONE CO. MEETS AT ERSKINE JUNE 1

To Elect 3 Directors and Vote on Amendment to Company's Articles

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Garden Valley Telephone Company will be held at the City Hall at Erskine, Minnesota at 2:00 p. m. on Tuesday, June 1st.

The important items of business to come before the meeting will be the election of three directors for a three year term, and the adoption or rejection of the amendment of Article IV in the company's articles of incorporation.

Directors whose term of office expired this year are Melvin Peterson, D. R. Shetterly, and H. P. Larson.

The amendment to be brought up for consideration has been proposed mainly with the idea of classifying the stock of the company as common and preferred with the idea that all stock that has been bought in the past or will be bought in the future with a direct outlay of cash will be classified as preferred stock and stock that is acquired thru patronage dividends or patron's equities will be classified as common stock.

The intent in such classification of the company's stock is to protect the investment of stock holders who have invested or will invest their cash in the company, this coming about thru the fact that preferred stock comes first in the payment of dividends, as well as in liquidation of company assets.

A report of the company's financial standing and the past year's operation will be presented by the General Manager of the company.

IDEAL WEAT[illegible]R FOR MEMOR[illegible] DAY WEEK-[illegible]

Impressive Exerc[illegible] Staged in Local E[illegible] Park Sunday Afternoon

This community, in common with other areas of the Northwest, enjoyed ideal weather conditions thruout the long Memorial Day week-end. With heavy traffic on the highways, traffic accidents were numerous in Minnesota, but the Thief River Falls area was fortunate in escaping without any persons being injured, according to reports reaching the state highway patrol and police department.

The business and residence districts of the city were attractively decked out with flags for the holiday, while wreaths were displayed on the doors of many business places.

Impressive Memorial Day exercises, arranged by officers of the local American Legion post, were conducted in the Elks park Sunday at 12:30, being preceded by a procession to the park from the Auditorium, with numerous units participating, including the Legion municipal band attired in handsome new uniforms of brown and tan.

Following a selection by the band, the program opened with the invocation by Rev. G. S. Thompson, after which an address was given by Professor Vandroeck, head of the history department of the University of North Dakota, who substituted for Rev. W. A. Fleagle of Warren, who was detained at home by illness.

Mr. Vandroeck reviewed the history of past wars, and urged that every effort be made to work thru the United Nations organization to achieve a strong peace. We should strive to attain that end, he said, with the cooperation of Russia if possible, otherwise without it. He also declared that the United States should be made strong, and said it is up to the American people to give all possible aid to the rest of the world in order to preserve peace and democracy.

The program continued with the rendition of "America" by the band, followed by a solo by Mrs. Erma Berg, accompanied by Mrs. H. F. Harrison. Mrs. Earl Long of the VFW auxiliary placed a wreath on the symbolic tomb of the unknown soldier, and Miss Grace Dahlen of the Legion auxiliary deposited another wreath on the water in memory of the sailor dead.

Closing the program was the benediction by Rev. D. T. Beadle firing of a salute by the Marine Corps League firing squad, and taps sounded by Vern Keifenheim with an echo from across the river supplied by Harry Simons Jr.

Units participating in the parade included the American Legion and VFW posts and their auxiliaries, Marine Corps League Company F of the National Guard, Legion municipal band, Elks, Eagles, Boy and Girl Scouts, and a group of Gold Star mothers, all of whom were transported in new automobiles.

PAUL LUNDGREN TAKES OVER AS DISTRICT JUDGE

Local Attorney Sworn in Friday in Office of Secretary of State Holm

Paul A. Lungren, first Thief River Falls attorney ever to be appointed a judge of the 14th judicial district, was sworn in last Friday morning in the office of Secretary of State Mike Holm in the state capitol after receiving the formal appointment from Governor Luther W. Youngdahl.

The new judge who succeeds Oscar R. Knutson of Warren, now a supreme court justice, immediately turned his law practice over to his associate, Stanley Mortenson, and Monday of this week presided over his first term of court at Mahnomen. He is scheduled to preside at Crookston next Monday, when an extended term will open.

Judge Lundgren also has handed in his resignation as Pennington county attorney, which office he has held for 14 years. Paul Roy, chairman of the county board, indicated that a successor would be appointed at the June session of the board opening next Tuesday.

Born in Gibbon, Minnesota, in 1894, the new judge was graduated from Winthrop high school in 1913, from Gustavus Adolphus college in 1917 and from the Minnesota College of Law in 1925.

After graduating from Gustavus, he served as coach at Yankton, S. D., in 1918-19, and as school superintendent at White Lake, S. D. from 1919 to 1922, following which he taught commercial law in Roosevelt high school Minneapolis, from 1922 to 1927.

Judge Lundgren came to Thief River Falls July 1, 1927, and has since taken an active part in community affairs. He served as secretary of the Civic and Commerce association from 1928 to 1938 and for many years he has been one of the leaders in the long campaign to bring the Red Lake-Clearwater river flood control project to a reality. The graduates marched to the stage to the music of "The Honor Legion," played by the high school band under the direction of Orel B. Vangen. Jean Sandberg gave the salutatory, following which the school chorus sang two well-rendered selections.

W. G. Claffy, principal, presented the members of the class to Dr. A. E. Jacobson, who conferred the diplomas, after which Supt. P. L. Fjelsted conferred certificates on fourteen graduates of the teacher training department, as well as scholarships to Paul Sponheim and Jean Sandberg.

He pointed out the necessity of living each day to the fullest extent and of coming to terms with one's sorrows as well as with one's achievements. He counseled his hearers not to be too proud to give in and admit their mistakes.

WARROAD TRIPS LOCAL CLUB 9-6 IN EXHIBITION GAME

Winners Bat out Two Home Runs in First Inning of Game Monday

A base on balls, sandwiched between a pair of homeruns in the first inning, provided the Warriors of Warroad with the margin of runs that gave them a 9 to 6 win over the locals in an exhibition baseball game played on the brand new Warroad diamond Monday afternoon.

The locals opened the game by pushing a pair of runs across the plate in the 1st inning. Swede Lund rapped out a single after Stan Cockrell had flied out to right field. Blackie Stephens drew a walk, moving Lund to second base. Phil LeGault singled to short left, loading the sacks. Palmer Ronholm was out on a foul pop to the catcher; but the two scores registered when second baseman Jim Young muffed Berdeen Nornes' high pop fly.

In the last half of the 1st, and against young Don Perkins who was making his second appearance on the mound in two days, Jim Young poled Perkins' second pitcher over the left field fence for a homerun. Pete Acobee drew a walk. Don "Chick" Dumais, the Warroad smooth-working shortstop, was out on a foul pop to Cockrell. Clean-up man Jim Fish then blasted a long homerun into left-center, and two runs were added to the Warroad total. Wadena rifled a single into left-center, and manager Rasmussen called Harold Stroble to the mound, and the stocky right-hander snuffed out the Warrior rally by striking out Chuck Dumais and Estling.

Don Dumais' double up against the fence in center field, an error, and Wadena's single into right field accounted for two Warroad tallies in the 3rd inning. The locals, on a double by Stroble, a single by Cockrell, and another double by Lund, nicked the plate with two runs in the 4th inning.

In the 6th inning, Phil LeGault assumed the hurling duties for the locals, and the portsider set the side down on strikes. In the 6th, a single, a walk, a fielder's choice and an error, gave Warroad a score; and the Warriors ended their scoring with a pair of scores in the 8th inning.

Results of the week's games:

Eagles, 11; Bridgeman's, 1.

Games this week:
Thursday, Oen's vs. Northern Chev.
Monday, Poppler's Furn. vs. Oen's.
Tuesday, Northern Chev. vs. Middle River.
Wednesday, Hudson Motors vs. Bridgeman's.
Thursday, Eagles vs. Viking.

Thursday night's brief rain storm and the Memorial Day week-end disrupted play in the City softball league, with only two games being played during the week's schedule. On Friday night, the Northern Chevrolet team, held to 5 to 5 score in the 4th inning, broke loose for an avalanche of hits off Parnham to roll up a 22 to 5 win.

On Tuesday night the Eagles tangled with the Bridgeman's nine, and for four innings the game was nip-and-tuck. Bridgeman's picked up a run in the last half of the 3rd inning only to have the Eagles knot the score at 1-all in the top half of the 4th inning. In the 5th inning loose play by the Bridgeman's outfield permitted a pair of Eagles to score, and Helmer Ness' team increased their lead in the 6th and 7th innings.

This week will find a couple of "choice" games on the schedule, and the results of those games will juggle the league leaders. On Thursday night Ardel Robinson will send his Northern Chevrolet team, with Gordy Kaushagen pitching, against Oen's and Milt Relerson. And on Monday night the high-scoring Poppler's Furniture nine will cross bats with the Oen's.

DONKEY SOFTBALL TILT SUNDAY NIGHT AT FAIR GROUNDS

Legion and 40 & 8 Will Sponsor Game Between Farmers, Businessmen

Something out of the ordinary in the way of entertainment for sports fans of the Thief River Falls community will be provided on the softball diamond at the fair grounds next Sunday evening, June 6, at 8:30 when a farmers aggregation meets a businessmen's team in a donkey softball game.

The event is being sponsored by Ecklund-Holmstrom post of the American Legion and the affiliated 40 & 8 voiture, which organizations assure all comers of a barrel of fun. The game will be played under lights.

Those who have never seen a donkey ball game have a real treat in store. The game is played partially on donkeys and partially in the conventional style. Players assume their regular positions but when time comes for them to "go places" they mount their trusty steeds and pursue the ball or, as the case might be, make their way to the base. All in all it adds up to a lot of laughs.

The equipment which includes the donkeys is provided by a traveling concern but from that point on players are on their own.

CITES NATIONAL GUARD STATUS IN EVENT OF DRAFT

Brig. Gen. J. Nelson Says Men Now in Guard Would Get Deferment

"There are vacancies now—there may not be later", said Brig. Gen. J. E. Nelson, assistant adjutant general, to Minnesota men of draft age who inquired about joining the National Guard as a means of fulfilling their military obligations under pending selective service legislation.

Nelson, who was Minnesota's war-time draft chief, said legislation now under consideration in Congress would grant deferment to men between 18 and 26 who are enlisted in the guard before the law is passed, thus permitting them to take their training at home instead of serving on active duty with the armed forces. But, he added, the national guard is limited in the number of men it can accept, and when the ceiling has been reached, no more will be enlisted.

With current draft legislation approved by the house armed services committee last week, and expected to reach the floor of congress within a few days, Minnesota National Guard officials are recovering the first of an expected flood of enlistments in the 115 units in the state.

MANY OFFENDERS APPEAR IN COURT

THESE THINGS JUST HAPPEN!

Aaron Lenmark wondered if he was nutty when he saw four albino squirrels disporting in his Faribault yard. A hog carcass in a small trailer on the way to a cold storage plant, a tossed cigarette, and Tom Tvrdik put roast pork in his Alexandria locker. Sunday will bring the first home game of the baseball season and everything is in readiness for the opening pitch at the fair grounds ball park. A new field is in the making and spectators will be able to enjoy the facilities of the bleachers behind the protection of wire netting. Your presence will be appreciated. The hour will be two-thirty.

A round of cheers to Mrs. E. J. Richards who recently retired from the county welfare board after tewnty years of continuous service. It is the good work of quiet and unassuming citizens like Mrs. Richards that restores a fellow's faith in the human race. Over a period of many years she has given generously of her time in a difficult and sometimes unpleasant field of public service.

Even if the weather had been disagreeably warm we wouldn't complain about the heat this close to the end of a long cold winter. It has been warm though, hasn't it, with more than two weeks of Spring ahead of us before Summer officially arrives. It has been hot and dry and dusty, which is not a pleasant combination. There isn't much that can be done about the heat and scolding won't bring showers. The dust, however, is largely man made. It can be controlled and scolding may get some results. Much of the dust that now bothers us however is caused by new construction, past and present, and it will take time as well as money to bring relief. Streets in town are going to be torn up more this summer than ever before and if it turns out to be a dry summer you can be sure it will continue to be a dusty summer. It will be a cooler summer for those who suffer patiently.

City health officer Doc Mellby got good results quick cleaning up the south approaches to town by hiring a troop of Boy Scouts for special clean-up service. It took three evenings to complete the job but it was well done and the Scouts earned their pay. The worst mess was the old Sanatorium road, Scoutmaster Morris Owen tells us. The ditches of this road were filled with litter and were in a disgraceful condition. Maybe the Boy Scouts should be retained on a year-around basis to police all our approaches to the city, with a special bonus for bringing to light the names of citizens who have such filthy habits.

Congratulations to neighbor Paul Lundgren on his appointment to the distroct bench and best wishes to him for many years of successful and interesting service as a judge. As is the usual procedure when judicial vacancies occur, lawyers of the district are asked to recommend one of their members for the appointment. Governor Youngdahl called for such a poll of the bar and in this poll Lundgren led by a substantial majority. That is the thing that should make him feel good. It is always nice to get an ovation from the crowd but it is the pat on the back from the fellows you work with and who understand what you are trying to do that provides the real thrill. So congratulations to Paul Lundgren, hizzoner the judge.

It didn't rain a great deal in our yard last night but if every yard and every field and pasture received at least that much then it was a good shower for the community. And for a few hours it has settled the dust.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor of the Times:

I feel I must write a few lines in agreement with Mrs. J. E. Finn's letter. Yes, Thief River Falls does need a city rest room where we can take our children when we come to town. I'm sure it would be appreciated by many mothers who have to take children along shopping. At times it certainly is a problem to find a place to take them. What do the rest of you think?

Nearly All Remaining Load Limits Removed from Highways in Area

Virtually all remaining load restrictions on highways in this district were removed last Friday, May 28, Lee R. Boyd, district maintenance engineer at Crookston, announced this week. Load limits still in effect, however, include six ton gross weight per axle on the highway detour from the north junction with No. 32 to Mahnomen; and seven tons per axle on No. 32 from Fertile to Marcoux and on No. 59 from north junction with No. 32 to Karlstad.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Spanking

Whenever a child psychologist talks before a group of parents, some one is always sure to come up with the question "Do you believe in spanking?"

Although this question is often intended to tease the psychologist, it can be answered quite directly and simply.

Spanking can be psychologically dangerous, and is generally unprofitable. The danger in spanking lies in the fact that children very quickly connect the spanking with the person who does the spanking, and not with the misdeed for which they are being spanked.

A child may very often say "Mommy spanks me" but only rarely will he say "Mommy spanks me because I poured ink on the rug." The child puts the blame on his parent rather than on his own misbehavior.

Spanking is unprofitable because it rarely takes effect for any length of time. Experience shows that in most families spankings increase in number and get more severe for the same offense. Where misdeeds do decrease because of spanking, there is always the chance that the child attaches so much meaning to spanking that he becomes afraid and avoids doing anything for fear of being spanked. Here the situation has been made worse, a fearful child has been produced, and this far outweighs the fact that spankings are no longer required.

Discipline techniques such as ignoring the misbehavior, or ignoring the misbehaving child; isolating the child by placing him in a quiet spot removed from the immediate problem; or reasoning with the child are much more effective in the long run than spanking. Such methods do not produce results as immediately as spanking, but will decrease the necessity for continuing punishment.

No psychologist has anything against spanking itself, but most child psychologists do feel strongly that less dangerous, more profitable methods of discipline can be used, and on the basis of psychological economy should be used.

And the Hole Was Born

Capt. Hanson Gregory is said to have had a fondness for cake and liked to eat it while at the wheel of his merchant ship. During a storm, in 1847, he stuck a piece of cake in a spoke of the steering wheel and discovered that it was easier to handle in this way. He had the ship's cook make cakes in this manner. This incident is said to have originated the hole in the doughnut.

Arrests on Highways Mount as Increase in Traffic Ups Hazards

Minnesota's "fine weather" increase in passenger car travel has more than doubled the number of state highway patrol arrests for traffic violations on trunk highways as compared with the wintery months earlier in the year.

Patrol arrests during April totalled 1,974, out of a total of 4,521 arrests for the entire first four months of 1948, according to a report released today by the department of highways. Fines for the month totalled $38,751 as against $79,667 in fines imposed from January 1 to April 30.

At the same time the patrol carried on with the state's campaign to prevent the operators of overweight trucks from breaking up or severely damaging unpaved highway surfaces by transporting loads in excess of the limits posted during the spring break-up period. Arrest of 619 such overweight operators in April brought to a total of 1,033 the number of such offenders apprehended by patrolmen this season.

In addition to April's outright traffic arrests, highway patrolmen issued 938 warning tickets and 2,331 verbal warnings for lesser offenses, and passed out 2,339 "must repair" tags to car and truck dirvers operating with illegal or unsafe equipment. The 2,339 tags covered 3,378 violations noted by patrolmen. Improper light and inadequate brakes were the most common offenses.

LOCAL BALL CLUB WHIPS MC INTOSH 13-0 LAST SUNDAY

Locals Will Pay First Home Contest Against Winger Tigers Sunday

The league officials gave the locals short notice to appear for a league game at McIntosh on Sunday and the result was that manager Rasmussen was forced to put a reshuffled lineup on the field, but the boys played near-errorless ball on defense and combed the assortment of "stuff" tossed by Dan Gabrielson for 14 hits to chalk up a 13 to 0 win over the newly-organized McIntosh nine.

McIntosh has been accepted by the league as a replacement for the Oklee team. On Sunday the locals will make their first bow before the local fans when they open their "home" schedule with a game against the Winger Tigers.

The locals shoved across enough runs in the first inning of Sunday's game to win the encounter. Swede Lund drove a line single into left-center; Blackie Stephens was safe when Harold Nornes muffed a ground ball, Lund sprinting around to third base; Jacobson was a strikeout victim, and Phil LeGault sent a high pop to the pitcher. Berdeen Nornes, playing before his "home" town, singled past third base, scoring Lund, and when the third baseman made a wild throw, Stephens crossed the plate with the second tally. Palmer Ronholm's double into right field scored Nornes with the third run.

Singles by Stroble, Lund, and LeGault, a base on balls and an error gave manager Rasmussen's team another three-run cluster in the 2nd inning. Two errors and Swede Lund's third hit added a pair of scores in the 3rd inning; and after picking up a run in the 4th frame, the locals added three runs in the 5th inning, with Lund and LeGault getting singles and Jacobson poling out a double.

Meanwhile Harold Stroble, who pitched the first four innings and gave up only two hits and struck out seven batters and Don Perkins, who hurled five innings and allowed but two hits and whiffed six batters, were throwing shutout baseball. The two pitchers didn't allow a McIntosh batter to get past second base. In the 9th inning, Ed Neibauer opened with a double into center field, but Perkins retired Widseth on a fly ball to left field, struck out Rue Carlson, and caused Shermann Mandt to ground out, third to first.

Sherman Mandt, the McIntosh left fielder, produced the season's most spectacular defensive play when, in the 4th inning with two men out and men on second and third, he made a running bare-handed catch of Harold Stroble's hard line drive down the left field foul line. The blow appeared tagged for two bases when Mandt made a stab at the ball with his right hand and astounded the crowd by hanging on to the ball for the putout. An inning earlier he had made a one-handed gloved catch of Merle Carlson's bid for a hit, and in the 7th inning he sprinted into short left field to "rob" Berdeen Nornes out of a looping hit.

The box score.

Only one game was played in the Midget baseball league this week, and in that free-scoring tilt the Washington Wildcats moved out of a tie for the cellar by defeating the Washington Senators, 13 to 0. The other game scheduled for Tuesday evening found the St. Bernard's team awarded a forfeit, with the Northrop Lions having only eight players available at game time.

Bob Helgeland, with a homerun and a single, and Ken Zabel, with two singles and a double in four trips to the plate led the Wildcats attack on Ronnie Buen. For the losers, Ted Stokke had "three for three," and Bill Maruska cracked out a single and triple in three tries.

Joey Poole of the St. Bernard's Broncos continues to be the league's high average batter, the red-head having a mark of .687. In the runner-up spot is the Wildcats' left-handed Kent Zabel, with a .611; and Stokke has a .572 average for third place. St. Hilaire, 16; at Winger, 6.

Games on Sunday:
Winger at Thief River Falls.
Red Lake Falls at St. Hilaire.
McIntosh at Plummer.
Crookston at Erskine.

The defending champion Crookston Pirates continue to confound the experts by their erratic play in league games. For the second straight week the Pirates were handed a defeat, losing to Red Lake Falls, 9 to 2, in a game played on the Crookston diamond. Harold "Pinky" Kraft, former University of Minnesota hurler, set down the Pirate batters with five hits, while his team-mates were raking the right-handed offerings of Willis Swanson for twelve hits. Crookston's second defeat makes it certain that the scramble for the league championship will be hectic, and that three or four teams will be making a bid for the title.

Wally DuChamp's second homerun of the year, plus a homerun by manager Ray Ste. Marie, gave the Plummer Red Sox a 9 to 6 win over Erskine. The game played at Plummer, brought the Red Sox' league record to three wins and no losses and the league lead. On Monday afternoon the Eldred team of the Red River Valley league, with Gus Isaacson exhibiting a sharp curve and fine speed, defeated Plummer, 9 to 2, at Plummer.

The locals, behind the four-hit, shut-out pitching of Harold Stroble and Don Perkins, registered a 3 to 0 win over McIntosh, and moved up into a two-way tie for third place in the league standings.

St. Hilaire, piling up a 16 to 1 lead in the first seven innings of play, utilized the last three innings of their game at Winger for the purposes of giving their relief pitcher, Newman, some experience. Newman got by the 7th and 8th innings, but in the 9th the Tigers managed to score five runs.

This week's schedule will find the locals playing their first home game of the year, meeting the Winger Tigers on the Fair Grounds diamond. Red Lake Falls will invade St. Hilaire for an important league game; Crookston will attempt to get back into the winning column by playing Erskine at Erskine; and McIntosh will play Plummer at Plummer.

The Home Opener

It is to be hoped that favorable weather will visit the city on Sunday so that a large crowd can avail themselves of the chance to make the trek out to the Fair Grounds to watch manager Clarence Rasmussen's local baseball team open their "home" season by meeting the Winger Tigers in a Northern Minnesota baseball league game.

A number of new players will be making their first appearances before the local fans as members of the city team. Up from the junior legion ranks will be Palmer Ronholm, Don Perkins, and Swede Lund. Nicky Carlson, Phil LeGault, and Jacobson are other players who have joined the club this year. Blackie Stephens, Merle Carlson, Harold Stroble, Babe Paulsen, Stan Cockrell, Owen Korsmo, Berdeen Nornes, and, of course, Rasmussen, are the holdovers.

In addition to seeing the new faces in the local lineup, the fans will see quite a face-lifting of the Fair Grounds diamond. Much work has been done on the playing field, and there is considerable "polishing" to be done before the field will be A-1, but the results so far are encouraging.

And the fellow who is chiefly responsible for getting the ball team started this year, and the rebuilding of the diamond under way, is Ole Ekeren. It was due to Ole's presence at a Northern Minny league meeting at Red Lake Falls early this spring that the local nine continued in the circuit. And it was Ole's energy and impetus that started the interest in the rebuilding of the diamond, and he's been the fellow that has kept that interest alive.

It's nothing new, though, for Ole to have a hand in baseball, for he was on the committee that built the ball park at Warren a number of years ago.

The makeup of the lineup that will take the field for the locals on Sunday is, according to manager Rasmussen, undecided, and the week's practice sessions will have a bearing on the manager's final selections. Young Don Perkins, who turned in a fine five-inning stint at McIntosh on Sunday, came up with a sore arm on Monday, and it is probable that Ras will give Stroble the nod for Sunday's game.

Nice Going Al

Al Williamson, the Prowlers' high jumping and high hurdle star, leaped into a tie for third place in the high jumping event in the state high school track and field tournament held in the University of Minnesota stadium on Tuesday. It marks, I think, only the second time that a Prowler track man has been able to chalk up points in the state tournament. Don Olson, "Half Mile Ole," had a second or third in his specialty several years ago.

The height that Al reached in the high jump wasn't made known in the information that reached here yesterday, but Al's coach, Quent Jones, believes that he came close to the 5 feet, 10 inch mark.

Due for an Explosion

The baseball situation in Crookston is, according to all reports, getting quite tense. The Pirates had been the odds-on favorites to again win the Northern Minny league championship, but instead of leading the league the Crookston team is in the second division, having one win and two losses.

Many of the Crookston fans are bitter about the treatment given Vern Peltier, last year's manager who was ousted at a reorganization meeting. An indication that things aren't moving too smoothly is shown by the fact that Ken DuPuis, the Pirates stellar left-hander didn't pitch the league game against Red Lake Falls on Sunday, but he did take the mound against Neilsville in an exhibition game on Monday, and was the winner by a 5 to 2 score. It's strange that Ken should avoid the league engagements.

Those two Crookston losses, though, has fired the pennant-winning ambitions of Plummer, St. Hilaire, Red Lake Falls, and Thief River Falls, and it makes for a better balanced league.

LEGION JR. BALL TEAM SCHEDULES HOME TILT TODAY

To Meet Oslo Juniors This Evening; Warren to Play Here Saturday

Babe Paulsen's junior legion baseball team will open their home schedule here this evening when they meet the Oslo juniors. And on Saturday evening they meet the Warren junior nine, and on Monday they travel to Alvarado for a game with the highly-rated Alvarado nine.

Coach Paulsen indicated that he plans on using right-hander Don Stadum against the Warren club on Saturday, being anxious to erase that 2 to 1 setback administered by Dick Palmer and the Ponies on the Warren diamond last week.

Addition to the juniors schedule has been the arranging of a home-and-home series with the Grand Forks juniors. The Nodaks are to play here on June 23rd. And a two-game series with the local Intermediate All-Stars has been slated for June 11th and July 2nd.

TAXPAYERS GROUP WOULD HOLD BACK ON PUBLIC WORKS

Advises Postponement Until Employment Begins to Fall Off

Although economists are quite well agreed that public works have a strong influence on our business cycle, it is equally recognized that only the most essential public works programs should be undertaken in periods of exceptional business prosperity.

Likewise, when employment and business fall off, public works programs can be helpful in influencing the cycle back to normal.

Yet, in the present inflationary period, James P. McDonnell, president of Minnesota Taxpayers Association, points out that "in the nine-month period passed, public construction expenditures have shot up 40 per cent over the same period a year ago."

The United States Department of Commerce reports such construction for the period stated approximated $2,380,000,000.

Although we have practically full employment, new production records, a scarcity of many raw materials, constantly rising prices, and an abnormal demand for goods and services—just the time when all but the most essential public works should be eliminated—we find state and local governments falling over each other trying to build new public structures at greatly inflated costs, McDonnell pointed out.

Such unnecessary public spending, and creating of public debt at this time, tends to build fires under an already inflationary condition, and speeds the day when the business cycle will bend downwards and cause an economic condition that really will call for such public works projects to keep the spark of our economy alive.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

By Arthur Naftalin

Has the rising star of Harold Stassen reached its zenith? National political observers are convinced, following the Oregon primary, that it has. They are now reporting that Stassen doesn't have even an outside chance of getting the Republican Presidential nomination.

Summarizing the situation, Time Magazine: "A lot of observers were willing to bet that Stassen was out for good. It was not so much the Oregon vote which had done it as Stassen's own cocky and imprudent campaign.

"He had irritated Bob Taft by going into Ohio. Long before Oregon, he had antagonized Dewey by loudly announcing that under no circumstances would be he caught running on the same ticket with New York's governor.

"Oregon had deepened the ill will. Taft and Dewey would certainly be allied against him at Philadelphia. Mighty powerful backing would be needed to override their influence, even to get Stassen the nomination for Vice President."

There is ample evidence to indicate that the voters are sensitive to the twists and turns in the candidate's thinking. The ups and downs in President Truman's popularity could be charted on a line parallel to his firmness or looseness in pressing for what he considered right as a matter of principle. In the case of Governor Dewey, he began to recapture lost ground when he began to deal directly with the issues.

Congressman Harold Knutson's ill-tempered outburst against Secretary of State Marshall shocked official Washington last week. In the debate over extending the reciprocal trade agreement program, Knutson assailed Marshall's qualifications as a public official, charging that under Marshall's direction as army chief of staff, "The war cost us three times as much as it should have."

Later in the debate, Knutson lambasted Alf Landon, the 1936 GOP Presidential candidate who supports the trade program. "Oh, they've corrupted him with a lot of luncheons," Knutson said of Landon. "I'll correct that; I won't say corrupted; I'll say leading him astray."

The opposite to Knutson's re-election in the Sixth District think they have some important ammunition in these remarks. The entire GOP delegation from Minnesota, incidentally, joined with Knutson in opposing the program, which has had widespread support among liberal Republicans.

Followers of Henry Wallace's Third Party, routed in their efforts to take over the Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party, are preparing for their own state convention next weekend. They plan to hold it in Minneapolis while the DFL meets in Brainerd.

The Third Party group still claims it is a DFL organization and disputes the right of the regular DFL to proceed with operation of the Party. The Third Party promoters have not yet decided whether they will run candidates in the DFL primary against the regulars or whether they will file independent candidates for the general election.

In any case, the Wallace followers, admitting there is no hope for any kind of victory in '48, are determined to contribute as much as possible to the defeat of Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis and the other regular DFL candidates.

With the Third Party group holding its own convention, the regular DFL convention in Brainerd next week is not likely to provide the loud fireworks that has been anticipated. The fight against the left-wing served to unify all the right-wing forces, and it now appears that a spirit of harmony will prevail at the convention.

Some possible skirmishes over top Party offices may develop, but these are unlikely to involve any deep antagonisms. Hopeful of victory in the Senatorial and one or more of the Congressional races, the Party leaders are eager to present a united front. The same spirit is almost certain to lead to the sending of an uninstructed delegation to the national Democratic convention in Philadelphia.

SMILEY

4-H Meeting

A nice meeting was thoroughly enjoyed a week ago Friday evening when the Smiley 4-H gang had their regular monthly meeting. The parents entertained that evening. Community singing started the program. The young 4-H members had their business session after answering roll call by telling what they liked best about 4-H clubs. The Norman Johnson family sang a vocal selection. Mrs. Rudolph Hanson gave a demonstration in making a delicious "Rhubarb Crisp". Mrs. Norton Nelson and daughter Nelda Lee sang a song; county agent Frank Hobbs gave a short talk on the forthcoming 4-H week at the Crookston A. C. starting June 15. A poultry and dairy quiz was conducted by the committee, Mrs. Rudolph Hanson and Mrs. Adam Lendobeja. The quiz was given to five women and five men. The men won. The good grooming entries from the Smiley club to the 4-H week in Crookston are Alan Cabot and Shirley Malzke for over fifteen years of age. For below that age entries are Dianne Lendobeja and Jerold Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Roese and daughter Kathleen of Minot are expected to arrive for a vacation at the Willis Roese and S. Swanson homes June 10.

Luther League

League in the church parlors Sunday afternoon was very good. Miss Martha Hammer, president, presided at the program which was led by a scripture reading by Mrs. Robert Peterson; Bernice Knutson gave a reading; an organ solo was played by Dianne Lendobeja; Rev. O. O. Bjorgan gave an address and the Sunday school children sang a song. The hostesses, Mesdames Joseph Johnson and S. S. Nelson served a lovely lunch.

Congratulations are extended from the good folks of Smiley to four of our young people who have reached a milestone in education. They are Wallace Torkelson, Deloris Beiswenger, Daniel Helle and Alan Cabot. They were graduated from the senior class in Lincoln high school Friday evening. Smiley is so proud.

Memorial Day supper guests at the O. N. Olson home with Mrs. Mark Olson and Clara Olson as hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Markus of Bemidji, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCrum and youngsters, Mrs. O. N. Olson, Wayne, Judy, and Phyllis. The occasion also marked the birthday of Mrs. Mark Olson.

Sunday school at the Bethany church is going good now every Sunday morning. The superintendent is Mrs. Adam Lendobeja. She has a fine group of teachers. They are Mrs. Wallace Tieman and Mrs. Rudolph Hanson who teach the kindergarten class. Mrs. Joe Johnson teaches the second grade. Mrs. Gust Homme has the third and fourth grades. Mrs. Norman Johnson has the fifth grade. Mrs. Art Knutson teaches the confirmation class. A new class has been organized this year and that is a Bible class conducted by Mrs. Pete Nelson and B. B. Hammer. There were 24 perfect attendance pupils the first month and three perfect attendance of all pupils Sundays.

Drop in Oleo Use

Despite increased production of oleo, a continuing slump during recent months in the number of families using the product is reported by Northwestern university. The college's recent "pantry poll" in the Chicago area shows oleo in only 22 per cent of the homes. This compares with 31 per cent of the homes in April and 43 per cent of the homes in December, 1946. Butter, which was not in abundant supply, was stocked in 82 per cent of the pantries. Vegetable shortening was found in 63 per cent of the homes and lard in 21 per cent.

Three Mighty Important Ideas

Maybe you read, where a great encyclopedia has sorted all basic ideas into a few select groups. Under the letter "T" they have:

Temperance - Truth - Tyranny.

Sounds like a funny combination. And to philosophize a little, notice that Truth is in the center—between Tyranny and Temperance.

Now and then you hear folks criticise temperate people who enjoy a moderate glass of beer... who talk about "two beers" getting some one into trouble, and claim: "There ought to be a law!"

Then Truth steps in between, and points out that two beers never got anybody into trouble—and that somebody's trying to distort the facts. No, there shouldn't be a law—there should be Truth.

From where I sit, those ideas are arranged just right. Temperance on one side, Tyranny on the other—and Truth in the middle—seeing that Tyranny never encroaches upon Temperance.

NORTHERN WOODWORK CO.
They are made for Round Roofed Barns, Machine Sheds and other buildings, any size, and run from foundation to peak in one solid piece. Laminated Rafters are strong because the grain of the wood runs parallel to the face at all points. They are made with moisture-proof glue and sufficient pressure to absolutely weld the pieces in one solid unit. This gives strength without great weight. Thus, they are very easily put up and save you much costly labor. A special connector and bolt is used which gives the strength of six ordinary half-inch bolts! These and other features which we will be glad to explain to you make these the newest thing in rafters. See us for an estimate on the building you need.

Brazilian Oil Source

The oiticica nut or seed is the fruit of a large symmetrical evergreen tree believed to be native to the state of Ceara in northeastern Brazil. In the 19th century a German monk, on a scientific expedition to the country, first saw industrial possibilities in the oil of the nut. In recent years chemical research has proved oiticica oil to be a practical substitute for Chinese tung oil, and investigations indicate that a good supply is usually obtainable. At present the trees are most abundant in Ceara and Rio Grande de Norte, although appreciable numbers also occur in Piaui, Paraiba, Pernambuco and Bahia.

HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCK

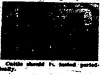
NEW 'HOT SPOTS' FOR BOVINE T.B.

Too many people think that tuberculosis of cattle is a thing of the past in this country.

True, this disease has been pretty well beaten—thanks to an intensive 30-year fight by veterinarians, the Bureau of Animal Industry and livestock owners. No county in the nation reports a ratio of more than one case in every 200 cattle.



Cattle should be tested periodically.

But the menace is not dead. New centers of infection have been reported recently and veterinary authorities are afraid we may slacken up too quickly in our efforts to control the disease.

As long as a single infected animal remains, there will always be danger of spreading tuberculosis to a disastrous number of cattle. The last source of infection must be eliminated before we can let up in this fight.

Periodic testing of herds, on a herd or area basis, is the only way to be sure that new and serious flare-ups of bovine T.B. will not occur. In areas where tuberculosis has appeared in recent years, veterinarians are advising yearly tests. In areas long free of the disease, it may not be necessary to make tests oftener than every two or three years.

Following the tests, reactors should be slaughtered. Government funds are available to compensate the owners of the cattle thus destroyed.

Livestock health authorities throughout the country are active in efforts to finish off the fight against tuberculosis. With co-operation from stock owners, they believe the job can be done. In the meantime, every cattle owner should make sure that his own animals are tuberculosis-free. By doing so, he not only protects his livestock but the health of his own family.

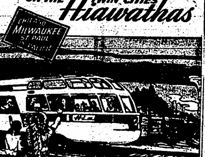
ON THE TWIN CITIES Hiawathas



Midwestern favorites for 15 years the Twin Cities HIAWATHAS are now all dressed up in new equipment.

The parlor cars have drawing rooms of a new type, and one car on each train has a glass-enclosed Skytop Lounge for thrilling views of the Mississippi Valley. There are new 48-seat dining cars and finer coaches with individual "Sleepy Hollow" chairs and spacious lounging rooms. The PM HIAWATHA carries a smart new Tip Top Tap car with snack section and cocktail lounge. The AM carries the attractive Tap and snack car formerly on the PM.

All Hiawatha cars are air conditioned and have loud speakers for station announcements and radio programs. They all embody the latest Milwaukee Road engineering innovations for the smoothest, quietest ride on rails.

We'll be looking for you on the Twin Cities HIAWATHAS — 2 a day each way between Minneapolis, St. Paul, La Crosse, Milwaukee and Chicago.

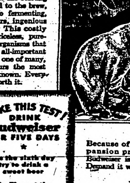
They have that Certain Air

The polar bear and Budweiser have one thing in common . . . each grows up in the cleanest of air. Beginning in the starting cellars, where yeast is added to the brew, and on down through the fermenting, ageing and finishing cellars, ingenious filters keep the air pure. This costly precaution protects our priceless, pure-cultured yeast from micro-organisms that could mar and even ruin its all-important work. This safeguard is only one of many, many steps that makes ours the most expensive brewing process known. Every sip of Budweiser says it's worth it.



MAKE THIS TEST!
DRINK Budweiser FOR FIVE DAYS
On the sixth day try to drink a sweet beer
You'll want the distinctive taste of Budweiser thereafter

Because of our great expansion program, more Budweiser is available now. Demand it wherever you go.

Threats of revolution have followed attempts to put in wagon sprinklers because of the great number of water carriers whose jobs would be destroyed by such equipment.

Senator Thye Cites Results of Recent Survey in 8 Cities

Declaring the public is being exposed to a fraud that is widely becoming an every-day practice in the substitution of colored oleomargarine in place of butter, Senator Edward J. Thye of Minnesota advocated today the continuance and strengthening of existing federal regulations as a means of "curbing a national hoodwink on the American people."

Senator Thye quoted a May spot-check of 159 restaurants chosen at random in 8 cities in which 53 of the establishments served oleo or a butter substitute when butter specifically was ordered. The investigation was conducted by Fact Finders Associates Inc., New York, in Atlanta, Indianapolis, Los Angeles, Louisville, Memphis, St. Louis, San Antonio, and Washington, D. C.

"The palming off of oleo for butter in restaurants is not in itself a violation of federal oleo statutes, although it may run counter to state and local laws," Senator Thye explained. "This widespread substitution, however, is proof that in localities where colored oleo is freely available it is easily and frequently served as butter. The existing tax of 10 cents a pound on yellow oleo is deterrent to its fraudulent use, but an outright prohibition against its manufacture and sale would be most effective".

Of the eight cities for which current survey figures are available, Los Angeles showed a perfect record with butter served in each of the 20 restaurants visited. In Washington, D. C. oleo or a butter substitute was served in 1 out of 20; Atlanta 7 out of 20; Indianapolis 6 out of 20; Louisville 13 out of 19; Memphis 1 out of 20; St. Louis 5 out of 20; and San Antonio 18 out of 20.

FEMALE OF THE SPECIES AND ALL THAT... There is no doubt about it. When a woman takes it into her head to fight for her home and front sidewalk, her opponent is going to have a rough grind. Here, in Altadena, Calif., in a hole excavated by a telephone company, stands Mrs. Rose Greck, stern and unyielding. She didn't want anybody planting telephone poles in front of her house. Other Altadena housewives joined the protest and claimed that the poles would depreciate property values by at least $1,000 a home.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Joseph H. Ball

The terrific power of advertising and propaganda, whether true or false, is perfectly illustrated in the current fight in Congress over repeal of the 10 cents per pound tax on yellow-colored oleomargarine. Whether the repealer will pass the Senate or not at this session is still in doubt because of the jam of legislation in the closing weeks, but the test votes already taken in the House and Senate indicate, that sooner or later the bill will pass.

Nine out of ten people not directly involved in the scrap when asked what it is all about, will pay less for oleo.

That is what I mean by the power of propaganda. The facts are that less than 8 per cent of oleo sold is colored yellow and pays the 10 cents a pound tax. The other 92 per cent sold is the white form, which housewives color themselves, and on which there is only a purely nominal tax of ¼ cent a pound for regulatory purposes.

The customer is a convenient and popular front behind which the oleo lobby, composed of some 26 manufacturers of oleo, have waged their campaign for repeal of the tax on colored oleo. What is really at stake is the use by oleo manufacturers of the yellow color which for centuries has been the trademark of butter as a table spread. Unfortunately, there is no way for the 10,000,000 dairy farmers involved to copyright the yellow color of butter, but its value in merchandising is unquestioned.

For the past 30 years, the price of oleo has been almost constant at around 45 to 50 per cent of the price of butter. And despite the inconvenience of home coloring, oleo sales have increased from 250 to 300 million pounds annually during the 1920's and 1930's to nearly 750 million pounds in 1947. In the same period, butter sales dropped from 2.2 billion pounds annually to a little more than 1.5 billion pounds in 1947.

Given the merchandising advantage of yellow color, oleo sales undoubtedly will double again, at the expense of butter. The effect on the dairy industry, already slowing down because of high feed and labor costs, will be terrific. The biggest dairy outlet, of course, is fluid milk. But in order to meet the steady demand for milk, dairy production hits a high peak in the spring and summer and traditionally, the excess production at that time is marketed as butter.

As that butter market for their excess production shrinks, dairy farmers will cut their overall production and inevitably prices of fluid milk, already 20 to 25 cents a quart in large cities, will go still higher. In the meantime, oleo producers, having driven butter competition out of the low-price stores and increased tremendously the demand for their product, will be in a beautiful position to increase their prices, regardless of costs. Far from helping the consumer, giving oleo the merchandising advantage of the yellow color is far more likely to increase costs to the consumer, both of oleo and milk.

Added to this is the fact that our dairy industry, which is the foundation of good soil conservation, will decline and our soil resources will be mined at an even faster rate than at present. It isn't just accident that France, which as always kept a large dairy industry, can still feed herself, while China, which has relied on vegetable oils as cheaper in the beginning, has mined her soil past the danger point and suffers periodic famines.

These facts are my reasons for opposing repeal of the tax on colored oleo. But facts stand little chance against the $6,000,000 popaganda campaign of the oleo lobby.

Skating Revue in Grand Forks Set for June 14-16

Hollywood On Ice, a skating revue, will be presented at the University Winter Sports building in Grand Forks, June 14, 15 and 16.

It is the first time a complete production of this type has ever been brought to North Dakota and it is expected to have special appeal, inasmuch as the spectators will be privileged to watch an ice spectacle in the comfort of June temperature.

With its own manufacturing plant, Hollywood On Ice makes its own big skating surface, while improved seating facilities in the Winter Sports Building, made for the next University hockey season, make an ideal arrangement for the revue.

Cost of Transportation

Traffic consultants estimate that in a city of 1,500,000 persons, the citizens pay 120 million dollars each year for private car travel, but only 18 million dollars for motor bus, trackless trolley and street car riding.

Small Ones Ahead

Short persons have larger heads and brains than their taller brothers, relative to their respective heights, so anthropologists have found out.

STATE UNIT URGES FLY KILLING DRIVE

Public Health Group Advises Use of DDT

"Kill flies! Flies are flying filth," Dr. E. A. Meyerding, executive secretary of the Minnesota Public Health association, warned this week. The Christmas Seal organization annually provides posters and latest information to aid in local fly-control campaigns.

"A single fly may carry more than 6,500,000 disease germs, and he leaves some of them wherever he lands," Dr. Meyerding stated. "Killing flies helps reduce the summer disease rate."

Householders, business firms, even whole communities today can rid themselves of flies by using new sprays described by Dr. Laurence K. Cutkomp, Univeristy of Minnesota entomoligist, in the current issue of "Everybody's Health," published by the Christmas Seal association.

A person can spray a room with an insecticide containing DDT or any pyrethrum and watch the flies drop dead in mid-air, according to Dr. Cutkomp.

Traffic on Minnesota Rural Trunk Routes Is Now Highest in History

Motor vehicle traffic on Minnesota's main rural state trunk highways so far in 1948 has been heavier than ever before in the history of the state, according to the traffic recorders of the statewide highway planning survey.

These recorders, stationed at representative points in various sections of the state, show a motor vehicle count for the first four months of 1948 which is consistently higher than 1947, and last year's traffic exceeded any pre-war year by about 7 per cent.

January motor vehicle traffic on main highways was 3.2 per cent higher than that of January, 1947; February showed a 10 per cent increase, March a 3.9 per cent increase, and April a 12 per cent jump over last year. In several parts of the state the April traffic increase ran more than 22 per cent above April, 1947 and the largest increase was shown on U. S. 65 northwest of Lakefield where a 46.6 per cent jump in travel volume was indicated.

Since motor vehicle registrations in Minnesota have, by now, only just about caught up with the number of motor vehicles registered in 1941, and rural travel has increased nearly 15 per cent as compared with the record pre-war year, the four months report of the Planning Survey points to the one conclusion that the average individual car and truck is just being driven more miles than ever before.

The St. Paul Choral Club and Marimba Ensemble
WILL APPEAR IN LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM
Monday, June 7 -- 8 P.M.

The St. Paul Choral Club, under the direction of Professor J. Merrill Tannehill, has been acclaimed one of the Nation's outstanding vocal and instrumental ensembles. The colorful Marimba Ensemble is an added feature in this year's appearance.

The Club devotes itself exclusively to the presentation of sacred music. Their variety of musical expression in simple gospel hymns, the majestic choral, and the emotional negro spiritual is profoundly inspiring to choirs and audiences everywhere.

Mr. Tannehill, the conductor, is a graduate of the MacPhail College of Music, and has studied under Eugene Ormandy, Conductor of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, and others.

There will be no admission charge. The Choral Club operates on appreciation offerings to carry on its work.

Hurricanes Affect Life

Hurricanes raise havoc with the lives of wild creatures the same as humans, Wildlife Management institute reports. The October hurricane which cut a swath across south central Florida and then struck the Mississippi delta area seriously reduced the mature quail population. On the Charlotte county, Florida, quail investigation area of 61,760 acres at least two thirds of the quail were destroyed by the hurricane and the accompanying high water.

The GRAHAM-HOEME PLOW

The Revolutionary Plow

Self Sharpening Points • No Side Draft
Extra Light Draft • Nothing to Grease
Plows All Types of Land Without Adjustments
Prevents Erosion by Wind and Water
Cuts Plowing Cost in Half Doubles Sub-Soil Moisture
BUILT TO LAST A LIFETIME
KEEP VEGETATION ON TOP

Nature's own method is to keep vegetation on top. That cuts down evaporation, keeps the soil in place in spite of heavy winds. The Graham-Hoeme Plowing Method with the two-inch chisel, as shown in illustration, permits water to by-pass the top soil into the sub-soil. It's a moisture storage center.

WE HAVE 'EM ON HAND

Manufactured by GRAHAM-HOEME PLOW CO. Inc. AMARILLO, TEXAS

PROVEN FACTS

On the average, enough rain falls on your farm every year to make fine crops. But, after the first few minutes of rain a smooth surface seals itself, causing run-off. It has been scientifically proven that the same field will NOT seal itself when plowed with the Graham-Hoeme All Purpose Plow with a 2-inch chisel furrow every 12 inches. This method by-passes the rainfall through the top soil and keeps a straw mulch on TOP. Upwards of three times the moisture enters the ground.

If the next day is fair and hot, the bare soil would soon be steaming and losing its moisture rapidly. BUT NOT IF THAT GROUND IS COVERED. The Graham-Hoeme Plow leaves vegetation on top to shade and protect, and moisture stays in the soil longer to bridge between rains.

These are not just opinions, but proven facts. A covered corrugated field in a good, brisk rain, will absorb 200 per cent more moisture than a bare field and 60 per cent more than a field with vegetable matter plowed into the surface. To supply this covering for the soil without the expense of artificial cover, and to place the soil in a condition to by-pass the moisture through the top soil is the purpose and achievement of the Graham-Hoeme Plow.

PENNINGTON CO. PAYS SHARE OF RIVER PROJECT

Board Names Rulien as Pennington Co. Attorney at Session Held Tuesday

The Pennington county board at its June session Tuesday voted an appropriation of $16,920 to pay this county's portion of the sponsor's share in connection with the Red Lake—Clearwater river flood control project.

The payment represented about half of the total sponsor's share of $33,220, the remainder being divided among Red Lake, Clearwater and Polk counties. The appropriation exempts Pennington county from any expense incurred by the army engineers in the relocation of bridges made necessary by the river project.

The board accepted the resignation of Paul A. Lundgren as county attorney following his recent elevation to a district judgeship, and appointed L. W. Rulien to serve out the remainder of his term, expiring in January 1951. Mr. Rulien has practiced law in Thief River Falls since 1930.

No bids having been received on the razing of the old foundry building on State av. at West Second st., nor for the purchase of the lots, the board voted to readvertise for bids to be opened Tuesday, July 13.

The board voted an appropriation of $100 to the local post of Veterans of Foreign Wars to cover expenses incurred with the Memorial Day observance.

Action also was taken to enter into a contract with the state highway department under the terms of which the county will maintain State Aid Road 2 as a Highway 32 detour between this city and St. Hilaire while paving work is in progress, and will also maintain County Aid Road 28 as a detour for Highway 59 at the southeast edge of this city.

COUNCIL ASKS BIDS TO REPAIR PAVING IN CITY

Approves Permits for in Excess of $35,000 in New Construction

The request was granted with the understanding that he would make the extension at his own expense, and pay a sewer rental tentatively set at approximately $15 a year.

COUNCIL ARRANGES TO INVITE BIDS ON PAVING REPAIR JOB

W. Mabey and Mrs. L. B. Hartz, and the appointment of C. W. Pope to succeed Otis L. Wold, resigned.

Appearing in behalf of the Pennington county fair board, A. F. Berge, secretary, asked the usual city appropriation of $500 to aid in financing the fair this year, and also requested that one of the city's fire trucks be stationed on the fair grounds while the event is in progress. Both requests were granted.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce asked the cooperation of the council in various ways in connection with the 1948 Jaycee Sports Carnival July 3, 4 and 5. Approval was given the requests, the chief ones being for the use of the Auditorium without charge the three nights of the event, and for permission for a street carnival to operate.

Kern Olson also requested council cooperation in connection with the annual convention of the Minnesota Game Protective league to be held in Thief River Falls July 16 to 18.

Building permits calling for an estimated expenditure of more than $35,000 were approved, including new residences to be built by G. L. Biddick, R. G. Berger, Melvin Rude and Prichard Bros. company (two). Authorized to construct warehouses were the Lampert Lumber company and Leonard J. Goulet.

Following a suggestion by Mayor Simons that a small committee be set up to make a study of possible sites for the armory structure which the state proposes to erect in Thief River Falls, Alfred Bredeson, council president, agreed to serve with the mayor and a third member to be named from the city planning board.

A request for installation of curb and gutter on Eighth st. E. was referred to the city engineer for study. A hearing was set for July 13th on the petition of St. Bernards church for vacating the alley in the block consisting of church property.

Editorials....

Crop acreage in this area has hit a new high this year and the crop is off to a good start, which is encouraging. In a couple of months we should have a pretty fair idea of what the season's results will be. Between now and then there are a lot of uncertainties. But admitting a big element of chance, it can be said that this community's crop prospect is far better today than it would have been under the same general conditions a dozen years ago. A dozen years ago we could expect weeds to cut deeply into our production and now we are well on the way to weed control. Our per acre crop yields can be expected to be substantially higher than they were because there will be less weeds. And our per acre crop yields will be substantially higher than they would have been a dozen years ago because of the more general use of fertilizer. Farming is still a gamble but the use of chemicals for soil improvement and weed control are materially improving the average chances for good crops.

Along with a lot of other facilities that must be expanded to meet the needs of a growing community is our school system. Community growth and an increasing birthrate are combining to make our present facilities inadequate. The need for a program of expansion is near enough to justify planning. It is another community problem we have got to start thinking seriously about. The bumper wartime crop of babies that is now causing an enrollment bulge in the lower grades will spread gradually thru the system. National figures indicate no letdown as yet in the birthrate figures so we may expect a steadily increasing enrollment over a period of years. Fortunately our school district is in excellent financial condition and a start has already been made in establishing a fund to meet future construction costs. We have already started to pay the bill.

Wet and decidedly muddy grounds caused a postponement of the baseball "opener" here Sunday. Best bet now for an early visit to the Fair Grounds ball park is tonight when the local Legion Juniors meet a Stephen nine.

Some of our city streets are built and maintained by the state because they happen to be a part of the trunk highway system. On some the city and state share the costs. And of course most of our streets are a local responsibility entirely. Some improvements are assessed against property. Some improvements the city absorbs as a part of the general expense. Probably the fairest way to handle street costs would be to charge all improvements and maintenance to the city as a whole. The only thing unfair about adopting such a plan at this time is that many expensive street improvements in the past have been paid by adjoining property owners. If however we must be unfair either to the past or to the future let's ignore the past. Storm sewers, too, should be a charge against all of the city.

PLUMMER STILL LEADS NORTHERN MINNESOTA LOOP

Whips McIntosh 11-1; Red Lake Falls Defeats St. Hilaire in Upset

Crookston, 29, at Erskine, 6.

Games on Sunday:
Thief River Falls at Crookston.
Plummer at St. Hilaire.
McIntosh at Red Lake Falls.
Winger at Erskine.

The Red Lake Falls Lakers continue to be the "Cinderella" team of the Northern Minnesota baseball league. Following the Lakers surprising 9 to 2 win over the Crookston Pirates on May 30th, Red Lake Falls, behind the steady pitching of veteran Bill Hallamack and with first baseman Bob Poirier contributing a triple and a double, upset manager Myles Jackson's St. Hilaire team, 6 to 5, in a hotly-contested game at St. Hilaire last Sunday. The win boosted the Lakers into second place in the team standings.

The Plummer Red Sox, with Ray Ste. Marie clouting a pair of homeruns over the left field fence, and with "old timer" Jim Gilbertson baffling the McIntosh batters with his underhand delivery, scored an easy 11 to 1 triumph over McIntosh in a game played at Plummer. The Red Sox victory, coupled with St. Hilaire's loss, gave Plummer the top rung in the league ratings; but the Red Sox will be extended to hold their league lead on Sunday when they journey to St. Hilaire for an important game.

The Crookston Pirates, smarting from a pair of upset losses, hammered out a 29 to 6 win over Erskine in a game played at Erskine.

Rain and wet grounds forced the postponement of the Winger vs. Thief River Falls game scheduled to have been played at Thief River Falls. This evening the locals will meet the Warren nine on the Warren diamond; and on Sunday manager Rasmussen will take his team to Crookston for a game against the league champion Pirates.

SHORTSTOP GOLF TOURNEY SUNDAY

Jimmy Nordine, Ernotte Hiller Seen as Entries

Jimmy Nordine and Ernotte Hiller, the winner and runner-up of the early-season shortstop golf tournament held here last year, are expected to be on hand for the shortstop golf tourney that will be played over the local course on Sunday, June 13th.

Tournament chairman Russ Embury stated that all entries must be registered by 6:00 P. M. Saturday night, June 12th, so that the flight pairings can be drawn and arrangements completed so that the championship flight can move off the first tee by 8:30 A. M. Sunday.

Entry fee for the tournament will be $2.00, and merchandise prizes will be awarded to the flight champions, runners-up, and consolation winners.

"Albuquerque" Is to Be Falls Offering Sunday

"Albuquerque", a Cinecolor film, which arrives next Sunday at the Falls theatre, with Randolph Scott, Barbara Britton, George "Gabby" Hayes and Lon Chaney topping a cast replete with Western favorites, has been widely acclaimed as an adventure-packed spectacle of the old lawless Southwest frontier. "Albuquerque" is a graphic and gripping story of taht city's turbulent infancy.

Games this week:
Thursday, Eagles vs. Viking.
Friday, Oen's vs. Northern Chevrolet.
Monday, Middle River vs. Eagles.
Tuesday, Northern Chevrolet vs. Poppler's.
Wednesday, Oen's vs. Hudson Motors.

The undisputed possession of the top rung in the city softball league will be determined Friday night when the Oen's and the Northern Chevrolet, the circuit's two unbeaten teams, meet in the playoff of a postponed game. Oen's, in a rapid-fire game, snapped the Poppler's three-game winning streak on Monday night by scoring a 4 to 2 win over manager Glenn Carlson's nine.

Last Friday night the Poppler's recorded their 3rd straight twenty-run game, trouncing the Hudson Motors, 22 to 8. The Viking team, with Johnny Peters exhibiting fine control, surprised Joe Kiel's Middle River club to register a 6 to 3 win in one of the best-played games of the year.

Before a large crowd on Monday night the Oen's, with Milt Reierson tossing no-hit and no-run ball until the 7th inning, defeated the Poppler's Furniture team, 4 to 2. With one out in the 7th inning, Reierson walked Blackie Stephens, and then Bob Carlson larruped a triple into deep right field to score Stephens, and Carlson added the second run when he scored following a play at third base.

Oen's gained a run in the 1st inning when Heinie Waag singled past shortstop, moved to second on a wild pitch, and scored on an outfield error. Jimmy Olson added an Oen's run in the 2nd inning when he tripled into left field and tallied on Milt Reierson's slice hit into left field. In the 6th inning, Babe Paulsen lofted a long homerun over the fence into left field; Elton Oberg was safe on an infield error, and then scored on Lenny Hellquist's double into left infield, giving the defending champions a 4 to 0 lead.

LEGION JUNIORS TO MEET STEPHEN IN GAME TONIGHT

Coach Paulson's Boys Even Series with Warren, Winning Saturday 8-5

Coach Babe Paulsen's junior baseball nine evened their series with the Warren juniors by defeating the Ponies in a well-played game on the fair grounds diamond Saturday evening, winning by an 8 to 5 margin. The locals will meet the Stephen juniors in an important district game here this evening, and tomorrow evening the juniors will tangle with the Intermediate All-Stars.

Don Stadum, on the mound for the locals, had a no-hit game until the 4th inning when Bill Peterson beat out a bunt down the first base line; and the young right-hander had a shutout going into the 5th inning when the Ponies, on a hit batsman, an error, a base on balls, and an infield out, accounted for the first Warren run.

Pinky Adolphson opened the scoring for the locals in the 1st inning when, after drawing a walk, he scored on Harley Wagner's long triple into right field. Cal Bradley scored Wagner with a sharp single into left field. The locals added a pair of runs in the 2nd inning on a walk, a hit batsman, and a pair of errors. And in the 3rd frame, an infield hit by Al Williamson a double by Wes Olson, and an error by the Warren second baseman, gave the locals their fifth and sixth runs. Single runs in the 5th and 6th innings boosted the locals' total to eight runs.

A single by Pietch, a triple by Loeslie, and a single by Strandberg, scored two Warren runs in the 6th inning; and an error, a triple by Peterson, and a single by Pietch added another pair of Warren scores in the 7th inning, before a fast double play, Spray to Olson to Wagner, ended the game.

Playing at Alvarado on Monday night, the locals dropped a 11 to 4 decision to a well-rated Alvarado junior nine. Shorty Perkins and Pinky Adolphson shared the hurling duties for the locals.

The week's highlight in the Midget baseball league, and which found five of the seven games played decided by the margin of one run, was the 13 to 12 loss administered to the league-leading St. Bernard Broncos by the Washington Wildcats. Trailing by a 12 to 7 score going into the last half of the 7th inning, Jim Parkins drove out a homerun with two on base, Bob Helgeland poled out a triple with a runner on base and then scored the tying run on an error. Wayne Rafteseth was given a base on balls, and then he stole second, third, and home to counter the winning run.

Don Johnson of the Northrop Lions, who has moved into a three-way tie, with Joe Poole and Stan Rosengren, for the league batting championship, also had a steal of home scoring the game-winning run against the Knox Tigers to give the Lions a 9 to 8 decision on Friday evening.

And the Knox Tigers came up with a successful "squeeze" play in the final inning of their game with the Knox Bears to record an 8 to 7 win. Jim Jacobson dropped a bunt that enabled Bert Greenside to sprint across the plate with the winning tally.

Ronie Buen, although giving up ten bases on balls, hurled a no-hit game on Monday afternoon as the Washington Senators, scoring their first win of the year, defeated the Northrop Indians, 9 to 6.

The Midgets All-Star team will play the Warren Midgets at Warren on Saturday afternoon; and on June 19th, the Warren team will play a return game here.

Four out of Five.

The North Valley Conference concluded its season of athletic competition on Friday afternoon by holding a golf and tennis tournament at Grand Forks. And the Prowlers made a "clean sweep," winning the tennis singles and doubles championships, and the golf singles and team championships. Those victories put a fitting "cap" on the Prowlers record in conference competition this year, giving the local athletes four out of the five titles awarded by the North Valley.

The Prowlers opened their conference title-winning "parade" winning the football championship. East Grand Forks won the basketball crown, but the Prowlers came back to take the track championship, and on Friday they added the tennis and golf championships. That's quite a record, and it's a compliment to the well-rounded program that it being conducted by the local school. Incidentally, you notice that Grand Forks, the conference's "big" school, was shut out.

The Fish Pond

The Ole Ness-John Anderson Home for Expectant Bass, in other words, the Sportsmen's Club fish-rearing pond at the golf course, was completed on Saturday and on Sunday Kern Olson supervised the maneuvers that found ten adult spawn-bearing bass being introduced into the pond. Given favorable conditions and a "break" those bass should prosper and in a couple or three years it is possible that anglers will be able to enjoy bass fishing.

On Tuesday, June 15th, the northern pike season will open, and that means that the road to Waskish will be jammed by fishermen headed toward the outlet of the Tamarack river with the hopes that they will hook a big pike. The late opening of the northern pike season has caused considerable controversy, and it is the consensus of fisherman that the law should be changed before another angling year comes around.

It was Fun

A crowd estimated at more than 1500 persons, witnessed the donkey softball game between the Farmers and the Business men at the Fair Grounds Tuesday night, and they saw the Business men score an upset 3 to 2 win. About the only thing that the game proved though, was the fact that Bob Carlson, the "hero" of the Business men's victory, finally has "found" his game, donkey softball.

Our "Farm" Team

With Owen Koramo, Bud Brossoit, Al Thompson, and Chuck Barr playing baseball with the Viking team, as they did last Sunday when Viking lost a 9 to 6 decision to Newfolden, it won't be long before Viking will be labeled a "farm" team for the local nine. Koramo, Brossoit, Thompson, and Barr are all living and working here in town, and Koramo and Thompson have played several games with the locals. Brossoit and Barr are "rookies" and they need the "seasoning" they will get by playing outside ball.

Girls Softball League Schedule Is Announced

The week's schedule in the girl's softball league will find the Oen's playing the Sophomores this evening; on Monday evening the Sophomores will cross bats with the Freshman; on Tuesday evening the Seniors will play the Carlsons; and on Thursday evening, June 17th, the Gamble-Robinson nine will play the Oen's team.

Team captains are requested to notify their respective team members in case of postponements, and the captains are asked to make arrangements for playing the make-up games caused by the postponements. The various teams should arrange for umpires to officiate at the games.

Games this week:
Saturday, Northrop vs. Knox.
Wednesday, Washington vs. Northrop.

Only one game was played in the boy's Intermediate baseball league and that contest found the Washington nine, with Jack Erickson pitching, defeating the Knox Orioles, 13 to 2. The Northrop team, with Don Stadum on the mound, is rated as the league favorite, and this week the Northrop team will play a pair of games, meeting Knox on Saturday afternoon and Washington next Wednesday. It's possible, though, that the Northrop team will be without the services of Stadum on Saturday as the Legion's junior team is scheduled to play the Grand Forks juniors at Grand Forks on that date and Stadum may hurl that game for the locals.

ROAD COLLISIONS KILL 21 OF MAY'S 44 TRAFFIC DEAD

Highway Department Analyzes Some of 2,600 Accidents During Month

Motor vehicle collisions proved the No. 1 killer on Minnesota streets and highways last month as May traffic fatalities recorded a grim total of 44 dead.

The heavy toll of collision-type accidents (including head-ons, intersection crashes, and side-swipes where one or both drivers lacked just that little centerline margin of safety) was revealed today in a preliminary analysis prepared by the state highway department from newspaper accounts of some 2,600 traffic accidents in May's 31 days.

Twenty-one of the 44 fatalities were the result of collisions between moving vehicles. Eleven car-car collisions claimed 16 lives; one died in a truck-train crossing collision near Barnum; three motorcyclists were killed when they crashed into motor vehicles, and one bicyclists was killed when he turned left off the shoulder in front of a truck.

Second largest number among the May fatalities were pedestrians with 11 killed, four on city streets and seven on the highways, and next were fatalities from running off the road.

Nine motorists were killed in cars which ran off the road and another was killed near Ash Lake on Highway 53 when a blowout overturned his car on the highway. Of the nine ran-off-road fatalities, at least six were primarily due to excessive speed. Another failed to make a curve because of fog and hence visibility.

Modern Metal Alloys

The wonders of modern metal alloys are well known. But alloys are not new. Men began using mixtures of two or more metals in prehistoric times. The earliest alloy was bronze, probably discovered when copper and tin were accidentally melted together and allowed to harden.

Motorists Are Urged to Beware of Hitting Deer

With the migration of deer into the more populated sections of the state, automobile drivers are cautioned by State Game officials to be constantly on the alert to avoid a collision with one of them crossing a public highway.

Deer are present in every county in the state and even close to the Twin Cities. They are usually wary of people and vehicles, but frequently and suddenly appear on a highway.

During the past week a yearling doe was struck and killed near Rice street and highway 96 just six miles north of the St. Paul city limits, by George Manser, St. Louis Park. The doe was carrying a fawn which would have been born within a short time.

Game officials point out that a considerable amount of wildlife is killed by motor traffic each year. The toll of birds and small animals is very large and much game loss could be avoided by care on the driver's part. Collision with a larger animal, such as a deer or bear, not only injures or kills the animal but could result in considerable damage to the car and possible human accident.

Every motorist should be aware of the danger and drive with care.

PARKING PROBLEM SOLVED... 'This is one of them mirages,' said the cop on the beat as he rounded the corner of East 32nd street from Third avenue in New York. And he walked slowly and majestically toward it. But it didn't fade. It stayed there—a bantam-sized car parked cozily on the sidewalk, snuggled up next to a building. The cop closed his eyes, counted to 10, and when the car was still there he pasted a ticket on it.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

By Arthur Naftalin

The state convention this weekend of the Minnesota Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party will launch a new period in the history of the much embattled DFL. It is expected that the final blow will be struck to liberate the Party from the dominance and influence of the left-wing element.

Four years ago, in the flush of enthusiasm for the reelection of President Roosevelt, the Democratic and Farmer-Labor Parties were merged. It was, from the start, a somewhat shaky coalition because it was recognized that the left-wing elements would remain loyal to the Democratic Party only so long as the coalition served to advance the interests of the left-wing program.

Now, with the emergence of Henry Wallace's Third Party, the differences over American foreign policy have so highlighted the basic internal conflict that there is no longer even an outside possibility that "unity" can be achieved.

There will probably be considerable excitement in Brainerd when the DFL convention assembles. On Friday the credentials committee will consider the various challenges, but it is generally assumed that the Third Party delegations will be denied participation.

The Third Party group is prepared to retire immediately to Minneapolis where it will hold its own convention and launch its own ticket for state and congressional offices. Such a move will, of course, be cause for jubilation in Republican circles because it will be regarded as certain to mean a splitting of the non-Republican and independent vote.

Former Governor Elmer Benson is under pressure to enter the Senatorial contest as a Third Party candidate. He would be expected, while having no chance of victory, to attract sufficient votes from Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey, as the DFL candidate, to ensure the reelection of Senator Joseph H. Ball.

It is difficult for the average voter to comprehend the strategy of the left-wing. The average citizen can understand how the left-wing might hold views at variance with those of the regular DFL'ers, but that the left-wing leadership would take steps to ensure defeat of the RFL is, on the surface, incomprehensible.

It appears now that the DFL convention in Brainerd will see a keen struggle over whether the delegation to the national convention in Philadelphia should be instructed to vote for President Truman's nomination.

Many countries and most districts have gone on record in favor of an uninstructed delegation. But the Democratic national committee has been at work urging an instructed Truman degeation. The odds favor an uninstructed course, but convention oratory could change the situation, resulting in an instructed delegation.

It is unlikely that Truman will not be nominated at Philadelphia, but most states have decided in favor of an uninstructed course, and, as it stands now, Truman does not have enough pledged votes to ensure his nomination on the first ballot.

If Truman should fail to get the nomination on the first ballot, it is conceivable that the Democratic convention could make history by selecting another nominee. The names of William O. Douglas and General Eisenhower continue to be prominently discussed as alternative possibilities.

There will be much interest in the new officers for the DFL. The inside talk about top officials has it that Byron G. Allen of Detroit Lakes, the DFL nominee for Governor in 1944, is slated for the national committeeman post, and Orville F. Freeman of Minneapolis, now state DFL secretary, for state chairman. Mrs. Eugenie Anderson of Red Wing is favored as the national committeewoman spot and Curtiss Olson of Roseau for the state secretary's post.

Who is this Man?

Now and then, in the pages of the Clarion, I run a biographical quiz, under the heading of "Who Is This Man?" For instance...

"He was one of the earliest lovers in American history...

"And yet he was too shy to court a woman outright...

"He came to the New World on the Mayflower...

"A cooper to repair the beer barrels accompanying the Pilgrims...

"Who is this man?"

I thought that everybody was stumped. But not Ma Hoskins, who returned the clipping to me with "John Alden" on it. She recognized all the clues—including that reference to "beer" and "cooper."

For Ma—who's read her history, knows that beer as the beverage of moderation, is as old in this land of ours as the never-ending American search for tolerance which brought the Pilgrims over to this country in the first place.

Petures were taken of the women and their headgear. A bubble gum contest was another feature which was won by Evelyn Cuta. She blew some big ones as also did Betta Hedlund, who placed second. "Our Farmers Net More"

"Year after year, our farmers who sell through Land O' Lakes get highest average returns." That's the conviction of Charles G. Summers, operator of the Lily Creamery Co., Lake Crystal, Minn.

Shown making a butterfat test, Summers adds that "farmers feel sure of fair treatment when they deal through their own Land O' Lakes cooperatives."

"For myself, as an operator," he says, "I like the way Land O' Lakes sells my butter to best advantage and collects for me. Without this service, I'd have to hire a credit manager. With it, I save worry and time so I can serve our members better."

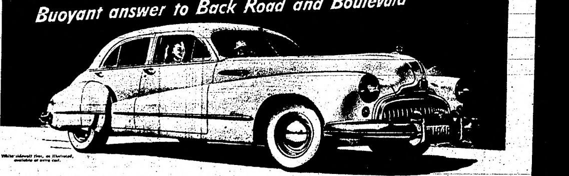
Buoyant answer to Back Road and Boulevard



White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

Remember that rough patch of road up yonder where the ruts and ridges make a washboard seem smooth?

Recall the tiring tenseness brought on by the drum and hum of road noise and tremor even over smooth concrete highways?

Well, clock away the miles in this stunningly styled Buick — and meet up with the sweetest answer to such matters this side of cloud cruising.

"It's a ride that's soft and smooth as velvet," folks tell us. And we tell them it comes from a host of things.

It comes from the ample road-weight of a two-ton car built low and wide — and so beautifully balanced it handles light as a baton.

It comes from the leveling buoyancy of Buick's all-coil springing which puts a pillow of deeply coiled steel at each wheel to soak up the bumps and ripples.

It comes from the softness of bigger, lower-pressure tires that cushion away road tremors and roughness — from the sure-footed, swerve-free steadiness of Buick's extra wide Safety-Ride rims, widest in the industry.

And it comes in special measure from a brand-new engineering gem we call Vibra-Shielding which banishes vibration build-up.

Here for the first time you're freed from the motoring fatigue brought on by tiny tremors piling up into bigger ones. Here your miles are made more smooth and quiet — long journeys become mere jaunts.

So why delay knowing the most buoyant answer to any road you ever traveled?

Come visit us now. Know at first hand the distinctive styling, the flashing action, the velvety ride over highway and byway that are Buick's and Buick's alone.

Then follow your heart's desire and get your order in promptly. We'll take it in proper sequence whether or not you have a car to trade.

WARNING AGAINST ANTHRAX 'SCARES'

Of all the diseases affecting livestock and human beings, one of the oldest and most deadly is anthrax. It spreads fast, and sometimes causes disastrous losses. The spores of anthrax live in the soil, surviving for years, under the worst of weather conditions.

A cow killed by anthrax.

Nevertheless, anthrax "scares" and indiscriminate vaccination should be avoided. Outbreaks have been reported in almost every state at various times, but the disease is a constant hazard in only a few well-defined regions.

If an anthrax outbreak occurs in a new area, livestock owners should co-operate fully and promptly with local veterinarians and livestock sanitary officials. Except in established anthrax areas, an outbreak usually can be controlled by vaccinating stock on the infected premises and adjacent farms.

One of the common and serious mistakes, in handling new outbreaks, is the indiscriminate vaccination of cattle, horses and mules outside the actual danger zone. This practice may serve to start fresh outbreaks.

In all cases, one precaution is vital. Carcasses of anthrax victims must be disposed of, quickly and thoroughly, by complete burning. And the persons doing the job should use every precaution to avoid exposure. Human beings can readily contract anthrax by careless handling of sick or dead animals.

When a suspected or known case of anthrax appears, the first thing to do is to call the veterinarian. He can examine the ailing or dead animal, determine whether anthrax was the cause of the trouble, and prescribe measures to check the outbreak before it causes widespread losses.

Poultry Water Space

There should be at least five feet of drinking space for each hundred birds in a poultry flock. Nothing will cause a slump in production or a molt quicker than letting the birds go without water. Keep the water from freezing.
